ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE.

RICHMOND, January 1, 1862.

I. The following act of Congress, with regulations of the Secretary of War thereupon, is published for the information of the army:

No. 306—An ACT providing for the granting of Bounty and Furloughs to Privates and Non-commissioned Officers in the Provisional army.

SECTION 1. The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That a bounty of fifty dollars be and the same is hereby granted to all privates, musicians, and non-commissioned officers in the Provisional army who shall serve continuously for three years, or for the war—to be paid at the following times, to wit: to all now in the service for twelve months, to be paid at the time of volunteering or enlisting for the next two ensuing years subsequent to the expiration of their present term of service. To all now in the service for three years, or for the war, to be paid at the expiration of their first year's service. To all who may hereafter volunteer or enlist for three years, or for the war, to be paid at the time of entry into service.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That furloughs, not exceeding sixty days, with transportation home and back, shall be granted to all twelve months men now in service, who shall, prior to the expiration of their present term of service, volunteer or enlist for the next two ensuing years, subsequent to the expiration of their present term of service, or for three years, or the war. Said furloughs to be issued at such times and in such numbers as the Secretary of War may deem most compatible with the public interest—the length of each furlough being regulated with reference to the distance of each volunteer from his home: Provided, That, in lieu of a furlough, the commutation value, in money, of the transportation herein above granted, shall be paid to each private, musician, or non-commissioned officer who may elect to receive it, at such time as the furlough itself would otherwise be granted.

SEC. 3. This act shall apply to all troops who have volunteered or enlisted, for a term of twelve months or more, in the service of any state who are now in the service of the said state, and who may hereafter volunteer or enlist in the service of the Confederate States, under the provisions of the present act.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That all troops revolunteering or re-enlisting shall, at the expiration of their present term of service, have the power to reorganize themselves into companies, and elect their company officers; and said companies shall have the power to organize themselves into battalions or regiments, and elect their field officers; and, after the first election, all vacancies shall be filled by promotion from the company, battalion, or regiment in which such vacancies may occur: Provided, That whenever a vacancy shall occur, whether by promotion or otherwise, in the lowest grade of commissioned officers of a company, said vacancy shall always be filled by election: And provided, further, That in the case of troops which have been regularly enlisted into the service of any particular state prior to the formation of the Confederacy, and which have by such state been turned over to the Confederate government, the officers shall not be elected, but appointed and promoted in the same manner and by the same authority as they have heretofore been appointed and promoted. [Approved December 11, 1861.]

II. Captains or commanding officers of twelve months men will, under direction of regimental and battalion commanders, make out duplicate muster rolls of their companies, noting opposite the name of each man desiring to renew his enlistment for two years from the expiration of his present term of service the following remark—"Enlistment extended for two years—bounty due, $50"—inserting the date of the remark.

As soon as the intention of each man is thus ascertained, report will be made to the commanding officer of the army in which the troops are serving. The commanding officer will thereupon cause his Inspector-Generals, or other officers assigned for that purpose, to verify the rolls, and muster into service, for said additional term, all that are fitted for service. One of the rolls, thus verified, and certified by the inspecting officers, will be sent to the Adjutant and Inspector-General. The other will be given to the company commander, from which to make out further muster rolls.

III. Whenever the number of men in a company who re-enlist shall suffice to form a new company, according to the number required by law, the men thus re-enlisted shall have the right immediately to reorganize themselves into a company, and elect their company officers—remaining attached to the regiment or battalion to which they belong until the expiration of the twelve months of the original enlistment.

IV. If the number of men re-enlisted in any company be insufficient to form a new company, their original organization will be preserved until within twenty days of the expiration of their term: at which date all the twelve months men who have re-enlisted will proceed to organize themselves afresh into new companies, and elect their company officers.

V..Whenever all the companies now forming a battalion or regiment shall have reorganized themselves into new companies, they shall have the right of reorganizing themselves at once into a new battalion or regiment, as the case may be, electing their field officers, as allowed by law. But if any one company of any battalion or regiment declines to reorganize itself, the present organization will remain until within twenty days of the expiration of the present term; at which time all re-enlisted companies will proceed immediately to organize themselves into new regiments, and elect their field officers, as provided by law.

VI..All re-enlisted companies which may fail, within the last twenty days of their present terms, to reorganize themselves into regiments or battalions, will be considered as independent companies re-enlisted for the war, and will be organized into battalions or regiments by the President, and their field officers appointed by him in the same manner as is provided by law for all other independent companies.

VII..The furlough allowed by law, and directed to be regulated according to the distance of each volunteer from his home, is established as follows, viz: to each volunteer there will be allowed a furlough of full thirty days at home, to which will be added by the commanding officer of the army a number of days estimated to be sufficient to allow the volunteer to travel home and back. But in no case will the furlough exceed sixty days, even for those most distant from their homes.

VIII..Commanding officers are directed to commence as soon as possible granting the furloughs allowed as above, in such numbers as may be deemed compatible with the safety of their commands, giving preference, as far as practicable, to the men in the order of their re-enlistment.

IX..The bounty of fifty dollars will be paid to each man when he receives his furlough, at which time his transportation will also be furnished.

X..Each man entitled to furlough may receive instead thereof the commutation value of his transportation, in addition to the bounty of fifty dollars provided by law.

By order of the Secretary of War.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector-General.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, January 9, 1862.

I..The following order of Major-General BRAGG is adopted by the War department, and is republished for the information and government of the army:

1. To insure proper economy in the administration of our military affairs is as necessary to the success of our cause as the defeat of our enemy. All commanders and disbursing officers in this department will be required to give their closest attention to expenditures, seeing they are necessary, and in conformity to law. A rigid scrutiny will be made by the Commanding General and the chiefs of his staff, and abuses will be promptly exposed and checked.

In location of troops, commanders and quartermasters will consult economy and efficiency. The vicinity of cities and towns will be avoided as far as possible, in order to secure health, and escape the demoralizing effects of dissipation. Rents will not be paid unless absolutely necessary. Fuel will be supplied as far as practicable by the labor of the troops, encampments being selected with this view. And works of defence, and huts for the winter, will be built by the labor of soldiers—officers being required, in all instances, to remain with and share the duties of their men.

2. Commanders of all grades are earnestly called upon to suppress drunkenness by every means in their power. It is the cause of nearly every evil from which we suffer; the largest portion of our sickness and mortality results from it; our guard-houses are filled by it; officers are constantly called from their duties to form courts martial in consequence of it; inefficiency in our troops, and consequent danger to our cause, is the inevitable result. No one is benefited but the miserable wretch who is too cowardly to defend a country he is willing to sell by destroying those noble faculties he has never possessed. Gallant soldiers should scorn to yield to such temptations—and intelligent and honorable officers should set them an example. They should be encouraged to send to their families and friends the pay they receive for their services, instead of wasting it in their own destruction, and at the risk of the holy cause in which they are engaged. Small as the amount is, it will cause many a dear one to rise up and call them blessed.

“Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine to those that be of heavy heart”—but for us, the glorious cause in which we are engaged should furnish all the excitement and enthusiasm necessary for our success.

The enemy, in large and increasing numbers, is upon our coasts. Let us cease all amusements and frivolities, and prepare diligently to meet him in defence of our homes, our firesides, and our altars.

II. The introduction of spirituous liquors into any camp, barrack, or station of the army, except for medicinal purposes, duly recommended by the senior medical officer and approved by the General or other officer in command, is hereby expressly prohibited; and all spirituous liquors found in any of said camps, barracks, or stations, not authorized as above, will be confiscated or destroyed, under direction of the General or other officer in command.

WAR DEPARTMENT,

RICHMOND, February 18, 1862.

I. At a General Court Martial, convened at Staunton, Va., by virtue of General Orders, No. 24, of January 24, 1862, from the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, whereof Lieutenant-Colonel G. W. CARR, 57th Regiment Virginia Volunteers, was President, was arraigned and tried Captain W. B. Bruce, of Company K, 20th Regiment Virginia Volunteers, on the following charge and specification :

CHARGE.

Disobedience of orders.

Specification....."That he, Captain W. B. Bruce, of Company K, 20th Regiment Virginia Volunteers, did fail to have a guard placed at the government stables, after having been twice ordered by Lieutenant-Colonel M. G. Harman, the commanding officer of the post, to do so." This at or near Staunton, Va., on or about the 17th of December, 1861.

FINDINGS AND SENTENCE OF THE COURT.

The court finds the accused, Captain Wm. B. Bruce, Company K, 20th Regiment Virginia Volunteers, guilty of the specification and guilty of the charge, and does, therefore, sentence him, the said Captain Wm. B. Bruce, "to be reprimanded in orders by the Secretary of War."

II. The proceedings in the foregoing case having been submitted to the Secretary of War, and by him laid before the President, are by him approved.

The court have accompanied their sentence with the remark that they are "thus lenient" because it appears from the evidence that Captain Bruce had not for duty men sufficient in number to furnish the sentinels required with the usual tours, in addition to those already on guard. That he stated this fact, and asked and was expecting further information. The court thus appears to have availed themselves of the only excuse that can be found for the serious and reprehensible neglect of Captain Bruce, resulting as it has, not only in great loss of public property, but in the open exhibition of carelessness and inattention to duty which deserves and receives as its lightest punishment the emphatic rebuke of the department.

III. The General Court Martial of which Lieutenant-Colonel G. W. GARR, 57th Regiment Virginia Volunteers, is President is dissolved.

 No. 1. }

HEAD-QUARTERS,
 RICHMOND, VA., March 20, 1862.

To avoid the danger, if not the certainty of frequent collisions, and the consequent destruction of life and property, as well as obstruction to all transportation, it is absolutely necessary that the movements of railroad trains should be under one undivided control. These considerations make it imperative that all trains should be regulated in their movements and speed only by their conductors and engineers, in accordance with the regulations and time tables of the company. All the operations of a road should be controlled by its superintendent, or other authorized officer; and all orders for transportation of every kind, and the movement of every train, will be directed through him, when the exigencies of the service demand a variation from the regular schedule. Disregard of this rule will inevitably be attended with disastrous consequences.

By order of General R. E. LEE.

W. H. TAYLOR,
Assistant Adjutant-General.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
 ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

All leaves of absence and furloughs, from whatever source obtained, are revoked; and officers and men absent from duty, except on surgeon's certificate of disability, will return at once to their respective commands. It is with extreme reluctance that the department adopts a measure which deprives our patriotic soldiers of the relaxation they have so well earned; but the enemy presses on every side, and the necessities of the service demand new illustrations of that noble self-denial which has been so many times evinced since the commencement of our struggle for independence. The furloughs of all who have engaged for the war which are thus curtailed will be extended hereafter, when circumstances permit. But, judging from the past, no fears are entertained of an unwilling response to this call. Those who have so many times proved their devotion to their country, can not be indifferent or backward in this hour of her greatest need!

By order of the President.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector-General.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
RICHMOND, VA., March 26, 1862.

I. The following regulations are adopted in place of medical regulations, paragraphs 2 to 6, inclusive, and general regulations, paragraphs 1151 to 1155, inclusive, and will be obeyed accordingly :

1. An army corps or military department will have a medical officer assigned as medical director, who will have the general control of the medical officers and hospital.

2. A division will have a medical officer assigned, on the recommendation of the medical director, as chief surgeon; or the senior medical officer of the division, on the same recommendation, will be relieved from regimental duty, and placed in general charge as chief surgeon of division.

3. A brigade will be under the general medical charge of the senior surgeon of brigade, who will not be relieved from regimental duty.

4. Medical directors, chief surgeons of divisions, and senior surgeons of brigades will inspect the hospitals of their commands, and see that the rules and regulations are enforced, and the duties of the surgeons and assistant surgeons are properly performed.

5. They will examine the case books, prescription, and diet books, and ascertain the nature of diseases which may have prevailed, and their probable causes; recommend the best method of prevention, and also make such suggestions relative to the situation, construction, and economy of the hospitals, and to the police of the camps, as may appear necessary for the benefit and comfort of the sick, and the good of the service.

6. Senior surgeons of brigades will receive the monthly reports of sick and wounded (Form 1) required from the medical officers, and transmit them through the chief surgeon of division to the medical director.

7. The medical director will make to the surgeon-general a consolidated monthly report of the sick and wounded from the monthly reports of the medical officers of the command.

8. Chief surgeons of divisions and senior surgeons of brigades will see that the quarterly reports of sick and wounded, and monthly statements of hospital fund required from the medical officers are transmitted to the surgeon-general.

9. Senior surgeons of brigades will make to the chief surgeons of divisions, and chief surgeons of divisions will make to the medical director, monthly returns of the medical officers of their commands. (Form 2.)

10. The medical director will make to the surgeon-general a monthly return of the medical officers of the command.

II..Medical officers heretofore styled medical directors who do not come within the meaning of the first of the above regulations will be designated, as the case may be, in accordance with the second or third regulation; and medical officers heretofore called brigade surgeons, if not attached to regiments, will be assigned to regiments not provided with surgeons.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND. April 16, 1862.

I..All officers assigned to ordnance duty with troops in the field will be reported to the Adjutant and Inspector-General of the army, and will report by letter to the Chief of the Ordnance bureau in Richmond.

II..Every General in command of an army corps will, if no officer is assigned to his army for the purpose, designate an officer for ordnance duty as "Chief of Ordnance" of that army, who shall, while on such duty, if of inferior grade in the Confederate army, be entitled to the rank and pay of major of artillery.

III..Every Major-General in command of a division, or Brigadier-General whose brigade constitutes a separate command, will, under like circumstances, designate an officer for ordnance duty as "division ordnance officer" (or "brigade ordnance officer," if the brigade constitutes a separate command), who shall, if a subaltern in the Confederate army, have the rank and pay of a captain of artillery.

IV..Officers so appointed shall be selected on account of fitness for ordnance duties, and shall be considered as attached to the Ordnance bureau, and will not be changed except by authority obtained from the head-quarters of the army, through the Chief of the Bureau of ordnance.

V..Every commanding officer of a regiment will select from the non-commissioned officers of the regiment the one best qualified for the duty of ordnance sergeant, and will appoint him acting ordnance sergeant. Such non-commissioned officer will have charge of all the surplus ordnance stores of the regiment, and will make returns of the same to the Ordnance bureau. The arms and accoutrements of the sick and disabled of the regiment will be turned over to and be accounted for by him. He will exercise supervision over the arms and ammunition in the hands of the men, and report any waste or damage to the division ordnance officer through the colonel of the regiment. All such appointments will be reported through the general headquarters to the Chief of the Ordnance bureau.

VI..The "Chief of Ordnance" of an army will require reports monthly, or oftener, from "division ordnance officers," and will be responsible for the supply of ordnance and ordnance stores with the army to which it is attached.

VII..The division ordnance officers will make reports monthly, or oftener, if required, to the "Chief of Ordnance" of the army to which the division belongs. They will be responsible for all ordnance stores with the division not in the hands of the troops, and make returns thereof to the Bureau of ordnance.

VIII..Chiefs of ordnance of armies and all ordnance officers in the field are attached to the staffs of their respective commands, but will nevertheless conform to such orders and instructions received from the Chief of the Bureau of ordnance in relation to the execution of their appropriate duties as do not interfere with the orders of the commanding officers in the field.

IX..It is especially enjoined on all officers of ordnance to prevent waste of small arms and field ammunition in the hands of troops, and to cause unserviceable ammunition to be sent off to the nearest ordnance depot. Arms, accoutrements, and equipments which can not be repaired in the field will in like manner be forwarded for immediate repairs.

X..Ordnance officers serving on the staffs of Generals commanding will not enter into contracts for or purchase ordnance supplies, except in case of necessity, on the authority of the General, which must be attached to the contract or account for such purchase. The exigency requiring the contract or purchase will also be stated therein.

I..At a General Court Martial, convened at Galveston, Texas, by General Orders, No. 17, of November 14, 1861, from the Headquarters, Department of Texas, whereof Major FREDERICK TATE, Nichols' regiment, was President, was arraigned and tried Captain Wm. T. Mechling, P. A. C. S., on the following charge and specification :

CHARGE.

Breach of Arrest.

Specification...In this; "That Captain Wm. T. Mechling, P. A. C. S., while under arrest, by confinement to the limits of his camp, viz: Camp Edward Clark, did break his arrest by drilling the company under his command." All this at Camp Edward Clark, near San Antonio, Texas, on or about the 30th day of October, A. D. 1861.

FINDINGS AND SENTENCE OF THE COURT.

The court finds the accused, Captain Wm. T. Mechling, P. A. C. S., as follows: Of the Specification, guilty; of the Charge, guilty; and sentences him "to be cashiered."

II..The proceedings in the foregoing case having been submitted to the Secretary of War, were by him laid before the President, by whom they are approved. Captain Wm. T. Mechling, P. A. C. S., accordingly ceases to be an officer of the C. S. army from this date.

I..It is made the duty of commanding officers of companies to sign with their own proper signatures all muster rolls of their companies, all final statements, certificates of disability, and descriptive lists. That power is not to be delegated to nor exercised by any other person. Soldiers' discharges will be signed by commanding officers of regiments or commands to which their companies belong. Great confusion daily arises from the constant pursual of a different course. Sick, disabled, and discharged soldiers are very often unable to obtain their pay, the discrepancy of signatures rendering it impossible for this department to verify the same.

II..Attention is called to paragraph 1066, Army Regulations, which provides that "as far as practicable, officers are to draw their pay from the quartermaster of the district where they may be on duty." Hereafter, no payment will be made to an officer on separate pay account by any other than the quartermaster of the post or regiment to which the officer may belong, except he be absent from his station under orders, on leave, or on account of sickness, and then only from the first of the month during which such absence occurs to its termination, and for such subsequent full month, or months, as he may continue to be detached from his regular station, unless he furnish satisfactory evidence that payment could not be made before leaving.

WAR DEPARTMENT,

I. At a General Court Martial, convened at Norfolk, Virginia, by Special Orders, No. 15, 1862, from the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, Richmond, whereof Col. D. A. WEISIGER, 12th Virginia volunteers, is President, was arraigned and tried Lieutenant-Colonel C. M. Bradford, 3d battalion Louisiana volunteers, on the following charges: [The Specifications being lengthy and minute are omitted in this order.]

CHARGE I.

Conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline.

CHARGE II.

Contemptuous and disrespectful behavior toward his commanding officer, in violation of the 6th Article of War.

CHARGE III.

Drunkenness on duty, in violation of the 45th Article of War.

CHARGE IV.

Disobedience of orders, in violation of the 9th Article of War.

FINDINGS AND SENTENCE OF THE COURT.

The court finds the accused, Lieutenant-Colonel C. M. Bradford, 3d battalion Louisiana volunteers, as follows:

Of the 1st Specification, 1st Charge, guilty. Of the 2d Specification, 1st Charge, guilty, with the exception of the words "was drunk and." Of the 3d Specification, 1st Charge, guilty. Of the 1st Charge, guilty. Of the Specification of the 2d Charge, guilty, with the exception of the words "contemptuous. insulting. and insubordinate." Of the 2d Charge, guilty, with the exception of the words "contemptuous and." [Here there is probably an omission in the record.] Of the Specification of the 3d Charge, not guilty. Of the 3d Charge, not guilty. Of the Specification of the 4th Charge, not guilty. Of the 4th Charge, not guilty.

And the court does, therefore, sentence the said Lieutenant-Colonel C. M. Bradford, 3d battalion Louisiana volunteers, to be suspended from his rank and command, and forfeit his pay for six months, and to be reprimanded in General Orders by the Secretary of War.

II. The proceedings of the General Court Martial in the foregoing case have been submitted to the Secretary of War, and by him laid before the President, by whom they are approved. Lieutenant-Colonel C. M. Bradford, 3d Louisiana volunteers, is therefore suspended from rank and command, and from all pay, for six months from this date. The offence of which Lieutenant-Colonel Bradford has been found guilty could at no time be considered trivial; but it especially merits rebuke in an officer of any army called into active service under circumstances and at a period when both the spirit and example of obedience in all who compose it are of the highest importance. An army can not exist even in peace without a proper observance of military decorum and discipline; and if in the day of strife and battle officers, in whom "especial trust and confidence" are reposed, forget their obligations, and become obnoxious to charges "prejudicial to good order," the men of their command will hardly profit by the example, or be disposed to a better course of conduct. In releasing Lieutenant-Colonel Bradford from his arrest, the department indulges the hope that when he shall again return to duty he will be prepared to sustain by his future course the good reputation and discipline of the service.

5. Substitution shall not exceed one per month in each company, and shall be noted in the next morning report, muster roll, and monthly return.

II.. When any person liable to military duty under the act of Congress, but not mustered into service in any company, desires to furnish a substitute, he shall report himself with the substitute to the commandant of a camp of instruction for recruits raised under the said act; and, if the substitute be lawfully exempt from military duty, and on examination by a surgeon or assistant surgeon be pronounced sound and in all respects fit for military service, he may be accepted and enrolled, and the person furnishing such substitute may be discharged by the commandant of the camp. SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That for any arms and munitions of war captured from the enemy by any body of partisan rangers, and delivered to any quartermaster at such place or places as may be designated by a Commanding General, the rangers shall be paid their full value, in such manner as the Secretary of War may prescribe. [Approved April 21, 1862.]

An act to further provide for the public defence.

In view of the exigencies of the country, and the absolute necessity of keeping in the service our gallant army, and of placing in the field a large additional force to meet the advancing columns of the enemy now invading our soil: Therefore,

SEC. 1. The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President be and he is hereby authorized to call out and place in the military service of the Confederate States, for three years, unless the war shall have been sooner ended, all white men who are residents of the Confederate States, between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five years at the time the call or calls may be made, who are not legally exempted from military service. All of the persons aforesaid who are now in the armies of the Confederacy, and whose terms of service will expire before the end of the war, shall be continued in the service for three years from the date of their original enlistment, unless the war shall have been sooner ended; provided, however, that all such companies, squadrons, battalions, and regiments whose term of original enlistment was for twelve months, shall have the right, within forty days, on a day to be fixed by the commander of the brigade, to reorganize said companies, battalions, and regiments, by electing all their officers which they had a right heretofore to elect, who shall be commissioned by the President: provided, further, that furloughs not exceeding sixty days, with transportation home and back, shall be granted to all those retained in the service by the provisions of this act beyond the period of their original enlistment, and who have not heretofore received furloughs under the provisions of an act entitled "an act providing for the granting of bounty and furloughs to privates and non-commissioned officers in the provisional army," approved 11th December, eighteen hundred and sixty-one; said furloughs to be granted at such times and in such numbers as the Secretary of War may deem most compatible with the public interest: and provided, further, that, in lieu of a furlough, the commutation value in money of the transportation herein above granted shall be paid to each private, musician, or non-commissioned officer who may elect to receive it, at such time as the furlough would otherwise be granted: provided, further, that all persons under the age of eighteen years or over the age of thirty-five years, who are now enrolled in the military service of the Confederate States, in the regiments, squadrons, battalions, and companies hereafter to be reorganized, shall be required to remain in their respective companies, squadrons, battalions, and regiments for ninety days, unless their places can be sooner supplied by other recruits not now in the service, who are between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five years. And all laws and parts of laws providing for the re-enlistment of volunteers and the organization thereof into companies, squadrons, battalions, or regiments, shall be and the same are hereby repealed.

SEC. 2 Be it further enacted. That such companies, squadrons, battalions, or regiments organized or in process of organization by authority from the Secretary of War, as may be within thirty days from the passage of this act so far completed as to have the whole number of men requisite for organization actually enrolled, not embracing in said organizations any persons now in service, shall be mustered into the service of the Confederate States as part of the land forces of the same; to be received in that arm of the service in which they are authorized to organize; and shall elect their company, battalion, and regimental officers.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That for the enrolment of all persons comprehended within the provisions of this act, who are not already in service in the armies of the Confederate States, it shall be lawful for the President, with the consent of the governors of the respective states, to employ state officers; and, on failure to obtain such consent, he shall employ Confederate officers, charged with the duty of making such enrolment in accordance with rules and regulations to be prescribed by him.

SEC. 4. Be it further enacted, That persons enrolled under the provisions of the preceding section, shall be assigned by the Secretary of War to the different companies now in service, until each company is filled to its maximum number, and the persons so enrolled shall be assigned to companies from the states from which they respectively come.

SEC. 5. Be it further enacted, That all seamen and ordinary seamen in the land forces of the Confederate States, enrolled under the provisions of this act, may, on application of the Secretary of the Navy, be transferred from the land forces to the naval service.

SEC. 6. Be it further enacted, That in all cases where a state may not have in the army a number of regiments, battalions, squadrons, or companies sufficient to absorb the number of persons subject to military service under this act, belonging to such state, then the residue or excess thereof shall be kept as a reserve, under such regulations as may be established by the Secretary of War, and that at stated periods of not greater than three months, details, determined by lot, shall be made from said reserve, so that each company shall, as nearly as practicable, be kept full: provided, that the persons held in reserve may remain at home until called into service by the President: provided, also, that during their stay at home they shall not receive pay: provided further, that the persons comprehended in this act shall not be subject to the Rules and Articles of War until mustered into the actual service of the Confederate States; except that said persons, when enrolled and liable to duty, if they shall wilfully refuse to obey said call, each of them shall be held to be a deserter, and punished as such under said Articles: provided further, that whenever, in the opinion of the President, the exigencies of the public service may require it, he shall be authorized to call into actual service the entire reserve, or so much as may be necessary, not previously assigned to different companies in service under provision of section four of this act. Said reserve shall be organized under such rules as the Secretary of War may adopt: provided, the company, battalion, and regimental officers shall be elected by the troops composing the same: provided, the troops raised in any one state shall not be combined in regimental, battalion, squadron, or company organization with troops in any other states.

SEC. 7. Be it further enacted, That all soldiers now serving in the army or mustered in the military service of the Confederate States, or enrolled in said service under the authorizations heretofore issued by the Secretary of War, and who are continued in the service by virtue of this act, who have not received the bounty of fifty dollars allowed by existing laws, shall be entitled to receive said bounty.

SEC. 8. Be it further enacted, That each man who may hereafter be mustered into the service, and who shall arm himself with a musket, shot-gun, rifle, or carbine, accepted as an efficient weapon, shall be paid the value thereof, to be ascertained by the mustering officer, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War, if he is willing to sell the same; and if he is not, then he shall be entitled to receive one dollar a month for the use of said received and approved musket, rifle, shot-gun, or carbine.

SEC. 9. Be it further enacted, That persons not liable for duty may be received as substitutes for those who are, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War.

SEC. 10. Be it further enacted, That all vacancies shall be filled by the President from the company, battalion, squadron, or regiment in which such vacancies shall occur, by promotion according to seniority, except in cases of disability or other incompetency: provided, however, that the President may, when in his opinion it may be proper, fill such vacancy or vacancies by the promotion of any officer, or officers, or private or privates from such company, battalion, squadron, or regiment who shall have been distinguished in the service by exhibition of valor and skill, and that whenever a vacancy shall occur in the lowest grade of the commissioned officers of a company said vacancy shall be filled by election: provided, that all appointments made by the President shall be by and with the advice and consent of the Senate,

SEC. 11. Be it further enacted, That the provisions of the first section of this act, relating to the election of officers, shall apply to those regiments, battalions, and squadrons which are composed of twelve months and war companies combined in the same organization, without regard to the manner in which the officers thereof were originally appointed.

SEC. 12. Be it further enacted, That each company of infantry shall consist of one hundred and twenty-five, rank and file; each company of field artillery of one hundred and fifty, rank and file; and each of cavalry, of eighty, rank and file.

SEC. 13. Be it further enacted, That all persons subject to enrolment, who are not now in the service under the provisions of this act, shall be permitted, previous to such enrolment, to volunteer in companies now in the service. [Approved April 16, 1862.]

II.—ENROLMENT AND DISPOSITION OF RECRUITS.

1. An officer not below the rank of major will be detailed for each state, to take charge of the enrolment, mustering in, subsistence, transportation, and disposition of the recruits raised under the above act.

2. Application will be made immediately to the governors of the several states for permission to employ state officers for said enrolment; and in case such permission be not granted, officers of the army will be selected by the department to perform that duty, under such regulations as may be prescribed. When state officers are employed, the regulations of the respective states in regard to military enrolment will be observed as far as applicable.

3. The enrolled men in each state will be collected in camps of instruction by the officers in command of the recruits, the said camps to be selected with reference to health and the facilities for obtaining subsistence and transportation. The number of these camps shall not exceed two in each state, without authority from the department; and to each will be allowed a quartermaster and a commissary.

4. The commandants of the camps of instruction in the several states will call upon the Generals commanding the military departments in which their camps may be situated for competent drill officers to instruct the recruits, and will prepare them for the field as rapidly as possible. They will cause them to be promptly vaccinated; and, in ordering them to the field, will, as far as practicable, prefer those who have passed through the usual camp diseases. They will establish hospitals in connection with their camps, and make requisition for such medical attendance and stores as may be required.

5. The commandants of regiments, battalions, squadrons, and unattached companies in service on the 16th instant will send copies of their muster rolls to the commandants of the proper camps of instruction in their respective states, with officers to take charge of such recruits as may be furnished to said corps. The said commandants will apportion the recruits among such corps, in proportion to the deficiency of each, except when otherwise especially directed by the department, allotting, as far as practicable, to each such corps the men from the regions of country in which it has been raised. They will from time to time send off such bodies of recruits as are ready for the field, and will report on the first Monday of every month to the department the number of recruits in camp, their condition, the number sent off during the month, and the regiments and corps to which they were sent.

6. The commandants of regiments and corps will distribute the recruits among their several companies; and in such as have not the number of companies allowed by law to a regiment, the said commandants may organize the required number of new companies, after first filling up the existing companies to the minimum numbers required by law; that is to say, for each company of infantry, sixty-four privates; of cavalry, sixty privates; of artillery, seventy privates.

7. The recruits will be apportioned among the several arms of service according to their respective wants, consulting, as far as practicable, the preference of the men. Where a greater number offer for a particular arm than can be assigned to it, the distribution will be determined by lot; but recruits for the cavalry will only be taken from those who furnish their own horses.

III.—VOLUNTEERS FOR EXISTING CORPS.

8. Persons liable to military service under the above act, not in service on the 16th of April, and wishing to volunteer in any particular company in the Confederate service on the 16th day of April, may report themselves, prior to their enrolment, at a camp of instruction within their respective states, where they will be enrolled, prepared for the field, and sent to the said company, until the same shall be filled up.

9. Recruiting officers may be detailed, with the permission of the Generals commanding military departments, by the commandants of regiments and corps, and sent to their respective states for the purpose of receiving for such regiments and corps, in conformity with recruiting regulations heretofore adopted (General Orders, No. 6), all volunteers desiring to join them. Such volunteers may be assembled at the camps of instruction in their respective states, prepared for the field, and sent to their respective regiments and corps, until the same shall be filled up; or, if ready for the field, may be ordered directly to their corps by the officer so recruiting them.

IV.—VOLUNTEER CORPS HERETOFORE AUTHORIZED.

10. Persons liable to military service under this act, and not in service on the 16th day of April, may, until the 17th day of May next, volunteer in corps heretofore authorized to be raised by the Secretary of War, or by the executive of any state, as part of the quota thereof, in pursuance of a call made upon such state by the President. Persons authorized to raise such corps, who may not on that day have the necessary number of men enrolled and mustered into service, according to the terms of their authority, will proceed with their men to a camp of instruction in their respective states, and will deliver their muster rolls to the commandant thereof.

11. The commandants of such corps as are completed on or before the 17th day of May, and not otherwise ordered, will report to the commandants of the recruits of their respective states, and with their corps will be placed by him in a camp of instruction, and reported immediately to the department. Such corps will be under the command of the commandants of recruits in their respective states, and will be prepared for the field in like manner with the recruits, until removed from the camp. They will only be moved under orders from the department, from the Commanding General of the army, or, in urgent cases, from the Commanding General of the military department in which the camps may be situated; and, in such cases, report will immediately be made to the department by the officer in command of the camp.

V.—ADDITIONAL CORPS. GUERRILLA SERVICE.

12. Under the prohibition of this act against the organization of new corps, no further authority for that purpose can be given, except that specially provided for in the act of Congress, entitled "an act to organize bands of partisan rangers." For this latter purpose application must be made through the Commanding Generals of the military departments in which the said corps are to be employed.

VI.—REORGANIZATION OF TWELVE MONTHS CORPS.

13. All regiments, battalions, squadrons, and companies of twelve months volunteers will reorganize within forty days from the 16th of April, by electing all their officers which they had a right heretofore to elect, and on such days as the brigade commander may prescribe; and the said brigade commanders are hereby ordered to fix and announce the day for such reorganization as soon as practicable. No person who is to be discharged under the provisions of the act will take part in such election.

14. The form of holding and certifying the elections will be in conformity with the laws of the state from which the men, or the major part thereof, may come; and when the election of field officers is to be made by company officers, the latter will be first elected. All certificates of election will be returned to the Adjutant-General's office, and the officers will be commissioned by the President. They will, however, on receiving a copy of the certificate of election, immediately enter upon duty. Officers not re-elected will be relieved from duty, and the brigade commander will return their names to the department.

VII.—CORPS RAISED FOR LOCAL DEFENCE.

15. Corps raised for local defence will retain their organization during the term of such enlistment, unless previously disbanded; but members of such corps may volunteer into corps for general service, as herein above provided.

VIII.—DISCHARGES.

16. When any company now in service for twelve months shall, before the 16th day of July next, attain the maximum number prescribed by this act, without including the men under eighteen and over thirty-five years of age, all such men may be discharged: and such of them as remain in service on the said day will, upon their application, be then discharged, whether such maximum be obtained or not.

IX.—TRANSFERS.

17. The right to change company or corps in virtue of re-enlistment ceases to exist by the repeal of all laws in regard to re-enlistment; but transfers of individuals or of companies may be made, as heretofore, within the discretion of the department, on applications approved by commanding officers.

X.—SUBSTITUTES.

18. When any person liable to military duty under this act, but not yet mustered into service in any company, desires to furnish a substitute, he shall report himself with the substitute to the commandant of a camp of instruction; and if the substitute be lawfully exempt from military duty, and, on examination by a surgeon or assistant surgeon, be pronounced sound and in all respects fit for military service, he may be accepted and enrolled; and the person furnishing such substitute may be discharged by the commandant of the camp. But no substitute shall be entitled to transportation or other allowance at the expense of the government until so accepted and enrolled.

XI.—EXEMPTIONS.

19. Persons claiming exemptions from military duty under this act shall be required by the enrolling officer to make oath that they are lawfully exempt, and shall be furnished by him with a certificate of such exemption.

All agents on railroads between Richmond, Va., and Jackson, Miss., will receive and forward promptly at least two trains weekly of flour and breadstuffs to Jackson, Miss., marked "For the Committee of Public Safety, New Orleans;" and, in return, shipments of sugar and molasses made by the committee to Richmond, or any other place on the route, at the expense of parties making such shipments. INSTRUCTIONS TO ORDNANCE OFFICERS IN THE FIELD.

1st. The Chief of Ordnance of an army corps, and ordnance officers of separate commands, will correspond with the Chief of the Bureau of ordnance relative to supplies of ordnance and ordnance stores with the commands to which they are attached. Requisitions made, whether for money or stores, will be approved by the General commanding.

2d. The division ordnance officers will correspond with the Chief of Ordnance of the army corps to which the divisions are attached, and obtain supplies through him. They will be responsible for the property under their charge, and may have an ordnance officer or military store-keeper to assist in the care and responsibility of the property.

3d. Division ordnance officers will obtain one or more wagons for each regiment in their division as ordnance wagons. These wagons will be separate from the train of wagons for reserve ammunition, and will be marked with the name of the regiment to which they are assigned, and will be placed in charge of the ordnance sergeant of the regiment. The wagons will be covered, if possible, with painted cloth covers for security against the weather, and each wagon will be supplied with a spare tarpaulin. These wagons will habitually follow their respective regiments.

4th. On the eve of battle the division ordnance officer will, under direction of the Chief of Ordnance of the army, station the ordnance wagons at the point selected for the division field depot of ammunition under charge of his assistant; each train of brigade ammunition wagons under charge of the senior ordnance sergeant of the brigade. He will keep himself acquainted with the movements of brigades, and cause the wagons of any brigade which may be detached to follow the movements of the brigade.

5th. The ordnance sergeants, together with the details habitually assigned to them for their regiments, will constitute a corps devoted as well to the preservation of the captured and other ordnance stores as to the supplies of ammunition of the various regiments. One man of each detail should follow the movements of the regiment, to ascertain its wants, and communicate with the field depot. The habitual details from each regiment should be augmented before a battle to not less than six men from each regiment. The ammunition wagons, their loads temporarily removed, will, as circumstances favor, be employed to carry to the rear such arms and other captured stores as are left upon the battle-field.

6th. Especial care must be taken in selecting competent, prompt, and efficient men for the duties of ordnance sergeants. They may be removed for cause, and new appointments ordered, on the application of the division ordnance officers, through the Chief of Ordnance of the army corps, by the Commanding General.

7th. The ammunition wagons to each regiment will not supersede the necessity for division supply trains.

DUTIES OF ORDNANCE SERGEANTS.

1st. To obey the directions of the division ordnance officer, or of the brigade ordnance officer (if the brigade is a separate command), in all relative to care and preservation of arms, and duties connected therewith.

2d. To take charge of all supplies, arms, and ammunition of the regiment, and make returns of the same according to "Ordnance Regulations."

Issues to be made on written requisitions approved by the colonel, or commanding officer of the regiment; which requisitions are to be filed with his "return of property."

3d. To take charge of the ordnance wagon or wagons attached to each regiment, and to see that it always contains at least fifteen rounds per man of the regiment — surplus arms or accoutrements to be turned over to the brigade or division ordnance officer.

4th. To supervise the condition of the arms of the regiment, and get a detail of at least two mechanics to assist him in the necessary repairs to the arms; an account of these repairs to be kept, as far as possible, against each man of the regiment. Repairs to be made on the order of the colonel of the regiment.

5th. To take charge of the arms and accoutrements of the sick of the regiment in hospitals, which will be kept until the sick are sent to the general hospital, when their arms will be turned over to the brigade or division depots.

6th. In battle, it will be the duty of the ordnance sergeants to remain with the ammunition wagons, and act with the details assigned to them from the regiments, under the orders of the ordnance officer, in supplying the troops with ammunition, collecting arms of the killed and wounded, and securing captured arms and ammunition.

I. . The following act of Congress is published for the information of all concerned :

An act to punish drunkenness in the army.

SEC. 1. The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That any commissioned officer of the Regular or Provisional army who shall be found drunk, either while on or off duty, shall, on conviction thereof before a court of inquiry, be cashiered or suspended from the service of the Confederate States, or be publicly reprimanded, according to the aggravation of the offence; and in addition to a sentence cashiering any such officer, he may also be declared incapable of holding any military office under the Confederate States during the war.

SEC. 2. That it shall be the duty of all officers to report to the commanding officer of the post, regiment, or corps to which they belong, all cases coming under their observation of intoxication of commissioned officers, whether of superior or inferior grades to themselves; and it shall be the duty of the commanding officer of the division or brigade to which said post, regiment, or corps belongs, to whom such report may be made, to report the same to the officer commanding the brigade or division, who shall organize said court and order the trial of said offender at the earliest time consistent with the public service.

SEC. 3. The findings of any such court shall be promptly transmitted to the Secretary of War by the commanding officer, together with his approval or disapproval thereof, and shall be reported to Congress at the next session thereafter by the said Secretary. [Approved April 21, 1862.]

II. . Commanding Generals will issue the necessary orders to carry into execution the above act.

III..Each battalion of sharp-shooters organized under the act of April 21, 1862 (see General Orders, No. 34), will be composed of soldiers from the same state; those from different states will not be organized in the same battalion of sharp-shooters.

IV..Citizens of Maryland whose terms of service in the Confederate States army have expired are entitled to a discharge; and, upon proper evidence being furnished, their regimental commanders will order their discharge.

V..By General Orders, No. 37, foreigners who have not acquired domicil are exempt from service in the Confederate States army; and all such foreigners as may have enlisted in said service should be discharged by order of their brigade commanders when their terms of enlistment are at an end. The question of domicil or permanent residence is, however, a question of law, and should be determined from the facts of the case, and not by the opinion or oath of the party.

VI..Regimental and company commanders will cause to be made out, and will sign the "Soldier's Discharge," and "Final Statement," as in all other cases of discharge.

VII..Recruiting officers are required to have their recruits examined by a surgeon before closing enlistments. Two days after a recruiting officer shall have reported with his recruits to his regiment or camp, the regimental commander will assemble a board of examination, to be composed of two regimental officers next in rank to himself, and the regimental surgeon or assistant surgeon, who shall reject all recruits unfit for service; and where such unfitness arises from causes existing at the time of enlistment, the names of the recruiting officer and the rejected recruits shall be reported, with expenses incurred by such enlistments, to this office, in order that said expenses may be reimbursed to the government by stoppage of the officer's pay.

VIII..Upon the return to their companies of detached men who have been furnished with "Descriptive Lists," it is the duty of captains or commanders of companies to take possession of such descriptive lists, and, should the soldier be again detached, to furnish him a new one. Payments upon descriptive lists will be made only in cases of necessity, and then only up to the date of last muster.

IX..Paragraph 2d of General Order, No. 31, of 29th April, 1862, is so modified as to make Augusta, Georgia, the depot for sugar and molasses shipped from Jackson, Mississippi, or places contiguous thereto, for transmission to other points, and also for the transmission

I..The second paragraph of General Orders, No. 36, is hereby revoked, and the following substituted therefor: When an officer elected or promoted in the Provisional army by reason of seniority, is by law to be commissioned by the President, and there is reasonable ground to doubt his qualifications or fitness for the commission, his brigade commander, if there be one, or if not, then his division commander, will assemble a board of not less than three commissioned officers of equal or superior rank to the officer elected or promoted, who shall inquire into his qualifications and fitness for the commission, and shall report to this office, for the information of the War department, the facts of the case, and their own opinion of the qualifications and fitness of the officer. This order will apply to all persons not yet commissioned or recognized as in commission by the department.

II..The limits of Department No. 1, under command of Major-General Lovell, will hereafter embrace that portion of the State of Mississippi south of the 33d parallel, and west of Pascagoula and Chickasawha rivers, including also that part of the State of Louisiana east of the Mississippi river.

III..Department No. 2, under command of General Beauregard, is extended south to the 33d parallel east of the Mississippi river, and extending on that parallel to the eastern boundary of Alabama.

IV..The boundary of the Trans-Mississippi department will embrace the States of Missouri and Arkansas, including the Indian Territory, the State of Louisiana west of the Mississippi, and the State of Texas.

V..Frequent complaints having been made of injury to fencing and to the grounds on or near which troops have encamped, attention is called to the 983d paragraph of the Army Regulations, which requires the commanding officer and quartermaster to make an inspection of buildings occupied as barracks, quarters, or lands occupied for encampments when they are vacated, and a report to be made to the Quartermaster-General of their condition, and of any injury to them by the use of the troops.

This regulation will be strictly enforced; and in case of injury not reported by the commanding officer and quartermaster, they will be charged on their pay account of the troops with the damage done. If report be made, it must specify by whom the injury was inflicted, and the deduction, in such case, will be made from the pay of the offending party.

VI.. Hereafter Brigadier-Generals will have timely requisitions made for all blanks issued from this office, in order that they may be forwarded for early distribution.

SEC. 1. The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President be and is hereby authorized, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint ten officers in the Provisional army, of a grade not exceeding that of captains, and with the pay of corresponding grades of infantry, who shall perform the duties of signal officers of the army. And the President is hereby authorized to appoint ten sergeants of infantry in the Provisional army, and to assign them to duty as signal sergeants. The signal corps above authorized may be organized as a separate corps, or may be attached to the department of the Adjutant and Inspector-General, or to the Engineer corps, as the Secretary of War shall direct. [Approved April 19, 1862.]

II.. The signal corps authorized by this act will be attached to the Adjutant and Inspector-General's department; and officers of that department may be instructed in and assigned to signal duty.

These signal officers will each be assisted by as many signal sergeants, and instructed non-commissioned officers and privates, selected from the ranks for their intelligence and reliability, as circumstances may require; and as many lance sergeants as are required may be appointed. Such non-commissioned officers and privates may be detailed for this duty by the Generals in whose command they are serving. Before being instructed, they will each be required by the signal officer to take an oath not to divulge, directly or indirectly, the system of signals, the alphabet, or any official message sent or received thereby. Non-commissioned officers, while on signal duty, and privates on this duty, will receive forty cents per day extra pay.

IV..Commissioned officers of the signal corps, or officers serving on signal duty, will be entitled to the forage and allowance of officers of similar rank in the cavalry. Non-commissioned officers and privates on signal duty will be mounted by the quartermaster, on the order of the Commanding General.

V..Requisitions for flags, torches, glasses, and all the material required, will be made on the Quartermaster's department, or they may be purchased by the quartermaster of any division, on the order of the Major-General commanding.

VI..On the order of a General commanding a corps, other officers, non-commissioned officers, or privates than those regularly on signal duty, may be instructed in the system of signals, after having taken the oath prescribed above. Wherever it is practicable, it is specially recommended to all general officers to have their assistant adjutant-generals and aides-de-camp instructed.

VII..Whatever is prescribed herein for a division, or for a Major-General, will be observed in the case of each brigade which constitutes a separate command.

VIII..All officers and non-commissioned officers accepting appointments to the signal corps, will forward with their acceptances the oath prescribed above, sworn to before a magistrate, notary public, or commissioned officer of the corps.

IX..Quarterly returns of signal property will be made by all officers having it in charge to the Quartermaster's department, and the senior signal officer of each separate army in the field will report quarterly to the Adjutant and Inspector-General the number and organization of the signal corps of the army, and its general operations during the previous quarter.

X. It will be the duty of the signal officer of every division in the field to instruct the adjutant of each regiment in the division in the system of signals in use in the army.

V. Paragraph No. 161, General Regulations of the Army, relating to discharges in hospital, is so far modified as to dispense with the necessity of sending certificates of disability, in the case of soldiers sick in the hospitals in Richmond, to the commandants of regiments, where communication with them is difficult and the cases urgent. In all such cases, the certificate will be sent to Brigadier-General JOHN H. WINDER, commanding the department of Henrico, who will grant the discharge, and notify the same to the regimental commander, who will cause the final statements in each case of discharge to be made out and sent to the officer granting the discharge, for the benefit of the discharged soldier.

VI..The following is published for the information of all concerned:

The act No. 52, approved March 6, 1861, section 19, provides, "that there shall be allowed, in addition to the pay herein before provided, to every commissioned officer, except the Surgeon-General, nine dollars per month for every five years service; and to the officers of the army of the United States, who have resigned, or may resign, to be received into the service of the Confederate States, this additional pay shall be allowed from the date of their entrance into the former service."

The successful defence of Vicksburg against the mortar fleet of the enemy by Major-General VAN DORN and the officers and men under his command entitles them to the gratitude of the country, the thanks of the government, and the admiration of the army. By their gallantry and good conduct they have not only saved the city entrusted to them, but they have shown that bombardments of cities, if bravely resisted, achieve nothing for the enemy, and only serve to unveil his malice and the hypocrisy of his pretended wish to restore the Union. The world now sees that his mission is one of destruction, not restoration.

Lieutenant BROWN, and the officers and crew of the Confederate steamer Arkansas, by their heroic attack upon the Federal fleet before Vicksburg equalled the highest recorded examples of courage and skill. They prove that the navy, when it regains its proper element, will be one of the chief bulwarks of national defence, and that it is entitled to a high place in the confidence and affection of the country.

It will be the duty of the Commanding Generals of separate armies to cause to be entered, in some conspicuous place on the standards of regiments, battalions, and separately organized squadrons of their commands, the names of the several battles in which their regiments, battalions, and separate squadrons have been actually engaged.

II. With a view to carry into effect so much of the act of April 21, 1862, as provides "that the President may, when in his opinion it is proper, fill any vacancy, by the promotion of any officer from any company, battalion, squadron, or regiment in which the same may occur, who shall have been distinguished in service by the exhibition of extraordinary valor or skill, and that when any vacancy shall occur in the lowest grade of commissioned officer of any company, the same may be filled by selection, by the President, of any non-commissioned officer or private from the company in which the said vacancy may occur who shall have been distinguished in the service by the exhibition of extraordinary valor and skill," it will be the duty of the several commanding officers herein referred to to furnish reports, setting forth the facts and circumstances of the "extraordinary valor and skill" displayed by such officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates as may be recommended by them for promotion, agreeably to the provision of this act. These reports will be passed through the ascending channel of communication provided by the Army Regulations to the Commanding General, who will forward the same, with such remarks as he may deem necessary, to the Adjutant and Inspector-General, for the action of the Secretary of War.

III. The employees of railroad companies are authorized and requested to examine the passes and furloughs of soldiers passing over their roads, and to arrest all deserters and persons absent without leave from the army, whenever they may be found on said roads, and to deliver them to an officer of the army at the most convenient post or station, or to lodge them in jail, and report their names and regiments to the Adjutant and Inspector-General, Richmond. Thirty dollars will be paid for all deserters delivered to an officer, and fifteen dollars for each deserter lodged in jail. No allowance will be made for the expenses of apprehension and transportation. All jailors receiving deserters are requested to detain them. The usual allowance for prisoners will be made.

GENERAL ORDERS, }

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, August 1, 1862.

I.. The following orders are published for the information and observance of all concerned:

II.. Whereas by a General Order, dated the 22d July, 1862, issued by the Secretary of War of the United States, under the order of the President of the United States, the military commanders of that government within the States of Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and Arkansas, are directed to seize and use any property, real or personal, belonging to the inhabitants of this Confederacy, which may be necessary or convenient for their several commands, and no provision is made for any compensation to the owners of private property thus seized and appropriated by the military commanders of the enemy :

III. . And whereas by General Order, No. 11, issued on the 23d July, 1862, by Major-General Pope, commanding the forces of the enemy in Northern Virginia, it is ordered that all "commanders of army corps, divisions, brigades, and detached commands, will proceed immediately to arrest all disloyal male citizens within their lines or within their reach, in rear of their respective commands. Such as are willing to take the oath of allegiance to the United States, and will furnish sufficient security for its observance, shall be permitted to remain at their homes, and pursue in good faith their accustomed avocations. Those who refuse, shall be conducted south, beyond the extreme pickets of this army, and be notified that if found again anywhere within our lines, or at any point in rear, they will be considered spies, and subjected to the extreme rigor of military law. If any person having taken the oath of allegiance as above specified, be found to have violated it, he shall be shot, and his property seized and applied to the public use :"

IV. . And whereas by an order issued on the 13th July, 1862, by Brigadier-General A. Steinwehr, Major William Steadman, a cavalry officer of his brigade, has been ordered to arrest five of the most prominent citizens of Page county, Virginia, to be held as hostages, and to suffer death in the event of any of the soldiers of said Steinwehr being shot by "bushwhackers," by which term are meant the citizens of this Confederacy who have taken up arms to defend their homes and families :

V. . And whereas it results from the above orders that some of the military authorities of the United States, not content with the unjust and aggressive warfare hitherto waged with savage cruelty against an unoffending people, and exasperated by the failure of their effort to subjugate them, have now determined to violate all the rules and usages of war, and to convert the hostilities hitherto waged against armed forces into a campaign of robbery and murder against unarmed citizens and peaceful tillers of the soil :

VI. . And whereas this government, bound by the highest obligations of duty to its citizens, is thus driven to the necessity of adopting such just measures of retribution and retaliation as shall seem adequate to repress and punish these barbarities : and whereas the orders above recited have only been published and made known to this government since the signature of a cartel for exchange of prisoners of war, which cartel, in so far as it provides for an exchange of prisoners hereafter captured, would never have been signed or agreed to by this government if the intention to change the war into a system of indiscriminate murder and robbery had been made known to it: and whereas a just regard to humanity forbids that the repression of crime which this government is thus compelled to enforce should be unnecessarily extended to retaliation on the enlisted men in the army of the United States who may be the unwilling instruments of the savage cruelty of their commanders so long as there is hope that the excesses of the enemy may be checked or prevented by retribution on the commissioned officers who have the power to avoid guilty action by refusing service under a government which seeks their aid in the perpetration of such infamous barbarities:

VII.. Therefore, it is ordered that Major-General Pope, Brigadier-General Steinwehr, and all commissioned officers serving under their respective commands, be and they are hereby expressly and specially declared to be not entitled to be considered as soldiers, and therefore not entitled to the benefit of the cartel for the parole of future prisoners of war. Ordered, further, that in the event of the capture of Major-General Pope, or Brigadier-General Steinwehr, or of any commissioned officer serving under them, the captive so taken shall be held in close confinement so long as the orders aforesaid shall continue in force and unrepealed by the competent military authorities of the United States; and that in the event of the murder of any unarmed citizen or inhabitant of this Confederacy by virtue or under pretext of any of the orders herein before recited, whether with or without trial, whether under pretence of such citizen being a spy or hostage, or any other pretence, it shall be the duty of the Commanding General of the forces of this Confederacy to cause immediately to be hung, out of the commissioned officers, prisoners as aforesaid, a number equal to the number of our own citizens thus murdered by the enemy.

INSTRUCTIONS TO ORDNANCE OFFICERS IN THE FIELD.

Relative to Returns of Ordnance Stores.

I..Returns for ordnance and ordnance stores issued to troops will be made quarterly on the 31st March, 30th June, 30th September, and 31st December, according to Form I, "Ordnance Regulations," as follows :

II..For all ordnance stores—such as arms, accoutrements, equipments, and ammunition in the hands of a regiment or battalion, including the supplies carried in the ordnance wagon of the regiment—by the colonel of the regiment, assisted by his ordnance sergeant.

III..For all ordnance stores—such as artillery harness, equipments, accoutrements, and ammunition in the possession of field batteries—by the captains of batteries.

IV..For ordnance and ordnance stores at posts or garrisons—by the commanding officer, assisted by his ordnance sergeant.

V..For ordnance stores in the division and army trains—by the division ordnance officer and by the assistant to the Chief of Ordnance of the army.

VI..Invoices to show what has been received, and receipts for issues must accompany the "Returns," and the line of "Expenditures" must mention the actions or practice causing the expenditure; and, where ammunition or stores are lost, proper evidence and explanation must be furnished attached to the return.

VII..In many cases captains of infantry companies have given receipts for their arms and equipments. In such cases the colonel of the regiment to which the company belongs should give a receipt for the property in the possession of the company commander at the organization of the regiment, making the necessary expenditures for property lost, worn out, and expended on the regimental returns. Where property has been furnished by a state or by the company themselves, it will be accounted for on a separate return by the company commander, a remark to that effect being made in the regimental return.

VIII. . Wherever there are field depots, with workmen attached, the usual monthly summary statement of work done should be transmitted. (See Form 29, "Ordnance Regulations.")

It is hereby ordered that general officers commanding troops of the Confederate States shall forthwith ascertain and report to the President whether such acts have been committed; and upon being certified thereof, shall forthwith set apart by lot, from among any prisoners taken from the army under the command of General FITCH, a number of officers equal in number to the persons who have been put to death as aforesaid, and place them in close confinement for execution at such time thereafter as may be ordered by the President; and shall regard the said General FITCH, if captured, not as a prisoner of war, but place him in confinement as a felon, until the further order of the President.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

RICHMOND, October 29, 1862.

I..At a General Court Martial, convened at Tallahassee, Florida, on the 12th day of September, 1862, by virtue of Special Orders, No. 191, dated August 16, 1862, from the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, Richmond, whereof Colonel GEORGE P. HARRISON, Jr., 32d regiment Georgia volunteers, was President, was arraigned and tried Major John G. Barnwell, Corps of Artillery, C. S. A., on the following charges and specifications:

CHARGE I.

Abandoning his post.

*Specification.....*In this; "That Major John G. Barnwell, while in command of the detachment of troops at or near New Smyrna, Florida, for the purpose of protecting the government property landed at that point by the steamers 'Kate' and 'Cecile,' did, on or about the 11th day of March, 1862, abandon his post or position, ordering all the troops of the command off, leaving the arms and ammunition, and other valuable property, which he was under orders to protect, abandoned to such evil-disposed persons as might choose to take them away, and to the enemy, whose approach in that quarter was momentarily expected."

CHARGE II.

Conduct subversive of good order and military discipline.

*Specification.....*In this; "That the said Major John G. Barnwell, after abandoning his command, and while proceeding in the direction of Tallahassee, Florida, through the interior of the state, did state to divers persons in the country 'that the property landed at Smyrna was abandoned;' 'that he believed the last package had crossed the St. John's river;' 'that the only way to save even a portion of it was for the people to rush over and take what they could carry off in their hands;' 'that there were splendid guns, swords, pistols, shoes, blankets, etc., which could be had for the taking,' or words and expressions of like tenor; which words and expressions did induce many to congregate about the camps, and tempted them to appropriate to themselves articles of value, to the detriment of the public service."

FINDINGS AND SENTENCE OF THE COURT.

The court finds the accused, Major John G. Barnwell, Corps of Artillery, C. S. Army, "Not Guilty of the charges and specifications preferred against him, and does, therefore, honorably acquit him."

II..The proceedings in this case being irregular, in the essential particular that one of the members of the court, who appears by the record to have been absent one day while the testimony was taking, afterward resumed his seat, and participated in the further action of the court, thereby vitiating its judgment, are disapproved.

While there is nothing in the record of this case to leave any imputation upon the courage and zeal of Major Barnwell, and his skill and judgment in managing his troops, his appropriation of the arms and equipments to the use of the men under his command is not justified by any exigency that seems to have existed, nor to have been made with proper regard for the responsibility of the officer under whose immediate charge they were.

Neither Major Barnwell nor Major Simkins, assistant quartermaster (the prosecutor in the case), seem to have apprehended the extent of their duty in regard to the proper protection of these public stores, and to their failure and want of a hearty co-operation some loss of public property is undoubtedly due.

Major John G. Barnwell, Corps of Artillery, C. S. A., is released from arrest, and will return to duty.

III..The General Court Martial of which Col. GEORGE P. HARRISON, Jr., 32d Regiment Georgia volunteers, is President is dissolved.

By order.

An act to further provide for the Public Defence.

In view of the exigencies of the country, and the absolute necessity of keeping in the service our gallant army, and of placing in the field a large additional force to meet the advancing columns of the enemy now invading our soil: Therefore.

SEC. 1. The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President be and he is hereby authorized to call out and place in the military service of the Confederate States for three years, unless the war shall have been sooner ended, all white men who are residents of the Confederate States, between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five years at the time the call or calls may be made, who are legally exempted from military service. All of the persons aforesaid who are now in the armies of the Confederacy, and whose terms of service will expire before the end of the war, shall be continued in the service for three years from the date of their original enlistment, unless the war shall have been sooner ended; provided, however, that all such companies, squadrons, battalions, and regiments whose term of original enlistment was for twelve months, shall have the right, within forty days, on a day to be fixed by the commander of the brigade, to reorganize said companies, battalions, and regiments, by electing all their officers which they had a right heretofore to elect, who shall be commissioned by the President: provided, further, that furloughs not exceeding sixty days, with transportation home and back, shall be granted to all those retained in the service by the provisions of this act beyond the period of their original enlistment, and who have not heretofore received furloughs under the provisions of an act entitled "an act providing for the granting of bounty and furloughs to privates and non-commissioned officers in the Provisional army," approved 11th December, eighteen hundred and sixty-one; said furloughs to be granted at such times and in such numbers as the Secretary of War may deem most compatible with the public interest: and provided, further, that, in lieu of a furlough, the commutation value in money of the transportation herein above granted shall be paid to each private, musician, or non-commissioned officer who may elect to receive it, at such time as the furlough would otherwise be granted: provided, further, that all persons under the age of eighteen years or over the age of thirty-five years, who are now enrolled in the military service of the Confederate States, in the regiments, squadrons, battalions, and companies hereafter to be reorganized, shall be required to remain in their respective companies, squadrons, battalions, and regiments for ninety days, unless their places can be sooner supplied by other recruits not now in the service, who are between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five years. And all laws and parts of laws providing for the re-enlistment of volunteers and the organization thereof into companies, squadrons, battalions, or regiments, shall be and the same are hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That such companies, squadrons, battalions, or regiments organized or in process of organization by authority from the Secretary of War, as may be within thirty days from the passage of this act so far completed as to have the whole number of men requisite for organization actually enrolled, not embracing in said organizations any persons now in service, shall be mustered into the service of the Confederate States as part of the land forces of the same; to be received in that arm of the service in which they are authorized to organize; and shall elect their company, battalion, and regimental officers.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That for the enrolment of all persons comprehended within the provisions of this act, who are not already in service in the armies of the Confederate States, it shall be lawful for the President, with the consent of the Governors of the respective states, to employ state officers; and, on failure to obtain such consent, he shall employ Confederate officers, charged with the duty of making such enrolment in accordance with rules and regulations to be prescribed by him.

SEC. 4. Be it further enacted, That persons enrolled under the provisions of the preceding section shall be assigned by the Secretary of War to the different companies now in service, until each company is filled to its maximum number, and the persons so enrolled shall be assigned to companies from the states from which they respectively come.

SEC. 5. Be it further enacted, That all seamen and ordinary seamen in the land forces of the Confederate States, enrolled under the provisions of this act, may, on application of the Secretary of the Navy, be transferred from the land forces to the naval service.

SEC. 6. Be it further enacted, That in all cases where a state may not have in the army a number of regiments, battalions, squadrons, or companies sufficient to absorb the number of persons subject to military service under this act, belonging to such state, then the residue or excess thereof shall be kept as a reserve, under such regulations as may be established by the Secretary of War, and that at stated periods of not greater than three months, details, determined by lot, shall be made from said reserve, so that each company shall, as nearly as practicable, be kept full: provided, that the persons held in reserve may remain at home until called into service by the President: provided, also, that during their stay at home they shall not receive pay: provided, further, that the persons comprehended in this act shall not be subject to the Rules and Articles of War until mustered into the actual service of the Confederate States; except that said persons, when enrolled and liable to duty, if they shall wilfully refuse to obey said call, each of them shall be held to be a deserter, and punished as such under said Articles: provided further, that whenever, in the opinion of the President, the exigencies of the public service may require it, he shall be authorized to call into actual service the entire reserve, or so much as may be necessary, not previously assigned to different companies in service under provision of section four of this act. Said reserve shall be organized under such rules as the Secretary of War may adopt: provided, the company, battalion, and regimental officers shall be elected by the troops composing the same: provided, the troops raised in any one state shall not be combined in regimental, battalion, squadron, or company organization with troops raised in any other states.

SEC. 7. Be it further enacted. That all soldiers now serving in the army or mustered in the military service of the Confederate States, or enrolled in said service under the authorizations heretofore issued by the Secretary of War, and who are continued in the service by virtue of this act, who have not received the bounty of fifty dollars allowed by existing laws, shall be entitled to receive said bounty.

SEC. 8. Be it further enacted, That each man who may hereafter be mustered into the service, and who shall arm himself with a musket, shot-gun, rifle, or carbine, accepted as an efficient weapon, shall be paid the value thereof, to be ascertained by the mustering officer, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War, if he is willing to sell the same; and if he is not, then he shall be entitled to receive one dollar a month for the use of said received and approved musket, rifle, shot-gun, or carbine.

SEC. 9. Be it further enacted. That persons not liable for duty may be received as substitutes for those who are, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War.

SEC. 11. Be it further enacted, That the provisions of the first section of this act, relating to the election of officers, shall apply to those regiments, battalions, and squadrons which are composed of twelve months and war companies combined in the same organization, without regard to the manner in which the officers thereof were originally appointed.

SEC. 12. Be it further enacted, That each company of infantry shall consist of one hundred and twenty-five, rank and file; each company of field artillery of one hundred and fifty, rank and file; and each of cavalry of eighty, rank and file.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to further provide for the Public Defence," approved 16th April, 1862, and the act to amend the same, approved September 27, 1862.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That all persons subject to enrolment for military service may be enrolled under instructions from the War department, and reported by the enrolling officer wherever found, whether within the state or county of their residence or not: and when so enrolled, shall be subject to the provisions of law as fully as if enrolled within the county and state of which they may be residents: provided, that this act shall not extend to any member of a military organization under any state law while he remains in actual service without the limits of his state: and provided, further, that the President is authorized to suspend the execution of this act as regards the residents of any locality where he may find it impracticable to execute the act entitled "An act to further provide for the public defence," approved April 16, 1862, and the act to amend the last mentioned act, approved September 27, 1862. [Approved October 8, 1862.]

An act to establish places of Rendezvous for the Examination of Enrolled men.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That there shall be established in each county, parish, or district, and in any city in a county, parish, or district in the several states, a place of rendezvous for the persons in said county, district, parish, or city enrolled for military duty in the field, who shall be there examined by one or more surgeons to be employed by the government, to be assigned to that duty by the President on a day of which ten days notice shall be given by said surgeon, and from day to day next thereafter until all who shall be in attendance for the purpose of examination shall have been examined; and the decisions of said surgeons, under regulations to be established by the Secretary of War, as to the physical and mental capacity of any such person for military duty in the field, shall be final; and those only thus ascertained to be fit for military duty in the field shall be required to assemble at camps of instruction.

SEC. 2. There shall be assigned to each congressional district in the several states three surgeons, who shall constitute a board of examination in such district for the purpose specified in the foregoing section any one or more of whom may act at any place of rendezvous in said districts.

SEC. 3. When it shall appear to any surgeon attending such place of rendezvous by the certificate of a respectable physician resident in that county, district, parish, or city in a county, parish, or district that any enrolled person therein is unable to attend on account of sickness, it shall be the duty of said surgeon to file said certificate with the commandant of the nearest camp of instruction; and if the person named therein shall not within a reasonable time report himself for examination at said camp of instruction or his continual disability certified by the certificate of a respectable physician of his county, city, district, or parish, he shall be held liable as absent without leave of his commanding officer. [Approved October 11, 1862.]

II. COMMANDANTS OF CONSCRIPTS AND CAMPS OF INSTRUCTION.

1. An officer, styled the commandant of conscripts, will be appointed for each state, who will be charged with the supervision of the enrolment and disposition of conscripts. He will establish one or more camps, in which conscripts will be assembled and instructed, and may recommend for appointment a surgeon, a quartermaster, a commissary, and the requisite number of drillmasters for each camp. If more than one camp be established, he may also recommend a commandant for each camp not under his own immediate command.

2. A hospital will be established and huts for winter quarters constructed at each camp; and all conscripts assembled at the camps will be promptly vaccinated, if it has not already been done.

3. The commandant of conscripts will require from each camp a report on the first Monday in every month, showing the expenses of the preceding month; the number of conscripts in the camp; the number received and sent away during the preceding month; the regiments, battalions, or companies to which they were sent; the number transferred to the navy; the number of sick; the nature of their diseases, and the number of deaths. He will make a consolidated monthly report to the Adjutant and Inspector-General of the army.

4. The commandants of conscripts east of the Mississippi river will receive orders only from the War department, and will not be interfered with by Generals commanding departments or armies in the field. West of the Mississippi they will report to and receive instructions from the Commanding General of the Trans-Mississippi department, who will require them to conform as nearly as possible to this order, and to the regulations prescribed for commandants east of the Mississippi. He will make a consolidated monthly report to the Adjutant and Inspector-General of the army.

5. The commandants of all regiments, battalions, squadrons, or unattached companies which were in service on the 16th of April, 1862, desiring to receive conscripts, may transmit, through the Adjutant and Inspector-General of the army, statements of the strength of their commands to the commandant of conscripts in their respective states, who, unless otherwise ordered, will, as far as practicable, distribute the conscripts of the state among its regiments, battalions, and companies thereof, in proportion to their respective deficiencies.

He will consult the wishes of the conscripts in assigning them to companies or regiments, so far as may be consistent with their proper distribution, and will not separate men from the same county, district, or parish, if it can be avoided. The same rule will be observed by the commandants of corps in assigning conscripts to companies.

6. Conscripts for cavalry will only be taken from those who furnish their own horses. No conscripts can be assigned to companies mustered into service since the 16th of April, 1862.

7. The commandants of conscripts are specially enjoined to pay unceasing attention to the health, comfort, and instruction of the conscripts under their command, and to bear in mind that the efficiency of the army and the safety of the country depend in a great measure upon their faithful discharge of these duties.

III. ENROLMENT OF CONSCRIPTS.

All white male residents of the Confederate States, between the ages of eighteen and forty, not exempted by act of Congress, or not already in the service, will be enrolled. Persons liable to enrolment may be enrolled wherever they may be found, as provided by the act No. 42, herewith published.

IV. UNDOMICILED FOREIGNERS.

1. Foreigners not domiciled in the Confederate States are not liable to enrolment. Domicil in the Confederate States consists in residence with intention permanently to remain in those states, and to abandon domicil elsewhere. Long residence of itself does not constitute domicil. A person may acquire domicil in less than one year, and he may not acquire it in twenty years residence. If there is a determination to return to the native country and to retain the domicil there, no length of residence can confer domicil.

The principal evidences of intention to remain are the declarations of the party, the exercise of rights of citizenship, marriage, and the acquisition of real estate ; but the intention may be gathered from other facts.

2. The enrolment will be made by the enrolling officers of the state, if the Governor thereof will permit them to act under the orders of the commandant of conscripts, and application will be made by the said commandant for such permission. If it be declined, the commandant will report the fact to the Adjutant and Inspector-General, and ask for the employment of Confederate officers for the purpose of making enrolments. If the Governor consent, but the enrolling officers of the state be found unable or unwilling to discharge their duty efficiently, the like application will be made to the Adjutant and Inspector-General; and, in such event, a commissioned officer for each congressional district, and a non-commissioned officer or private for each county, city, town, district, or parish will be assigned to such duty.

In making such assignment, officers and men disabled by wounds from active duty in the field, and acquainted in the localities in which they are required to serve, will, as far as practicable, be selected. The commissioned officer in each district will superintend the enrolments and collection of conscripts therein. Non-commissioned officers and privates, while so employed, will be allowed pay as extra-duty men. The enrolling officers of the states, if employed, will be paid the compensation allowed by the state laws for similar services.

The Commanding Generals of armies in the field will order such commissioned officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates as they think qualified to be enrolling officers or drill officers, and who are unfit for active service in the field, to report to the commandant of conscripts in their respective states, who will order such of them to duty as may be required, and report the remainder by letter to the Commanding General as not needed for such service.

3. Enrolments for particular regiments, squadrons, battalions, and companies in service on the 16th of April, 1862, may be made by officers detailed for the purpose by the Commanding General of a department or an army in the field ; but such officers must report to the commandant of conscripts in their respective states, receive instructions from him, and assemble their conscripts at such point as he may designate. Conscripts enrolled without reporting to such commandant will be deemed to be enrolled for general service, and shall at any time be transferred, on their own application, or on the application of commandants of corps needing conscripts, to such corps.

V. EXEMPTIONS.

The Exemption act will be construed prospectively, and does not authorize the discharge of any one enrolled or in service prior to the 11th day of October, 1862.

VI. BODILY AND MENTAL INFIRMITY.

1. Questions of bodily and mental incapacity will be decided by surgeons employed for the purpose, by virtue of the act of Congress approved on the 11th of October, 1862.

Three surgeons in each congressional district will be recommended by the commandants of conscripts to the Adjutant and Inspector-General for employment under the foregoing act; and the said commandants will establish in each county, city, parish, or district a place of rendezvous for the examination of conscripts enrolled therein.

2. The three surgeons employed in each congressional district will constitute a board of examination for the district; and one or more of them may act at any place of rendezvous therein. They shall fix days for the examination of conscripts in each county, city, parish, or district, and give at least ten days notice thereof, by publication in one or more newspapers circulating in the congressional district, and by notice posted at the principal places of public resort.

3. The enrolling officer for the county, city, parish, or district shall attend at such examinations, and enroll and send to the camp of instruction such persons as are examined and found by the surgeon to be incapable of bearing arms. The standard of bodily capacity shall be that established by General Order, No. 58, modified by the omission of the 3d paragraph, which authorized the enrolment of persons not equal to all military duty. No person will be enrolled as a conscript who is not capable of bearing arms.

4. Persons deemed incapable of bearing arms shall be reported by the examining surgeon to the board of examination, who shall determine the questions of exemption, and grant certificates thereof. The certificates shall specify whether the incapacity is temporary or permanent; and, if permanent, the party shall be exempt from future examination, unless specially ordered by the board. So soon as the examining board shall be organized in any congressional district, and shall enter upon the discharge of their duties, no other mode of examination for persons in that district will be pursued, and the decision of the examining board will be deemed final.

5. The fact that a person has been discharged from service for physical disability or other cause, does not of itself exempt from enrolment as a conscript.

6. If any enrolled person is unable to attend at the rendezvous on account of sickness, he will send to the examining surgeon a certificate specifying the cause of absence, and its probable duration, from some respectable physician resident in the county, city, parish, or district in which the rendezvous is situated. The examining surgeon shall send the certificate to the commandant of the nearest camp of instruction; and if the person mentioned therein shall not report himself for examination at the said camp within a reasonable period, or send to the commandant of the camp a renewal of the certificate, showing his continued disability, he shall be deemed absent without leave.

7. A compensation of $4 per diem, while actually employed, will be allowed to each of the examining surgeons, and will be paid on their certified account by the quartermaster of the nearest camp of instruction.

VII. FRIENDS, DUNKARDS, NAZARENES, AND MENNONITES.

All persons of the above denominations, in regular membership therein on the 11th day of October, 1862, shall be exempt from enrolment, on furnishing a substitute, or on presenting to the enrolling officer a receipt from a bonded quartermaster for the tax of five hundred dollars imposed by act of Congress, and an affidavit by the bishop, presiding elder, or other officer whose duty it is to preserve the records of membership in the denomination to which the party belongs, setting forth distinctly the fact that the party on the 11th day of October, 1862, was in regular membership with such denomination. The affidavit must be taken and certified by a justice of the peace, or other officer appointed by the law of his state to administer oaths: and his authority to administer oaths must be certified by the clerk of a court of record, under the seal of the court.

All assistant quartermasters to whom the said tax is tendered will receive and receipt for it, and pay the same into the treasury of the Confederate States without unreasonable delay. The enrolling officer will receive the receipt and forward it to the commandant of conscripts, by whom it will be forwarded to the Quartermaster-General, who will charge the assistant quartermaster with the amount received by him.

VIII. PROVISION AGAINST EXTORTION.

1. When application for exemption is made by any shoemaker, tanner, blacksmith, wagon-maker, miller, mill engineer, or millwright, not in the employment of any company or establishment, but working for himself, the party seeking exemption shall state in writing, under oath, that he is skilled and actually employed in his said trade; that he is habitually engaged in working for the public; that the products of his labor, while exempt from military service, shall not be sold, exchanged, or bartered for a price exceeding the cost of production and seventy-five per cent. profit thereon; and that he will not by any arrangement, shift, or contrivance, evade the law, or receive a greater price or reward than it allows.

2. Where application is made to exempt superintendents and operatives in wool and cotton factories and paper-mills, and superintendents and managers of wool-carding machines, shoemakers, tanners, blacksmiths, wagon-makers, millers, mill engineers, or millwrights, not working for themselves, but in the employment of some company or establishment, the president or some director, if the company be incorporated, if not, the proprietor of the business, or, if there be a firm, some partner therein, shall make oath in writing that the said superintendents, operatives, managers, or mechanics, as the case may be, are skilled and actually employed in their said vocations; that they are habitually working for the public; that they are absolutely necessary for the successful prosecution of the business of the concern; that the products thereof shall not be sold, or exchanged, or bartered, during the said exemption, for a price exceeding the cost of production and seventy-five per cent. profit thereon; that no shift, contrivance, or arrangement shall be made to evade the law, or to secure a larger return or profit than it allows; and that exemption is not sought for a larger number of persons than is absolutely necessary for the successful prosecution of the business of the concern.

3. The foregoing affidavits shall be made before some justice of the peace, or other person authorized by law to administer oaths, and if such justice or other person be not personally known to the enrolling officer to be what he purports to be, his official character and his right to administer oaths must be certified by the clerk of some court of record, under the seal of his court.

The affidavits shall be returned to the commandant of conscripts, and exemptions shall be granted by the enrolling officer. If, however, he suspect false swearing or mistake, he shall refuse the exemption, and refer the case, after first enrolling the names of the parties in question, to the commandant of conscripts, who shall dispose of it. If at any time the enrolling officer have cause to suspect false swearing or mistake in the foregoing affidavits, he shall report the fact to the commandant of conscripts, and if the said commandant be satisfied after due investigation that a larger number of persons is designedly employed than is necessary, or that a larger profit than the law allows is received either directly or indirectly, he shall order the enrolment of the parties exempted upon the said affidavits.

IX. DETAILS.

Citizen employees and mechanics who are employed in establishments of the government, or by contractors with the government in the manufacture of arms, ordnance, ordnance stores, and other munitions of war, saddles, harness, and army supplies, will be enrolled and returned to their work: provided the Chief of the Ordnance bureau, or some ordnance officer authorized by him for the purpose, shall certify that the number of operatives required by the officer in charge of such establishment, or by such contractor for government work, is reasonable, and not excessive. Such certificate will be presented to the enrolling officer, who will thereupon make the detail of the men specified for a period not exceeding sixty days, and return the certificate to the commandant of conscripts. At the expiration of such detail, the officer in charge of the government shop, or the contractor in whose employment said conscripts are, shall cause said certificates to be renewed, or return the conscripts to the nearest camp of instruction. If the certificate be not renewed, or the conscripts be not returned, no other detail shall be granted to such establishment or contractor. In all cases of details for contractors, the party requesting the detail shall make affidavit that the persons so detailed will not be employed on any other than government work, which affidavit shall be returned to the commandant of conscripts; and if it be found that at any time such detailed conscripts are employed by said contractors upon work for private individuals, the detail shall be cancelled by the commandant of conscripts.

Paragraph I, General Orders, No. 50, current series, is hereby revoked.

X. TO WHOM APPLICATIONS FOR EXEMPTION MUST BE ADDRESSED.

Applications for exemption must, in all cases, be made to the enrolling officer, from whose decision an appeal may be taken to the commandant of conscripts. The department will not consider the application until it has been referred by the latter officer.

XI. SUBSTITUTES.

1. When a person claims exemption on the ground that he has put a substitute in service, he must exhibit to the enrolling officer a discharge from some company, signed by the commanding officer of the regiment or command to which the said company belongs, or then belonged (see General Order, No. 26), or an exemption signed by the commandant of conscripts. And if the said discharge or exemption do not show that it was granted in consideration of a substitute having been furnished, such fact must be certified in writing by the commanding officer of the regiment or command to which the company belongs, or by the commandant of conscripts, as the case may be.

But in all cases arising within thirty days from the date of this order, the enrolling officer may grant the exemption upon satisfactory proof that the party furnished a substitute, who was actually received into the service of the Confederate States for three years or the war, and the substitute is not liable to military service. Such exemption may at any time be cancelled, if fraud or mistake be discovered.

2. Paragraph II, General Order, No. 29, current series, is hereby revoked. No person under eighteen years of age, or not domiciled in the Confederate States, or not of good moral character, or who is liable under the existing order to enrolment as a conscript, shall be received as a substitute.

And in all cases in which a substitute becomes subject to military service, the exemption of the principal, by reason of the substitution, shall expire.

Any person subject to enrolment, who desires to furnish a substitute, may, at any time before enrolment, or before he is assigned to a company and sent from the camp of instruction, present a substitute at such camp. And if the substitute be capable of bearing arms, and be of good moral character, and not within the prohibited classes, he shall be received, and the principal shall be exempt from military service.

XII. VOLUNTEERING.

All persons liable to conscription may, before enrolment, volunteer in companies in service on the 16th April, 1862. But after enrolment they can not volunteer, nor can they at any time volunteer in companies received into service since the 16th of April, 1862.

XIII. MISCELLANEOUS.

1. All impressments of men by regimental, battalion, or company commanders, under any pretence whatever, are prohibited, it being the design of the department to supply the army exclusively through the officers appointed by this act.

2. All the laws and regulations applicable to deserters shall be applied to such conscripts as fail to repair to the place of rendezvous for enrolment, or who shall desert after enrolment.

3. All the agencies employed for the apprehension and confinement of deserters, and their transportation to the commands of their respective commanders, shall be applicable to persons liable to duty as conscripts who shall fail to repair to the place of rendezvous after the publication of the call.

By order.

This on John's island, on or about the night of the 9th of June, 1862.

II. The court, after full deliberation on the testimony in the case, found the accused "guilty of the charge;" and submitted their proceedings to the Secretary of War, by whom they have been laid before the President, whose orders thereupon are as follows:

Other attendants not herein provided for, necessary to the service, shall be allowed as now provided by law.

9. If a sufficient number of nurses and wardmasters not liable to military service can not be employed, and it shall become necessary to assign to this duty soldiers in the service, then, upon the requisition of the medical officer in charge of a hospital, the soldiers so assigned who are skilful and competent shall be permanently detailed to this duty, and shall only be removable for neglect or inattention, by the medical officer in charge.

10. Hospitals will be known and numbered as hospitals of a particular state. The sick and wounded, when not injurious to themselves or greatly inconvenient to the service, will be sent to the hospitals representing their respective states, and to private or state hospitals representing the same.

11. The Quartermaster-General will have arrangements made with the railroad companies to reserve seats in one or more cars, as may be necessary, for the use of the sick and wounded soldiers and their attendants to be transported; and until they are seated to prevent other persons from entering those reserved cars; and also to require conductors of the trains to provide for the use of the sick and wounded in the reserved cars a sufficient quantity of pure water.

12. Medical officers in charge of hospitals will detail an attendant to accompany the sick and wounded, furloughed, discharged, or transferred, to railroad depots, to see that they are cared for and provided with seats in the reserved cars.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, November 27, 1862.

Commandants of conscripts will cause the following order to be published for at least seven times in a sufficient number of newspapers in each state of the Confederacy to insure its reaching every part of the country:

I. All commissioned officers and enlisted men who are now absent from their commands from any other cause than actual disability, or duty under orders from the Secretary of War, or from their department commanders, will return to their commands without delay.

II. Commissioned officers failing to comply with the provisions of the foregoing paragraph within a reasonable length of time, in no case to exceed twenty days after the publication of this order, shall be dropped from the rolls of the army in disgrace, and their names will be furnished to the commandant of conscripts for enrolment in the ranks.

III. All enlisted men who shall fail to comply with the provisions of paragraph I of this order, within a reasonable length of time, shall be considered as deserters, and treated accordingly: their names to be furnished to the commandant of conscripts in their state for publication, or such other action as may be deemed most efficacious.

IV..In order to insure the efficient co-operation of all concerned to carry this order into immediate effect, department commanders are directed to require from the commanding officer of each separate command in their departments a prompt report of the names of all commissioned officers and enlisted men now absent from their commands. These reports must state in each case the cause of absence; and any regimental, battalion, or company commander who shall neglect to furnish such a report, or who shall knowingly be guilty of concealing any case of unauthorized absence shall, on conviction thereof, be summarily dismissed.

V..Under the provisions of the 2d clause of paragraph II of General Orders, No. 82, commissioned officers and privates who are incapable of bearing arms in consequence of wounds received in battle, but who are otherwise fit for service, are required, if not otherwise assigned, to report to the nearest commandant of conscripts in their respective states, who will, if they are fitted for such duty, assign them to the collection of stragglers and the enforcement of the provisions of this order, with full powers to call upon the nearest military authority for such assistance as may be necessary thereto.

VI..Officers of the Quartermaster's department charged with payment of troops are hereby directed not to pay any commissioned officer, non-commissioned officer, or private who does not furnish satisfactory evidence that he is not liable to the penalties described in the foregoing order. Any disbursing officer who shall make payment in violation of this order shall be liable on his bond for the amount of such payment.

II..Arms must not be carried from the camp, nor will mounted men in camp be permitted to ride their horses except upon duty.

III..Private property is invariably to be respected, and must not be taken or used, except when indispensable for the public service, and then only by orders of competent authority, and in the manner pointed out in the Army Regulations and orders of the Quartermaster and Commissary departments.

Commanders of troops of whatever grade should, by the exercise of diligence and strict discipline, endeavor to prevent such results, entailing, as they will, poverty upon individuals, and useless expense on the government. Fencing ought not to be disturbed

I. A Court of Inquiry having been convened, November 14, 1862, at Richmond, Va., by direction of the President, and under Special Orders, No. 265, paragraph XXXV, from the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, "to report upon the charge of fraud and peculation against an officer in the Bureau of the Commissary-General, which appeared in an editorial of the Richmond Examiner of October 20, 1862, entitled 'The Commissary Department: how purchases are made;'" and having made the required examination and report, the result is, by direction of the President, published for the information of all concerned:

FINDINGS OF THE COURT.

II. The court, having maturely considered the evidence adduced, finds the following facts proved:

1. That by the Revenue laws of the State of Virginia a license is required to be taken out by cattle dealers; and every person who buys to sell again must either take out such license himself, or employ the services of a cattle dealer, who is, of course, entitled to the customary compensation for his services.

2. That the cattle in this case were consigned for sale to Mr. John G. Moffit, a licensed cattle dealer in the City of Richmond.

3. That Mr. John G. Moffit was in the employment of the Commissary department, to make purchases for its use, at a regular stated salary.

4. That the sale was made to the Commissary department through Mr. John G. Moffit, the parties being fully apprised of his relation to the department in the transaction of the 29th July, 1862.

5. That before the sale, and while the cattle were still in the hands of the owners, Mr. Jonathan H. Haymond was informed by Mr. Moffit, in answer to a suggestion made by him, that the usual commission of one dollar per head, and one per centum on the amount of sale, would be deducted from the gross price of the cattle, and would be retained by the government for its own benefit.

6. That on the 30th July, 1862, the parties met at the office of the Commissary-General in this city, to make the settlement and receive their money — when the settlement was made, showing the number of cattle and the gross amount of purchase money, from which the commissions, amounting to one hundred and ninety dollars and thirty-nine cents ($190 39), were deducted as a credit to the government, and the net balance, amounting to nine thousand six hundred and forty-nine dollars and one cent ($9,649 01), was paid to the owners; for which amount, and that only, a receipt was taken.

7. That the commission of one hundred and ninety dollars and thirty-nine cents ($190 39) enured to the benefit of the government, and not to that of any of its employees.

8. That all of the parties interested in the cattle were entirely satisfied with the propriety of the deduction, and yielded a cheerful acquiescence thereto, except Mr. Haymond, who did not attend at the time of settlement, or make known his objection to any one in the Commissary department, until, on the Saturday preceding the 20th December, 1862, he applied to the Commissary-General, when, not being satisfied with the result of his interview, he complained to the associate editor of the Richmond Examiner.

9. That there is no fact or circumstance disclosed or suggested, tending to show any fraud or speculation committed or attempted, but on the contrary, that great and exemplary zeal and devotion to the public service were evinced by all the officers and employees of the Commissary department.

III. The court, having accomplished the business before it, is hereby dissolved.

II. Whenever, in the opinion of the commanding officer of a military department, the object of the fourth paragraph of General Orders, No. 72, has been for the time being accomplished, by sufficiently reducing the number in hospital, he may suspend the sessions of the medical boards until the condition of the sick and wounded renders it expedient to reassemble said boards.

III.. Officers charged with the duty of enrolling conscripts are hereby instructed that the resignation of officers does not, of itself, exempt the party resigning from the provisions of the Conscript law. All such persons are subject to enrolment and examination in common with other parties of conscript age.

I.. At a Court of Inquiry, convened at Staunton, Va., December 3, 1862, by virtue of Special Orders, No. 278, paragraph XIX, from the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, Richmond, to examine and report upon certain charges and imputations against Colonel M. G. HARMAN, 52d Virginia volunteers, respecting his conduct while acting as quartermaster at Staunton, Virginia, and also as enrolling officer at the same place, the following report and finding of facts were duly made, and are now published for the information of all concerned :

II..REPORT AND FINDINGS OF THE COURT.

The court, * * * having considered the evidence adduced, respectfully reports, that immediately after its organization the Recorder addressed a note to the Hon. A. H. H. STUART, requesting an interview for the purpose of obtaining specific information upon the subject of its inquiry. The interview was declined, but the desired information was set forth in a letter from that gentleman, which was in part adopted by the court as a basis of its investigation. This communication, to which special reference is here made, appears in the records, beginning at page 3.

The court declined to receive any testimony upon points not affecting Colonel HARMAN as quartermaster and enrolling officer at Staunton, although evidence was tendered by him to overthrow every imputation brought to the knowledge of the court. It will be perceived, upon inspecting the record, that several of these alleged improprieties refer to a period when Colonel HARMAN was not in the service of the Confederate States, and were not, therefore, questions within the jurisdiction of the court.

In the 4th specification of rumors contained in Mr. STUART's letter to the court it is asserted that Colonel HARMAN sold hay, pasturage, corn, and wood to the government, and employed government teams in hauling the wood and hay, contrary to the 963d regulation. The proof, however, shows that these articles were purchased by Captain PEYTON, a quartermaster at Staunton, at lower rates than could be had elsewhere. It was also proven that a few loads of wood were hauled by the government teams, at the instance of Captain PEYTON, to relieve the immediate wants of the government, and without the knowledge or consent of Colonel HARMAN. These facts do not, in the judgment of the court, constitute a violation of the regulations above cited; but whatever construction may prevail upon this point, the court is satisfied that the transaction was without fraud, to the interest of the government, and unworthy of further consideration.

The court was unable to procure the least evidence in support of any other charge than the one just disposed of, although every person mentioned by Mr. STUART as likely to possess information was examined, except when the person disclaimed such knowledge after appearing before the court in obedience to its summons.

The record will also show that diligent but fruitless efforts were made to obtain information from other sources than those suggested by Mr. STUART; and it is but just to state that every facility that the defence could render to help forward the investigation was promptly and cheerfully accorded.

In the opinion of the court, Colonel HARMAN has discharged the responsible duties devolved upon him with a zeal, fidelity, and intelligence rarely observed. His official conduct in those departments of the service respecting which it has been the duty of the court to inves-igate furnishes an example worthy of all imitation, alike creditable to himself and advantageous to the government.

III.-The above-named Court of Inquiry, in the case of Colonel M. G. HARMAN, 52d Virginia volunteers, is hereby dissolved.

RICHMOND, December 22, 1862.

I. The attention of the army is called to General Orders, No. 52, from this office, requiring commanding officers to report the facts and circumstances of "extraordinary valor and skill" displayed by officers and soldiers, which may entitle them to recommendation to the President for promotion to vacancies in their companies, as provided by the act of April 21, 1862; and due observance of said order is enjoined on all concerned.

II. The 52d Article of War directs that "any officer or soldier who shall misbehave himself before the enemy, run away, or shamefully abandon any fort, post, or guard which he or they may be commanded to defend, or speak words inducing others to do the like, or shall cast away his arms and ammunition, or who shall quit his post or colors to plunder and pillage, every such offender, being duly convicted thereof, shall suffer death, or such other punishment as shall be ordered by the sentence of a general court martial."

The enforcement of the foregoing article is enjoined on all officers and non-commissioned officers of the army; and in order the better to carry its provisions into effect it is hereby made the duty of all company commanders to see that the company roll is regularly called before and after each battle; and to arrest, and, whenever proper, report for trial by court martial all absentees who are without the requisite excuse.

The number of the Confederate army who bring disgrace upon it by a violation of the article above quoted is happily small; and it is, therefore, the more incumbent that their disreputable conduct should be exposed and punished, and the fair name of the large number who respect its honor and character be thus publicly vindicated.

of the Secretary of War of the Confederate States of America, to General H. W. Halleck, General-in-chief of the United States army, informing the latter that a report had reached this government that Wm. B. Mumford, a citizen of the Confederate States, had been executed by the United States authorities at New Orleans for having pulled down the United States flag in that city before its occupation by the forces of the United States, and calling for a statement of the facts, with a view to retaliation, if such an outrage had really been committed under sanction of the authorities of the United States :

“And whereas (no answer having been received to said letter) another letter was, on the 2d August last (1862), addressed by General Lee, under my instructions, to General Halleck, renewing the inquiry in relation to the said execution of said Mumford, with the information that in the event of not receiving a reply within fifteen days it would be assumed that the fact alleged was true, and was sanctioned by the government of the United States :

“And whereas an answer, dated on the 7th August last (1862), was addressed to General Lee by General H. W. Halleck, the said General-in-chief of the armies of the United States, alleging sufficient cause for failure to make early reply to said letter of 6th July, asserting that ‘no authentic information had been received in relation to the execution of Mumford, but measures will be immediately taken to ascertain the facts of the alleged execution,’ and promising that General Lee should be duly informed thereof :

“And whereas on the 29th November last (1862) another letter was addressed, under my instructions, by Robert Ould, Confederate agent for the exchange of prisoners, under the cartel between the two governments, to Lieutenant-Colonel W. H. Ludlow, agent of the United States under said cartel, informing him that the explanations promised in the said letter of General Halleck, of 7th of August last, had not yet been received, and that if no answer was sent to the government within fifteen days from the delivery of this last communication, it would be considered that an answer is declined :

“And whereas, by letter dated on the third day of the present month of December, the said Lieutenant-Colonel Ludlow apprised the said Robert Ould that the above-recited communication of 29th of November had been received and forwarded to the Secretary of War of the United States :

“And whereas this last delay of fifteen days allowed for answer has elapsed, and no answer has been received :

“And whereas, in addition to the tacit admission resulting from the above refusal to answer, I have received evidence fully establishing the truth of the fact that the said William B. Mumford, a citizen of this

Confederacy, was actually and publicly executed in cold blood by hanging, after the occupation of the City of New Orleans by the forces under the command of General Benjamin F. Butler, when said Mumford was an unresisting and non-combatant captive, and for no offence even alleged to have been committed by him subsequent to the date of the capture of the said city :

“And whereas the silence of the Government of the United States, and its maintaining of said Butler in high office under its authority for many months after his commission of an act that can be viewed in no other light than as a deliberate murder, as well as of numerous other outrages and atrocities hereafter to be mentioned, afford evidence only too conclusive that the said government sanctions the conduct of said Butler, and is determined that he shall remain unpunished for his crimes :

“Now, therefore, I, JEFFERSON DAVIS, President of the Confederate States of America, and in their name, do pronounce and declare the said Benjamin F. Butler to be a felon, deserving of capital punishment. I do order that he be no longer considered or treated simply as a public enemy of the Confederate States of America, but as an outlaw and common enemy of mankind, and that in the event of his capture, the officer in command of the capturing force do cause him to be immediately executed by hanging ; and I do further order that no commissioned officer of the United States, taken captive, shall be released on parole before exchange, until the said Butler shall have met with due punishment for his crimes :

“And whereas the hostilities waged against this Confederacy by the forces of the United States under the command of said Benjamin F. Butler have borne no resemblance to such warfare as is alone permissible by the rules of international law or the usages of civilization, but have been characterized by repeated atrocities and outrages, among the large number of which the following may be cited as examples :

“Peaceful and aged citizens, unresisting captives, and non-combatants have been confined at hard labor, with balls and chains attached to their limbs, and are still so held in dungeons and fortresses. Others have been subjected to a like degrading punishment for selling medicines to the sick soldiers of the Confederacy.

“The soldiers of the United States have been invited and encouraged by general orders to insult and outrage the wives, the mothers, and the sisters of our citizens.

“Helpless women have been torn from their homes and subjected to solitary confinement, some in fortresses and prisons, and one, especially, on an island of barren sand, under a tropical sun ; have been fed with loathsome rations that had been condemned as unfit for soldiers, and have been exposed to the vilest insults.

“Prisoners of war, who surrendered to the naval forces of the United States, on agreement that they should be released on parole, have been seized and kept in close confinement.

“Repeated pretexts have been sought or invented for plundering the inhabitants of the captured city by fines, levied and exacted under threat of imprisoning recusants at hard labor with ball and chain.

“The entire population of the City of New Orleans have been forced to elect between starvation, by the confiscation of all their property, and taking an oath against conscience to bear allegiance to the invaders of their country.

“Egress from the city has been refused to those whose fortitude withstood the test, even to lone and aged women and to helpless children; and, after being ejected from their homes and robbed of their property, they have been left to starve in the streets or subsist on charity.

“The slaves have been driven from the plantations in the neighborhood of New Orleans till their owners would consent to share the crops with the Commanding General, his brother, Andrew J. Butler, and other officers; and when such consent had been extorted the slaves have been restored to the plantations, and there compelled to work under the bayonets of guards of United States soldiers.

“Where this partnership was refused, armed expeditions have been sent to the plantations to rob them of everything that was susceptible of removal, and even slaves too aged or infirm for work, have, in spite of their entreaties, been forced from the homes provided by the owners, and driven to wander helpless on the highway.

“By a recent General Order (No. 91) the entire property in that part of Louisiana lying west of the Mississippi river has been sequestered for confiscation, and officers have been assigned to duty, with orders to ‘gather up and collect the personal property, and turn over to the proper officers, upon their receipts, such of said property as may be required for the use of the United States army; to collect together all the other personal property, and bring the same to New Orleans, and cause it to be sold at public auction to the highest bidders’—an order which, if executed, condemns to punishment, by starvation, at least a quarter of a million of human beings of all ages, sexes, and conditions; and of which the execution, although forbidden to military officers by the orders of President Lincoln, is in accordance with the confiscation law of our enemies, which he has directed to be enforced through the agency of civil officials. And, finally, the African slaves have not only been excited to insurrection by every license and encouragement, but numbers of them have actually been armed for a servile war—a war in its nature far exceeding in horrors the most merciless atrocities of the savages.

“And whereas the officers under the command of the said Butler have been, in many instances, active and zealous agents in the commission of these crimes, and no instance is known of the refusal of any one of them to participate in the outrages above narrated :

“And whereas the President of the United States has, by public and official declaration, signified not only his approval of the effort to excite servile war within the Confederacy, but his intention to give aid and encouragement thereto, if these independent states shall continue to refuse submission to a foreign power after the first day of January next; and has thus made known that all appeals to the laws of nations, the dictates of reason, and the instincts of humanity would be addressed in vain to our enemies, and that they can be deterred from the commission of these crimes only by the terms of just retribution :

“Now, therefore, I, JEFFERSON DAVIS, President of the Confederate States of America, and acting by their authority, appealing to the Divine Judge in attestation that their conduct is not guided by the passion of revenge, but that they reluctantly yield to the solemn duty of repressing, by necessary severity, crimes of which their citizens are the victims, do issue this my proclamation, and, by virtue of my authority as Commander-in-chief of the armies of the Confederate States, do order—

“1st. That all commissioned officers in the command of said Benjamin F. Butler be declared not entitled to be considered as soldiers engaged in honorable warfare, but as robbers and criminals, deserving death; and that they and each of them be, whenever captured, reserved for execution.

“2d. That the private soldiers and non-commissioned officers in the army of said Butler be considered as only the instruments used for the commission of the crimes perpetrated by his orders, and not as free agents; that they therefore be treated, when captured, as prisoners of war, with kindness and humanity, and be sent home on the usual parole, that they will in no manner aid or serve the United States in any capacity during the continuance of this war, unless duly exchanged.

“3d. That all negro slaves captured in arms be at once delivered over to the executive authorities of the respective states to which they belong, to be dealt with according to the laws of said states.

“4th. That the like orders be executed in all cases with respect to all commissioned officers of the United States, when found serving in company with armed slaves in insurrection against the authorities of the different states of this Confederacy.

“[L. S.] In testimony whereof, I have signed these presents, and caused the seal of the Confederate States of America to be affixed thereto, at the City of Richmond, on this 23d day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two.

(Signed) JEFFERSON DAVIS.”

By the President :

J. P. BENJAMIN, Secretary of State.

HEAD-QUARTERS, DEPARTMENT S. C., GA., AND FLA.,
Charleston, S. C., January 1, 1864.

The foregoing INDEX of General Orders from the War department was prepared under my supervision, by Lieutenant EDMUND KEARNY, A. D. C.

THOMAS JORDAN,
Brigadier-General, and Chief of Staff.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 1. }

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, January 3, 1863.

I..The following Orders are published for the information of the army:

All white male citizens of the Confederate States, between the ages of 18 and 40, who are not exempt by the Act of October 11, 1862, are liable to conscription; and all such as have been already enrolled and mustered will be held as though in service of the Confederate States until otherwise ordered. Exemption will not take place until after enrolment when enrolling officers will grant certificates of exemption in all cases clearly within the meaning of the act. All doubtful cases for exemption will be referred for decision to commandants of camps of instruction, and, if necessary, by them to the Chief of the Bureau of Conscription in Richmond. Such cases will not be required to report in person to the camp of instruction until final action is had on the same.

II..Enrolling officers are required to be vigilant in the discharge of their duties within the districts confided to them, not only in respect to the enrolment of conscripts, but also in the apprehension and arrest of stragglers and deserters from the army. Complaints having been made of harsh treatment to conscripts by enrolling officers in certain localities, which treatment is calculated to prejudice the cause of the Confederate States by encouraging opposition to the acts of conscription, it will be the duty of commandants of camps of instruction to report to the Secretary of War for discharge from conscript service any officer who shall offend in this particular. It is required of all enrolling officers to encourage and promote a good understanding with the people of the district in which they may be serving; and it is impressed on them that firmness of purpose, tempered with kindness and forbearance, will best promote the objects to be attained.

III..Enrolling officers will furnish to commandants of camps of instruction at the end of each month a complete roll of the conscripts made by them during the month. Such rolls will also embrace the names of persons who have been enrolled and exempted within that period. One copy of these rolls will be immediately forwarded by the commandants of camps of instruction to the Chief of the Bureau of Conscription in Richmond, for file and future reference.

IV..All commissioned officers between the ages of eighteen and forty who have become disconnected with the army by the operation of General Orders, Nos. 48 and '96, of 1862, or by reason of non-re-election, resignation, or dismissal, unless actually disabled (of which they must furnish evidence); are subject to conscription; and while substitutes between the above ages, and who are not embraced in the provisions of the exemption law, will be held in service to the end of the terms for which they have engaged, the principals within the same ages for whom the substitute may have engaged to serve will be liable to conscription.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector-General.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 2. }

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, January 3, 1863.

I..The following Orders are published for the information and guidance of all concerned:

Recognizing the necessity of officers of railroads having full control of their business, in order to ensure safety and despatch in transportation, military officers are prohibited from interfering with the engines, cars, running of trains, or with the control and management, in any way, of railroads.

II..When transportation of troops or freight by railroad is necessary, a quartermaster or other authorized officer shall make requisition for the same upon the superintendent or proper officer of the railroad, furnishing the necessary evidence of transportation, and delivering the troops or freight to be transported.

III..In the event that more freight is to be transported over any road than the road has the ability to carry promptly, the officer furnishing evidence of transportation will indicate to the railroad officer what shall take precedence. In the absence of any special order as to what freight shall go first, the railroad officer shall be governed by any general order the Quartermaster-General may issue in regard thereto.

IV..Where troops or freight is to be removed out of the usual routine of a railroad, the officer having charge of such movement will fix with the superintendent or other officer of the road on which the movement is to be made the day and hour of departure; and when so fixed, the roops or freight must be ready at the appointed time.

V..In the event of any military necessity for an unusual movement at any particular point, the commanding officer at such point will communicate fully the character and extent of service to the principal officer of the road or roads from which it is required, and ask the personal supervision of the proper railroad officers to the duty.

VI..Quartermasters and commissaries will exercise discretion in shipping freight not wanted for immediate use, and that may be stored at safe and convenient points, taking care not to block up roads and thereby impede transportation.

VII..When it is necessary to send a special messenger with freight, such messenger must travel with the freight placed in his charge, and his transportation shall be so specified on its face, in order to prevent him from travelling in any other way.

VIII..Enrolling officers will permit conscripts, enrolled while in the employment of railroads, to remain at their duties until Col. William M. Wadley, A. A. G., decide as to who of them it is necessary should be detailed for service on the road.

IX..Any violation of these orders, or remissness on the part of railroad officers to perform promptly all government transportation, will be reported to Col. William M. Wadley, A. A. G., who will indicate from time to time where his head-quarters will be.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND. January 9, 1863.

I..The attention of officers is called to the 34th article of Army Regulations, and especially to those paragraphs of the article which relate to the channel of military correspondence. It is no exaggeration to state that nearly one-third of the correspondence received at the War department and at this office, from officers of the army and others in the military service, comes directly from the writers, without passing through the prescribed channel. Therefore, all indirect communication with the department is prohibited; and where it is attempted, either in person or by letter, the application will be referred to the proper military commander before action is taken on it, and instructions will at the same time be given to bring the offender to trial for violation of the regulations and orders respecting military correspondence. These regulations were made after long experience. They have been found indispensable, and must be observed.

II. Not only are all papers and applications to be forwarded through the regular channels of communication, but the officers through whom they come, and who are generally supposed to be informed on the merits of the case presented, are required to express their opinions thereon, either in approval or disapproval. These opinions are frequently important to the department, and the rule which prescribes them must not be overlooked.

Such persons, if within conscript ages, will be enrolled, and furnished with certificates exempting them during the continuance of their appointments. I. With the exceptions hereinafter named, all outstanding authorities issued from the War department to recruit persons of conscript age into regiments, battalions, or companies not in service on the 16th day of April, 1862, will be held as terminated from and after the 10th day of March next.

Any new organization that shall meantime have been completed up to the legal standard of a regiment, battalion, or company, as may have been specified in the original authority issued, will be reported before the 10th of March to the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, for muster and reception into service.

The organization itself failing of completion, the material within conscript ages (including officers) of such parts as shall have been enrolled for the special service will be reported to the local commandants of conscripts, respectively, for enrolment and conscription. These commandants will, however, cause to be allowed to the persons thus transferred, previous to enrolment, the privilege of volunteering in companies that were in service on the 16th of April, 1862.

II. From the operation of this order are excepted new companies or corps in process of organization under authority issuing from the War department of a date later than the 10th of December, 1862, and all such as may have been authorized to be recruited from material found within districts possessed by the enemy, or in which the conscript law has been suspended by the President, or in which the regular execution of the conscript law is, from the vicinity of the enemy, unattainable.

III. All officers and persons acting under authority, now and hereafter, to recruit new organizations, will report to the commandants of conscripts in their respective states the names of those persons who are employed by them in enlisting recruits. In the absence of such official evidence, the enrolling officers will not recognize the authority claimed.

With a view to determine the military state of certain persons in the army, who have left their regular commands and joined others, under the impression that they had a right so to do, but are claimed as deserters under existing laws, the following orders are published :

I. Persons who joined new companies at the expiration of their first term of service, under the act authorizing re-enlistments for the war, will be continued in their present companies, provided the facts do not show an intention to desert their former commands; also all paroled prisoners whose term of service had expired, and who enlisted in new companies under the provisions of General Orders, No. 44, Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, Richmond, June 17, 1862, will be continued in their present companies.

II. All persons who have really deserted, and have joined other companies, will be returned to their original commands; and the benefit of this order is to be strictly limited to cases arising from a misconception of rights and duties under the re-enlistment and conscript laws.

III. The privilege heretofore exercised by troops on the battle-field, of exchanging their small arms and field pieces for those captured from the enemy, is hereafter forbidden, and the prohibition will be strictly enforced by commanders. Disasters may easily result from a disregard of this necessary order. All such exchanges must be made by proper authority, and with a due regard to the efficiency of the troops. Captured arms and artillery will be turned over to the chief ordnance officer, and be assigned, whenever practicable, to the troops to whom the general shall, on testimony, award their capture.

"The chief of ordnance of each army corps or department will be held responsible that these returns are forwarded to the Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance at Richmond within twenty days after the receipt of this order, and will thereafter see that the returns required by paragraph 1348, Army Regulations, are regularly forwarded.

II.. "All ordnance and ordnance stores, including cavalry equipments captured from the enemy by partisan rangers, shall be assessed by competent officers, under orders of the commanding general, entered upon the rolls, and paid for by any ordnance officer, upon receipt for the money from the men entitled to the property, and a property certificate signed by the officer commanding the company, squadron, battalion, or regiment of rangers, as the case may be." The rolls must state distinctly the company, battalion, or regiment to which the arms are assigned, in order that the commanding officer of the same may be charged with the property on the books of the treasury.

III.. Paragraphs 117, 118, and 119, Army Regulations (being contrary to law), are hereby revoked; and no enlisted man in the service of the Confederate States will be employed as a servant by any officer of the army.

V.. In making such payments, quartermasters will estimate the amount due in each case at two and a half cents per mile for the distance the soldier would, if upon furlough, be compelled to travel to and from his home.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE
RICHMOND, February 23, 1863.

The following additional instructions are published for the guidance of the medical officers and surgeons composing the boards of examination for conscripts:

I..In their examination of conscripts, they must exercise a sound and firm discretion, and not yield their judgment in favor of every complaint of trivial disability, by attaching too much importance to which they indirectly favor evasions of the required military service.

II..As a general rule, it may be received that where a conscript is equal to all the active duties of the various occupations of civil life, he is able to discharge the duties of a soldier.

III..Temporary exemption is so liable to abuse, and to be resorted to as a means of evasion, that the examining surgeon must fix the period for which it is granted (which, with the reasons therefor, will be stated in the monthly report), at the expiration of which period the conscript must present himself for examination, or be considered absent without leave.

IV..The following are some of the grounds not deemed sufficient and satisfactory for exemption:

1. General debility.—The grades of this condition are numerous, and on receiving them all as grounds for exemption, the examining surgeon can not be considered as discharging his duty to the service. In arriving at a correct judgment upon this point, he will be aided by the consideration that observation has by no means established that a so called high standard of health is best adapted to encounter the exposures of military life, such physical condition being especially liable to disease; while health of a lower grade, without any coexisting positive disease, is frequently strengthened and improved by the exposures incident to the life of a soldier.

2. In case of slight deformity, natural, or the result of accident and irregular union of fractures, unless material impairment of power and motion results from such deformity, the conscripts must be held liable for military service.

3. Deafness.—This is not a valid reason for exemption, unless so excessive (which must be stated in the monthly report) as to incapacitate a man for the duties of a sentinel. The fact of its existence must also be established by the affidavit of a respectable physician, who has known the conscript to be the subject of the infirmity.

4. Impediment of speech.—Unless of a very aggravated character, is not a valid reason for exemption.

5. Heart disease (organic).—Organic disease of the heart being comparatively infrequent, the physical and rational signs should be scrutinized with great care, and the subject of examination should not be excused unless the case is satisfactorily established.

6. Functional disturbance of heart's action.—This is very common—not a valid ground for exemption, and will generally be relieved by change to the life of the camp.

7. Rheumatism.—The kind should be designated, whether acute or chronic, articular or muscular. It is a complaint liable to be used as a means of evasion. Where it is simply muscular, without swelling or contraction of the joints, and the general health of the conscript is otherwise sound, he should be held liable to military duty.

8. Epilepsy.—This disease being frequently simulated, so as to impose upon a careless observer, nothing less than the observation of an actual paroxysm, or the affidavit of a responsible physician acquainted with the conscript, should be deemed satisfactory by the examining surgeon.

9. Varicocele.—Not a ground for exemption, unless excessive; which must be stated in the monthly report.

10. Myope.—Not a ground for exemption. Many myopic subjects distinguish distant objects with accuracy sufficient for all practical purposes.

11. Hemorrhoids.—As many invalids in civil life, subjects of this disorder, are engaged in active occupations, they should not, unless excessive (which must be stated in the monthly reports), be considered satisfactory grounds for exemption.

12. Opacity of one cornea, or the loss of one eye.—Not valid grounds for exemption.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

I..Paragraph IV of General Orders, No. 47, of 1862, was designed to apply solely to the cases of officers whose commands had reorganized for the war, agreeably to the acts of Congress, No. 306, of December 11, 1861, and No. 397, of February 15, 1862, where the officers of such reorganized commands had been re-elected to the same grade of rank they held in those commands prior to their reorganization, and before the passage of the Act of April 16, 1862, commonly known as the "Conscription act."

In all reorganizations of commands under this last-named act (April 16, 1862), the officers will take rank from the date of the act, and their relative rank with each other in the same grade will be regulated by the date of their former commissions in the service.

II. Officers of the army who are dropped from the rolls, cashiered by courts martial, or whose resignations are accepted, and who may thus become liable to military duty under the conscription acts, will, when present with their commands, be at once enrolled by their respective brigade commanders. When not so present, their names will be furnished by their commanding officers to the proper enrolling officer of the district to which they belong, or in which they reside: provided, that any officer so liable to enrolment may select in his former command any company from his own state in which to be enrolled.

I. The following Act of Congress and Regulations to enforce the same are published for the information of all persons concerned:

CHAP. LXII.—An act to protect the rights of owners of slaves taken by or employed in the army.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That every person connected with the army or navy of the Confederate States, arresting or coming into possession of any slave by capture from the enemy, or otherwise than by lawful authority, shall immediately report the same to the commanding officer of the post, or brigade, or station to which he may be attached. The said commanding officer shall, with as little delay as practicable, send the slaves so reported to the nearest depot described in the next section, with a register of the place and date of their arrest: provided, however, that the said slaves, or any of them, may at once be delivered to their respective owners, if claim is made and established on satisfactory evidence.

SEC. 2. The Secretary of War shall establish depots for recaptured slaves at convenient places, not more than five in number, in each state; and all slaves captured in such state shall be kept in such depots. Public notice shall be given of the places so selected.

SEC. 3. Lists of the slaves in each of such depots, showing the name and color of such slaves, the place and time of their arrest, and the names of their owners, as given by themselves, or otherwise ascertained, shall be regularly advertised in each state in one or more newspapers of general circulation.

SEC. 4. While such slaves are in depot they may be employed, under proper guard, on public works; but no slave shall be removed from the depot to which he is first carried for at least one month after the first advertisement of his being there, nor then, unless an exact register is made of the removal, and due advertisement made in the newspapers as aforesaid.

SEC. 5. Free access shall be permitted to all persons desiring to inspect the said slaves for the purpose of identifying them and establishing ownership; and upon due proof they shall be immediately restored to the persons claiming them.

SEC. 6. It shall further be the duty of the Secretary of War to require the names of all slaves in the employment of an officer or soldier of the Confederate army or navy, with the names and residence of their owners, and of the person by whom hired out, and of the officer or soldier hiring, to be reported to his department, and a full register thereof to be kept for public inspection.

SEC. 7. The President shall prescribe regulations for carrying this act into effect, and provide for the subsistence of said slaves while in such depots. [Approved October 13, 1862.]

The following Order of General Robert E. Lee is adopted by the War department, and is republished for the information and government of all concerned :

“To avoid the danger, if not the certainty, of frequent collisions, and the consequent destruction of life and property, as well as obstruction to all transportation, it is absolutely necessary that the movements of railroad trains should be under one undivided control.

“These considerations make it imperative that all trains should be regulated in their movements and speed only by their conductors and engineers, in accordance with the regulations and time tables of the company.

“All the operations of a road should be controlled by its superintendent, or other authorized officer; and all orders for transportation of every kind, and the movement of every train, will be directed through him, when the exigencies of the service demand a variation from the regular schedule.

"Disregard of this rule will inevitably be attended with disastrous consequences."

RICHMOND, March 12, 1863.

I..No regiment, battalion, squadron, or company will be disbanded from the army prior to expiration of service, without express authority obtained from the War department.

II..Brigadier-generals will not be detached from their brigades, nor colonels from their regiments, except on ordinary temporary duty, without the special authority of the War department.

III..The appointment of officers of the army being vested by the Constitution in the President, by and with the advice and consent of Senate, commanding and other officers are hereby cautioned against assumption of this authority. All payments made to persons appointed as officers by military commanders will be charged against the disbursing officers making such payments.

IV..The impositions attempted to be practised on officers of the Quartermasters' department, charged with paying troops, call for the following regulation in respect to the payment of officers absent from their proper commands, viz: regimental quartermasters will furnish to officers of their regiments about to leave their commands on detached duty certificates of last payment made by them to such officers; which certificates will be deposited with the pay officer making the next payment, who will, on such further payment, give the officers a like certificate. Payments to officers absent from their appropriate commands, except those placed on detached duty by competent authority, and sick and wounded officers absent by like authority, are expressly prohibited.

V..General hospitals will be under the supervision and control of medical directors specially selected for the purpose, and announced as such in orders from this office. Medical directors of armies, army corps, and departments, will not interfere with this arrangement in respect to the general hospitals.

All communications in the ascending line will be passed through the several intermediate commanders, until they reach the officer having the final control. For example: communications from the members of a company will pass through the commander of the company; thence to the commander of the battalion or regiment; thence to the commander of the brigade; thence to the division commander; next to the commander of the army corps; and finally to the General commanding-in-chief, for their several remarks; and, if further reference be required, to the Adjutant and Inspector-General.

VII..All recommendations from officers of the army for military appointments to be conferred will, besides giving the character and qualifications of the person recommended, name the state in which he was born, and of which he claims to be a citizen.

In consequence of numerous applications made by various persons to the War department, it is obvious that some misconception in regard to the instructions of the Secretary of War in relation to the impressment of supplies must exist on the part of the people, or that the agents of the government have violated their instructions: now, therefore, for the purpose of removing such misconception, and to prevent any violation of those instructions, it is hereby ordered:

I..That no officer of the government shall, under any circumstances whatever, impress the supplies which a party has for his own consumption, or that of his family, employees, or slaves.

II..That no officer shall at any time, unless specially ordered so to do by a general commanding, in a case of exigency, impress supplies which are on their way to market for sale on arrival.

III..These orders were included in the instructions originally issued in relation to impressment by the Secretary of War; and the officers exercising such authority are again notified that "any one acting without or beyond" the authority given in those instructions will be held strictly responsible.

IV. . When non-commissioned officers, musicians, or privates, entitled to furloughs under the act of December 11, 1861, or that of April 16, 1862, have died, or may hereafter die, before the receipt thereof, their personal representatives shall be allowed the commutation value of transportation from the point where such parties die to their homes and back.

V. . When non-commissioned officers, musicians, or privates, entitled under either of the preceding acts to a furlough, shall have been, or may hereafter be, promoted to the rank of commissioned officers prior to the receipt thereof, they shall be allowed the same commutation as is provided in the previous paragraph, or, when they go on leave, the transportation in kind, at their option.

VI. . Claims arising under paragraph I will be settled by the Second Auditor; those under paragraph II by officers of the Quartermasters' department. In the latter class, the facts must be attested by the certificate of the commanding officer of the regiment to which the claimant belonged at the date of his promotion.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, April 6, 1863.

I. The following act of Congress, concerning "impressments," and the instructions of the War department respecting it, are published for the information and direction of all concerned:

"Whenever the exigencies of any army in the field are such as to make impressments of forage, articles of subsistence, or other property, absolutely necessary, then such impressments may be made by the officer or officers whose duty it is to furnish such forage, articles of subsistence, or other property, for such army. In cases where the owner of such property and the impressing officer can not agree upon the value thereof, it shall be the duty of such impressing officer, upon an affidavit in writing of the owner of such property, or his agent, that such property was grown, raised, or produced by said owner, or is held or has been purchased by him, not for sale or speculation, but for his own use or consumption, to cause the same to be ascertained and determined by the judgment of two loyal and disinterested citizens of the city, county, or parish in which such impressments may be made—one to be selected by the owner, one by the impressing officer; and, in the event of their disagreement, these two shall choose an umpire of like qualifications, whose decision shall be final. The persons thus selected, after taking an oath to appraise the property impressed fairly and impartially (which oath, as well as the affidavit provided for in this section, the impressing officer is hereby authorized to administer and certify), shall proceed to assess just compensation for the property so impressed, whether the absolute ownership or the temporary use thereof only is required.

“SEC. 2. That the officer or person impressing property as aforesaid, shall, at the time of said taking, pay to the owner, his agent, or attorney, the compensation fixed by said appraisers; and shall also give to the owner, or person controlling said property, a certificate, over his official signature, specifying the battalion, regiment, brigade, division, or corps to which he belongs, that said property is essential for the use of the army, could not be otherwise procured, and was taken through absolute necessity; setting forth the time and place when and where taken, the amount of compensation fixed by said appraisers, and the sum, if any, paid for the same. Said certificate shall be evidence for the owner, as well of the taking of said property for the public use, as the right of the owner to the amount of compensation fixed as aforesaid. And in case said officer or person taking said property shall have failed to pay the owner or his agent said compensation as hereinbefore required, then said owner shall be entitled to the speedy payment of the same by the proper disbursing officer; which, when so paid, shall be in full satisfaction of all claim against the Government of the Confederate States.

“SEC. 3. Whenever the appraisement provided for in the first section of this act shall, for any reason, be impracticable at the time of said impressment, then and in that case the value of the property impressed shall be assessed as soon as possible by two loyal and disinterested citizens of the city, county, or parish wherein the property was taken, chosen as follows: One by the owner and one by the Commissary or Quartermaster-General, or his agent, who, in case of disagreement, shall choose a third citizen of like qualifications as an umpire, to decide the matters in dispute, who shall be sworn as aforesaid, who shall hear the proofs adduced by the parties as to the value of said property, and assess a just compensation therefor, according to the testimony.

“SEC. 4. That whenever the Secretary of War shall be of opinion that it is necessary to take private property for public use, by reason of the impracticability of procuring the same by purchase, so as to accumulate necessary supplies for the army, or the good of the service, in any locality, he may, by general order, through the proper subordinate officers, authorize such property to be taken for the public use; the compensation due the owner for the same to be determined and the value fixed as provided for in the first and second sections of this act.

“SEC. 5. That it shall be the duty of the President, as early as practicable after the passage of this act, to appoint a commissioner in each state where property shall be taken for the public use, and request the Governor of such of the states in which the President shall appoint said commissioner to appoint another commissioner, to act in conjunction with the commissioner appointed by the President, who shall receive the compensation of eight dollars per day, and ten cents per mile as mileage, to be paid by the Confederate government. Said commissioners shall constitute a board, whose duty it shall be to fix upon the prices to be paid by the government for all property impressed or taken for the public use as aforesaid, so as to afford just compensation to the owners thereof. Said commissioners shall agree upon and publish a schedule of prices every two months or oftener, if they shall deem it proper; and in the event they shall not be able to agree in any matter confided to them in this act, they shall have power to appoint an umpire to decide the matter in dispute, whose decision shall be the decision of the board; and said umpire shall receive the same rate of compensation for the time he shall serve allowed to said commissioners respectively: Provided, that said commissioners shall be residents of the state for which they shall be appointed; and if the Governor of any state shall refuse or neglect to appoint said commissioner within ten days after a request to do so by the President, then the President shall appoint both commissioners, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

“SEC. 6. That all property impressed, or taken for the public use, as aforesaid, in the hands of any person other than the persons who have raised, grown, or produced the same, or persons holding the same for their own use or consumption, and who shall make the affidavit as hereinbefore required, shall be paid for according to the schedule of prices fixed by the commissioners as aforesaid. But if the officer impressing or taking for the public use such property, and the owner, shall differ as to the quality of the article or property impressed or taken as aforesaid, thereby making it fall within a higher or lower price named in the schedule, then the owner or agent and the officer impressing or taking, as aforesaid, may select each a loyal and disinterested citizen, of the qualifications as aforesaid, to determine the quality of said article or property, who shall, in case of disagreement, appoint an umpire of like qualifications, and his decision, if approved by the officer impressing, shall be final; but if not approved, the impressing officer shall send the award to the commissioners of the state where the property is impressed, with his reasons for disapproving the same, and said commissioners may hear such proofs as the parties may respectively adduce, and their decision shall be final: Provided, that the owner may receive the price offered by the impressing officer, without prejudice to his claim to receive the higher compensation.

“SEC. 7. That the property necessary for the support of the owner and his family, and to carry on his ordinary agricultural and mechanical business, to be ascertained by the appraisers, to be appointed as provided in the first section of this act, under oath, shall not be taken or impressed for the public use; and when the impressing officer and the owner can not agree as to the quantity of property necessary as aforesaid, then the decision of the said appraisers shall be binding on the officer and all other persons.

“SEC. 8. Where property has been impressed for temporary use, and is lost or destroyed, without the default of the owner, the Government of the Confederate States shall pay a just compensation therefor, to be ascertained by appraisers appointed and qualified as provided in the first section of this act. If such property when returned has, in the opinion of the owner, been injured while in the public use, the amount of damage thereby sustained shall be determined in the manner described in the third section of this act, the officer returning the property being authorized to act on behalf of the government; and upon such inquiry, the certificate of the value of the property, when originally impressed, shall be received as prima facie evidence of the value thereof.

“SEC. 9. Where slaves are impressed by the Confederate government to labor on fortifications, or other public works, the impressment shall be made by said government according to the rules and regulations provided in the laws of the state wherein they are impressed; and in the absence of such law, in accordance with such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, as the Secretary of War shall from time to time prescribe: Provided, that no impressment of slaves shall be made when they can be hired or procured by the consent of the owner or agent.

“SEC. 10. That previous to the first day of December next, no slave laboring on a farm or plantation exclusively devoted to the production of grain and provisions, shall be taken for the public use, without the consent of the owner, except in case of urgent necessity.

“SEC. 11. That any commissioned or non-commissioned officer or private who shall violate the provisions of this act, shall be tried before the military court of the corps to which he is attached, on complaint made by the owner or other person; and on conviction, if an officer, he shall be cashiered and put into the ranks as a private; and if a non-commissioned officer or private, he shall suffer such punishment, not inconsistent with military law, as the court may direct.”

II. .1. By the authority of the Act of Congress aforesaid, the Secretary of War hereby recognizes impressment as a legal and operative mode of securing necessary supplies of subsistence, medical and quartermasters' stores for the armies of the Confederate States in the field, and to accumulate them in magazines, posts, and depots, owing to the impracticability of procuring them by contract.

2. Impressments may be made under orders from generals commanding armies, departments, corps, divisions, brigades, and by commanders of detached parties and posts, when a necessity arises; which orders may be executed by quartermasters, commissaries, or medical purveyors and their subordinates, for their respective departments. The Quartermaster-General, Commissary-General, and Surgeon-General, may designate the officers and persons who shall be competent to make impressments to accumulate supplies at posts and depots.

3. No officer or agent shall impress the necessary supplies which any person may have for the consumption of himself, his family, employees, slaves, or to carry on his ordinary mechanical, manufacturing, or agricultural employments.

4. Before any impressment of property shall take place, the impressing officer, or his agent, shall make an offer, addressed to the owner, his bailee, or other agent, to purchase the property, describing the property he wishes to purchase, the price to be paid, and the mode of payment, whether in money or by certificate, and stating that upon the refusal of the price offered, that compensation for the property will be made according to the Act of Congress aforesaid for the regulation of impressments; which notice shall bind the said property until the completion of the negotiation for the sale or appropriation thereof, so that there can be no removal or transfer of the same.

5. In the event of the refusal of the price offered, the impressing officer shall proceed to settle the compensation to be paid, according to the first section of the act aforesaid, if the property belongs to a person who has grown, raised, or produced the same, or who holds or has purchased the same for his own use or consumption; but the said property shall be paid for according to the fifth section of the act aforesaid, if the property is held for sale or other purposes than those before mentioned.

6. That the property shall remain in the possession of the owner, his bailee, or agent, and at his risk, during the pendency of the proceedings for the ascertainment of the compensation, unless it shall be otherwise agreed to, or unless some urgent necessity shall require the possession of the property to be changed. In case of a change of possession, the Confederate States shall be regarded as the owner, and the property shall be held for their account and risk.

7. The impressing officer shall, at the date of the impressment, pay to the owner, his agent, or attorney in fact, the compensation agreed upon, if it be practicable; but if he cannot do so, he shall give a certificate, according to the second section of the act aforesaid; which shall be paid upon presentation to the disbursing officers, who shall be designated for that purpose.

8. Impressments which shall be made before the appointment of the commissioners designated in the fifth section of the act aforesaid, shall, notwithstanding, be legal, and in the cases provided for by that section a portion of the property shall be retained as samples, so that the price may be settled and compensation adjusted according to the provisions of the same.

To simplify the manner of effecting discharges and furloughs, the following Orders, condensed from those heretofore issued, are published for the government of the army :

I. When a soldier, present with his regiment or company, shall be unfit for military service in consequence of wounds, disease, or infirmity, his captain shall forward to the commander of the department or of the army in the field, through the regimental, brigade, and other commanders, a statement of the case, with "certificates of disability," that he is totally unfit for service, signed by the surgeon of the battalion or regiment, according to the form prescribed in the Medical Regulations. If the recommendation for the discharge of the invalid be approved by the department or army commander, he will endorse the order for the discharge upon the "certificate of disability," which will be sent back, to be signed by the commanding officer of the regiment or battalion to which the invalid soldier's company belongs, and afterward forwarded by the captain to the Adjutant and Inspector-General. The "discharge" will be signed by the regimental or battalion commander, and "final statements" by the company commander.

II..When the soldier, present with his command, is certified to be laboring under temporary disability, which requires his removal or a change of climate, the commander of the department or of the army in the field may grant a furlough of thirty days, which, in extreme cases, may be extended by him to sixty days.

III..When a soldier is absent from his company, battalion, or regiment, in hospital, and is unfit for military service, for reasons set forth in paragraph I of these Orders, the commandant of the post, upon the recommendation of an examining board, to consist of two or more medical officers, established by the commandant of the post (or if there be no such board, the senior surgeon of the hospital), may grant him a furlough for thirty days, subject to extension by the commander of the department or army in the field, when he will make out "certificates of disability," and send them to the commander of the company, to be forwarded by him as prescribed in the preceding paragraph. But when access to commanders is difficult and attended with great delay, and the case is urgent, the certificates of disability may be forwarded by the surgeon directly to the Surgeon-General, for his approval; which being given, the discharge will be authorized from the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, and the surgeon will make out "final statements."

IV..When a soldier, absent from his command, certified by the surgeon or assistant surgeon of the army to be unfit for present duty and that his health requires his removal or change of climate, the commander of the post, if access to the commander of the department or of the army in the field be difficult, may grant the soldier a furlough, not to exceed thirty days, and submit the application for a longer period, if necessary, to the general to whose command the soldier may belong; or, without granting the furlough, he may refer it to the discretion of such commanding general.

V..In every case where a soldier has been discharged under paragraph III, by orders from the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, and the "descriptive list" and "final statements" can not be had, he will be mustered for payment upon hospital rolls by the surgeon in charge, upon his affidavit, taken before one or more witnesses, that he has not received pay for the period for which he claims it to be due, and that he is not indebted to the Confederate States government beyond the amount stated by him.

VI. Due notices of all furloughs and discharges granted under these orders will be forwarded, through department and army commanders, to the Adjutant and Inspector-General, and to the immediate commander of the company to which the soldier belongs.

VII. All orders heretofore issued relating to furloughs and discharges for the causes aforesaid, are hereby revoked.

Charge: Violation of the 20th Article of War.

Specification: That the said Private Granville S. McCutchen, Company C, 22d Virginia volunteers, on or about the seventh day of May, 1862, on the march from White Sulphur Springs, in Greenbrier, to Jackson's river depot, in Alleghany county, Va., did desert his company and regiment, and remained absent therefrom until about the eighth day of January next ensuing, when he was arrested and brought back to his company and regiment.

II.—Finding and Sentence of the Court.

Having maturely weighed and considered the evidence adduced, the court find the accused as follows:

Of the Specification of the Charge: Guilty.

Of the Charge: Guilty.

And do therefore sentence him to be shot to death by musketry, at such time and place as the commanding general may appoint.

III. The proceedings, finding, and sentence in the foregoing case having been laid before the Secretary of War, for the decision of the President, the following orders are made thereon :

To justify a general charge of violation of an Article of War, some offence must be defined and prohibited, or some duty prescribed in the article. But the 20th Article of War merely denounces the punishment to be inflicted for desertion, and a charge of its violation is obviously too indefinite and uncertain to justify action. The defect is fatal, and vitiates the whole proceedings, which are therefore set aside.

Private McCutchen will be released from confinement and returned to duty. It is hoped that his accidental escape from punishment will have a good effect, and induce him hereafter to conduct himself as becomes a soldier in the defence of his country.

I..The attention of regimental commanders throughout the army is called to the requirements of paragraph I, General Orders, No. 69, of 1862, which makes it the duty of adjutants to inquire into and report to this office all cases of slaves serving with their respective regiments without written authority from their masters. It is especially required of all regimental commanders to enforce a due observance of said order, which is hereby extended to include commanders of posts and senior surgeons of hospitals, who will make similar reports, so far as they relate to their respective commands, to those required from adjutants of regiments.

II..It will be the duty of a surgeon in charge of a hospital to make a separate provision return for all the persons attached to the hospital who may be entitled to rations, except the sick and wounded soldiers, and the issuing commissary will issue to said persons the same rations that are issued to soldiers in the field. These rations will not be commuted, if the commissary can issue in kind. If he can not issue in kind, the ration may be commuted, at sixty cents per ration, on the certificate of the surgeon as to the dates and facts.

Separate and distinct provision returns will be made for the sick and wounded soldiers in the hospital, according to the form hereunto annexed, marked A. No portion of the subsistence stores drawn for the sick and wounded will be otherwise appropriated.

The attention of the medical directors and inspectors is particularly directed to this prohibition.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

RICHMOND, May 19, 1863.

I..At a court of inquiry convened at Richmond, Virginia, by virtue of Special Orders, No. 102, of April 27, 1863. from the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, "To examine and inquire into certain allegations, set forth on papers to be laid before the court, against Colonel Robert H. Chilton, Assistant Adjutant-General C. S. Army, which allegations he conceives impugn his character as an officer," and also to "report the facts of the case, and their opinion thereon," the following report of facts was made; and having been submitted by the court, with their opinion thereon, as required, the same are approved by the Secretary of War, and are now published for the information of all concerned:

II..Finding and Opinion of the Court.

On a careful examination of the testimony adduced in this case, the court find the following facts:

1st..That on the 11th July, 1862, Colonel R. H. Chilton, then on the staff of General Lee, commanding the Army of Northern Virginia, as Adjutant and Inspector-General, did write a letter to General Cooper, Adjutant and Inspector-General of the Army, impeaching the professional ability of Major-General Magruder, denying his fitness for responsible command, and urging a revocation of the order assigning him to the Trans-Mississippi Department.

2d..That Colonel Chilton incorporated in that letter an offer to make good his allegations before a court of inquiry.

3d..That the letter was communicated to the President by General Cooper.

4th..That being apprised of this disposition of the letter, Colonel Chilton immediately furnished Major-General Magruder a copy of so much of it as contained his (Colonel Chilton's) strictures on Major-General Magruder's official conduct and capacity.

OPINION.

The court is of opinion that, in his communication to General Cooper, dated July 11, 1862, Colonel Chilton was actuated by no unworthy motive, but by a laudable regard for the public interest, and that his conduct in the transaction was such as became an honorable and patriotic officer.

III..The court of inquiry in the case of Colonel R. H. Chilton, C. S. Army, is hereby dissolved.

I..The following schedules of prices for articles named therein, adopted by commissioners appointed pursuant to law, for the States of Virginia and Georgia respectively, are announced for the information of all concerned; and the special attention of officers and agents of the government is directed thereto :

II..VIRGINIA.

[Copy.].—SCHEDULE A.

Hon. Jas. A. Seddon, Secretary of War :

SIR: The commissioners appointed under section 5th, of the bill recently passed by the Confederate Congress, regulating impressments, constitute a board whose duty it shall be to fix upon the prices to be paid by the government for all property impressed or taken for the public use aforesaid, so as to afford just compensation to the owners thereof. Said commissioners shall agree upon and publish a schedule of prices every two months, or oftener, if they shall deem it proper.

In accordance with the foregoing requisition, we respectfully lay before you the following schedule of prices for the ensuing two months. Owing to the difficulty of obtaining satisfactory information as to pork, beef, and materials of clothing, etc., we have postponed their appraisal till our next assessment. It is proper to add that Mr. W. B. Harrison was invited to act as third commissioner, and that this appraisal received the unanimous approval of the commissioners.

The following are the maximum prices to be paid for the articles appraised, at all cities and usual places of sale, and when impressed elsewhere, the same prices are to be paid elsewhere, less the cost of transportation to the city or usual place of sale to which the article would go ordinarily for sale from that neighborhood, or less the cost of transportation to the point at which the government needs the article, and wishes it to be sent: provided, that in no case the amount deducted for transportation as above shall exceed 25 cents per bushel for grain, and 25 cents per cwt. for long forage, flour, bacon, iron, etc. In addition to the established price of transportation, the government to pay all legal tolls, and where farmers can not procure nails for baling forage, government to furnish the same at cost, which will be deducted from the established price of baling:

We, the commissioners appointed in accordance with the provisions of the Impressment Act for the State of Georgia, after mature and careful deliberation, have agreed upon the foregoing tariff of prices, which we think fully meets the contemplation of the law in fixing a just compensation for the articles mentioned.

We need not add any thing to the recent patriotic address of our most excellent President as to the duty of producers in this crisis. Blind, indeed, must be the judgment, and cold the patriotism, that will not rally to the support of an army whose glorious triumphs have shed such undying lustre upon our national history. Standing as it does a wall of brass between us and our malignant foes, shall it feel the pinchings of hunger when our granaries are filled to overflowing and our broad fields are waving with rich grain nearly ready for the sickle? The government demands only your surplus supplies, and for them will pay remunerative prices. Fortify the hearts of our soldiers, then, by showing that while they illustrate the chivalry of Georgia upon the tented field, we at home are ready to dispense with all superfluities, relinquish all luxuries, and make any sacrifice necessary to maintain and perpetuate our honor and our liberties. While we may have erred in our judgment as to what is a fair compensation for some of the articles in the above schedule of prices, we feel that we have stood impartially between the government and the producer, and while protecting one have not lost sight of the other. We have omitted to annex prices to certain articles, either on account of their scarcity, or because the government is fully supplied. At the proper time prices will be fixed for all.

RICHMOND, May 22, 1863.

I. The Act of Congress "to provide and organize engineer troops to serve during the war," approved March 20, 1863, and the accompanying rules and regulations for the selection and organization of the same, are published for the information and direction of all concerned :

"SECTION 1. The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That there shall be selected, in such manner as the Secretary of War may direct, from each division of infantry in service, one company of engineer troops, to consist of one hundred men, chosen with a view to their mechanical skill and physical fitness, and that the men assigned to such company shall be required to serve in the same only during the balance of their term of service respectively.

“ SEC. 2. That each company shall consist of eight sergeants, seven corporals, forty artificers, and forty-five laborers, and that two musicians may be added.

“ SEC. 3. That the commissioned officers of each company shall consist of one captain, one first lieutenant, and two second lieutenants, and that the original vacancies in these companies shall be filled by the transfer of officers of corresponding grade from the engineer corps, if practicable, and where not, then from the other corps or from the line or staff of the army, reference being always had to their qualification as engineers, or by selection; but no one shall be selected who is not now serving in or with the army, unless he is a military or civil engineer.

“ SEC. 4. That the companies shall be organized into regiments of ten companies each, and that the field and staff officers shall consist of one colonel, one lieutenant-colonel, one major, one adjutant with the rank of first lieutenant, one quartermaster-sergeant, and one sergeant-major, and that the original vacancies in the regiments shall be filled in the manner provided for filling the same in the companies by the third section of this act, and that the sergeant-major and quartermaster-sergeant shall be selected from the enlisted men of the army.

“ SEC. 5. That in each regiment two of the companies shall be assigned to duty as pontoniers, and each be furnished with a bridge train complete.

“ SEC. 6. That the officer in charge of the Engineer Bureau, subject to the approval of the Secretary of War, shall prescribe the number, form, and dimensions of the wagons, pontoons, trestles, tools, implements, arms, and other necessaries, for all the troops organized by this act.

“ SEC. 7. That vacancies in the established regiments to and including the rank of colonel, shall be filled by promotion, regimentally, according to seniority, except in case of disability or other incompetency.

“ SEC. 8. That the monthly pay of the engineer troops shall be as follows: Of a colonel, two hundred and ten dollars; of a lieutenant-colonel, one hundred and eighty-five dollars; of a major, one hundred and sixty-two dollars; of a captain, one hundred and forty dollars; of a first lieutenant, one hundred dollars; of a second lieutenant, ninety dollars; and the adjutant shall receive ten dollars per month in addition to his pay as lieutenant.

" SEC. 9. That the pay of the enlisted men per month shall be as follows: The sergeant-major and quartermaster-sergeant, each twenty-one dollars; sergeants, thirty-four dollars; corporals, twenty dollars; artificers, seventeen dollars; laborers and musicians, thirteen dollars.

" SEC. 10. That mounted engineer troops may be selected from the cavalry, and be organized according to the provisions of this act, for engineer troops, as hereinbefore specified."

II. The method of selection and organization, under the foregoing act, shall be as follows:

1. The senior engineer officer serving with the commanding general of a department will be authorized by him to organize the engineer companies of the command.

2. Persons recommended by the Engineer Bureau to be appointed as company officers to the respective companies when organized, will be directed to report to the senior officer of engineers in the department, who, aided by them and subject to the approval of the commanding general, shall select from specified divisions, in consultation with their commanders, the required number of men to form the companies.

3. The selections shall be distributed as equally as practicable among all the companies of a division, regard being had to the efficiency of the engineer service. Preference shall be given to volunteers for this special service, provided they possess the requisite qualifications.

4. The non-commissioned officers of each company shall be selected, and the privates classified into artificers and laborers, by the person selected to organize it, subject to the approval of the senior officer of engineer troops, as soon as appointed.

5. The Chief of the Engineer Bureau, after naming the companies, and designating to which regiment they shall be assigned, will recommend to the War department the appointment of company and field officers.

6. Two of the companies of each regiment shall be selected by the senior field officer of engineer troops, subject to the approval of the Chief of the Engineer Bureau, as companies of pontoniers, but, unless provided with bridge trains, to serve as the other companies.

7. Whenever the number of non-commissioned officers and privates falls below sixty in any company, it shall be recruited to its maximum number, as hereinbefore specified.

8. In lieu of the usual return of officers and hired men required of engineer officers, returns of officers and enrolled men, showing the present, absent, and sick, shall be forwarded monthly by the senior field officer of each regiment to the Chief of the Engineer Bureau, who will furnish blank forms for the purpose.

RICHMOND, May 25, 1863.

I. Officers on ordnance duty, when temporarily absent from their posts or positions in the field, under special orders, shall be allowed their personal expenses, to be paid out of the appropriation for ordnance service, in lieu of all allowances for fuel, quarters, and forage for the same period. Each account must be certified to by the party receiving the payment, and approved by the officer under whose orders he acts.

II. Whenever a cavalryman fails and refuses to keep himself provided with a serviceable horse, he may, upon the order of the corps commander, be transferred to any company of infantry or artillery of the same army that he may select. In lieu of such soldiers, others, belonging to the infantry or artillery, who are able to furnish horses and prefer that service, may, in like manner, be transferred, in equal number, to the cavalry.

III. Surgeons will turn over money or other effects of deceased soldiers (except clothing, which will be disposed of as directed by General Orders, No. 49, 1863) to the quartermaster of the regiment to which the soldier belonged, if he died in the field, or to the quartermaster of the post, if he died in hospital, taking therefor receipts and duplicate—one of which will be forwarded by him to the commanding officer of the company of which the soldier was a member, to be sent by him to the family of the deceased, and the other to the Second Auditor of the Treasury. Quartermasters will take up, upon their quarterly returns, money thus paid, specifying the amount left by each deceased soldier, his name, company, and regiment.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

RICHMOND, May 27, 1863.

I..At a general court martial convened at Knoxville, Tennessee, February 20, 1863, by virtue of General Orders, No. 16, Head-quarters Department of East Tennessee, of December 15, 1862, and of which Colonel J. J. Finley, 6th regiment Florida volunteers, was President, was tried:

Captain J. Q. Arnold, 12th battalion Tennessee cavalry, on the following charge and specification:

Charge: Violation of the 9th Article of War.

Specification: In this, that the said John Q. Arnold did willfully, maliciously, and feloniously, and with malice aforethought, kill and murder Major T. W. Adrien, his superior officer, by shooting him with a pistol loaded with powder and ball, which he then and there held in his hand, from which he, the said T. W. Adrien, did die. This at Kingston, Tenn., on or about the 16th day of November, 1862.

To the above charge and specification the accused filed a special plea to the jurisdiction of the court, which, having been overruled by the court, the plea of not guilty was entered.

II..Finding and Sentence of the Court.

The court having maturely considered the case, do find the accused, Captain J. Q. Arnold, 12th battalion Tennessee cavalry, as follows:

Of the Charge: Guilty.

And do therefore (two-thirds of the court concurring) sentence him to be shot to death by musketry.

III..The proceedings, finding, and sentence in the foregoing case having been submitted to the President, the following orders are, by his direction, made therein:

Murder can only be punished under the Articles of War, when incident to some other clearly defined offence. It does not of itself constitute a military crime; and the 33d Article of War provides that, when capital crimes are committed by persons in the military service, they shall be turned over, on demand, to the civil authorities. The 9th article, under which Captain Arnold was tried, requires that the officer against whom violence is offered must be "in the execution of his office." Hence, to take the case out of the 33d article, which is general in its application, and refer it to the 9th, which is special, the murder or killing must be set forth in the specification in such terms as to show that the court has jurisdiction; and this can only be done by alleging, in the words of the article, that the officer was "in the execution of his office." The omission cannot be supplied by evidence, even where no objection is made; for consent can not confer jurisdiction. In the present case, however, objection was made to the jurisdiction of the court over the particular crime alleged, and the point has thus been distinctly presented to the department. Nor does the evidence show Major Adrien to have been clearly "in the discharge of his office" at the time of the killing. On the contrary, it is stated that he was "walking across the street." To be in the execution of his office, the officer must be in the actual discharge of some duty. It is resistance to authority under such circumstances, that the 9th article forbids and punishes. Other offences—such as disobedience, disrespect, mutiny—are made punishable by other articles; and the 9th article seems designed to protect officers in the enforcement of discipline and against resistance while in the execution of that duty. The department can only deal with offences when they are properly presented through the established forms of the service.

The proceedings, finding, and sentence in this case must be set aside, for the reasons stated; but it is supposed that any responsibility that the party has incurred to the civil authorities of Tennessee, is not affected by this proceeding.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

RICHMOND, May 28, 1863.

I. In places where there are three or more hospitals, three surgeons in charge of hospitals, or divisions in hospitals, shall constitute a board of examiners for the hospitals to which they belong, whose duty it shall be, twice in each week, to visit said hospitals and examine applicants for furloughs; and in all cases where they shall find an applicant unfit for military duty, either from disease or wounds, and likely so to remain for thirty days or upward, they shall, provided his life or convalescence will not, in their opinion, be endangered thereby, grant a furlough for such time, not to exceed sixty days, as they shall deem he will be unfit for duty.

II. There will be detailed for each board herein constituted, from one of the hospitals visited by them, a competent clerk, who will issue furloughs, to be signed by the senior member of the board; which will specify therein the length of furlough, the place of residence of the soldier, his company, regiment, and brigade; and no further formality shall be required of the soldier, and no passport other than his furlough.

III..In every case furloughed under the provisions of this order, a medical certificate stating the name, company, regiment, and brigade of the soldier, his place of residence, and the length of furlough, with the full particulars of the disease, wound, or disability, and the period during which he has suffered from its effects, with an opinion of the time which will elapse before he can resume duty, must be furnished by the board of examiners to the Surgeon-General: and if such furlough has been improperly granted, the derelict officer will be held responsible before a military tribunal.

IV..The board aforementioned will also examine applicants for discharge from the service, in hospitals visited by them, and may recommend a discharge when a soldier is deemed permanently unfit for service in the field or in any department of the army, in consequence of wounds, disease, or infirmity; in which case certificates of disability, signed by the senior member of the board, and approved by the general commanding the army or department to which the soldier belongs, or by the Surgeon-General, will entitle him to a discharge, to be granted by the commandant of the post, who will complete and forward the "certificates of disability" to the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office. The surgeon in charge of the hospital will make out "final statements." The soldier will receive transportation to the place of his enlistment or residence.

V..In places where there are but two hospitals, two surgeons in charge of a hospital or division shall constitute a board for the purposes aforesaid; and in places where there is but one hospital, the surgeon in charge and two assistant surgeons, if there be two, and if not, then one, shall constitute a board for the purpose aforesaid, and may furlough, and recommend discharges, as herein prescribed.

VI..Where a soldier has been discharged under the provisions of this order, and his "descriptive list" and "final statements" can not be procured, he will be mustered by the surgeon in charge on the hospital rolls, for payment, upon his affidavit, taken before one or more witnesses, that he has not received pay for the period for which he claims it to be due, and that he is not indebted to the Confederate States beyond the amount stated by him.

VII..Notices of all furloughs issued under these orders will be forwarded weekly by the board of examiners, and notices of all discharges from service, by commandants of posts, to the immediate commander of the company to which the soldier belongs, and to the Adjutant and Inspector-General.

VIII..The house surgeon in all hospitals shall see each patient under his charge once every day.

IX..Paragraphs III, IV and V, General Orders, No. 51, current series, from this office, pertaining to matters herein regulated, are rescinded.

X..Boards of examiners and post commandants have no power to grant an officer leave of absence. They can only recommend it, upon the usual surgeon's certificate, for the consideration of the commanding officer of the army or department to which the officer belongs.

AN ACT TO ABOLISH SUPERNUMERARY OFFICERS IN THE COMMISSARY AND QUARTERMASTER'S DEPARTMENTS.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact; That the office of regimental commissary be and the same is hereby abolished, and the duties heretofore devolved by law upon said commissary shall be performed by the regimental quartermaster; provided, that said quartermaster shall, if required by the Secretary of War, execute a new bond, with such additional penalty as he may require.

"SEC. 2. That the commanding officer of a regiment or battalion shall, when the good of the service in his opinion requires it, detail a non-commissioned officer or private as commissary sergeant, who shall be assigned to the regimental quartermaster to perform the duties now performed by commissary sergeants; and the non-commissioned officer or private so detailed shall receive, as extra pay, twenty dollars per month.

"SEC. 3. That the regimental quartermasters acting as commissaries shall draw supplies for their respective regiments on Provision Returns, Form 14, and not in bulk; and when detached from their brigades, so that it is impracticable to draw supplies from the brigade commissary, it shall be the duty of the nearest brigade or post commissary to supply his regiment on Provision Return 14.

"SEC. 4. Sales to officers shall be made by the brigade commissaries to which such officers are attached.

"SEC. 5. That quartermasters and commissaries, assistant quartermasters and assistant commissaries, who become permanently detached from divisions, brigades, or regiments to which they are originally appointed and assigned, respectively, whether by resignation or otherwise, shall cease to be officers of the army, and their names shall be dropped from the rolls of the army, unless reassigned by a special order of the Secretary of War.

"SEC. 6. That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of War to issue the necessary orders for the earliest practicable enforcement of the provisions of this law; and that he shall communicate to the chiefs of the subsistence and quartermaster's bureaus the names of the commissaries and assistant commissaries, quartermasters and assistant quartermasters retained and dropped from the rolls under this act.

"SEC. 7. That all laws and parts of laws contravening the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed." [Approved May 1, 1863.]

II. Regulations.

1. After this date no appointment will be made of regimental or battalion commissaries in the provisional army. Departmental commanders will direct the transfer, by regimental commissaries, of all money, effects, and property in their hands to the proper regimental quartermasters, who will thereafter discharge the duties of the former, in accordance with the provisions of this act. Until such transfer is perfected, regimental commissaries will continue in the performance of their usual duties; but, after the 31st day of July next, all quartermasters and commissaries, assistant quartermasters and assistant commissaries, who have not been, or may not be, prior to July 31st, specially detailed or assigned to duty, will cease to be officers in the Confederate service.

2. Sales to officers will, after the 31st of July next, be made by the brigade commissary, as required in the 4th section of the act; and to enable him to do so, the brigade commander will select and report to the War department, through the usual channel, the best qualified regimental commissary of his brigade, for assignment to duty with the brigade commissary. It shall be the special duty of the commissary thus assigned to receive supplies in bulk, and to make the usually required sales to officers of the army. He will be under the immediate direction of the brigade commissary, will receipt to him for all property received, and make through him the proper reports and returns of his transactions.

3. In cavalry regiments a lieutenant of cavalry or other competent officer may be detailed, when necessary, to aid the regimental quartermaster in the discharge of such additional duties as may be devolved upon him under the operation of this law.

4. Additional bonds will not be required of regimental quartermasters charged with commissary duties, except where directed by the Secretary of War.

I..At the military court held for the army corps of Major-General Samuel Jones, at Gray Sulphur Springs, Virginia, May 5, 1863, was arraigned and tried :

Captain Wm. S. Rowan, Company A, 60th Virginia volunteers, on the following charges. (The specifications being numerous and lengthy, are omitted in this order.)

Charge 1st : Violation of the 83d Article of War.

Charge 2d : Violation of the 99th Article of War.

II..Finding and Sentence of the Court.

Having maturely considered the evidence adduced, the court find the accused, Captain Wm. S. Rowan, Company A, 60th Virginia volunteers :

Of the 1st Charge : Guilty.

Of the 2d Charge : Guilty.

And do therefore sentence him to be dismissed the service of the Confederate States.

III..The proceedings, finding, and sentence in the foregoing case have been submitted to the Secretary of War, to be laid before the President, and the following orders are now made thereon :

The charges are both too defective to sustain a trial. Neither the 83d nor the 99th Article of War defines any offence whatever, nor do they direct the performance of any duty. No violation of either of those articles can properly be charged.

Under the 83d Article, the only charge to be preferred is "conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman;" and under the 99th, "conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline." The specifications would then have been responsive to the charges, and would have sustained a trial and sentence in accordance with the evidence.

IV..For the reasons above assigned the proceedings must be set aside, and Captain Rowan will be released from arrest and restored to duty. The record discloses facts very disgraceful to him; but it is hoped that his accidental escape from deserved punishment may result in a determination to retrieve his character as a citizen and officer of the army.

I.. At the military court held for the army of Lieutenant-General Polk, at Shelbyville, Tenn., April 14, 1863, was tried:

Captain W. W. W. Wood, Company L, Blythe's regiment of Mississippi volunteers, on the following charge and specifications:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman.

Specifications: The 1st and 3d are omitted. The 2d is as follows:

Specification 2: In this, that the said Captain W. W. W. Wood, Company L, Blythe's Mississippi regiment of volunteers, remained in camp four days preceding and during the battle of Murfreesboro', but came to his company the day after said battle, to wit, January 1, 1863, and took command of his company until a part of the regiment, his company included, was ordered forward to support the sharpshooters who were in front of the line of battle, when said Captain W. W. W. Wood, Company L, Blythe's Mississippi regiment, made a pretext to Lieutenant O'Hear, of his company, for momentarily leaving his place. He, the said Captain W. W. W. Wood, Company L, Blythe's regiment, returned to his company no more, but reported to Doctor X. Xaupi, surgeon of said regiment, who refused to excuse him. Nevertheless, said Captain W. W. W. Wood, Company L, Blythe's Mississippi regiment of volunteers, went back to camp, and remained there till forced out on the following morning. All this near Murfreesboro', Tenn., January 1, 1863.

II.. Finding and Sentence.

The majority of the court find the accused, Captain W. W. W. Wood, Company L, Blythe's Mississippi regiment, as follows:

Of Specification 1st: Not Guilty.

Of so much of that part of Specification 2d which charges him with two days remaining away from his company at camp: Guilty.

The whole court find him of the remainder of Specification 2d: Not Guilty.

The whole court honorably acquit him of the 3d Specification, and say: Not Guilty.

The majority of the court find him of the Charge: Guilty, and sentence him to be dismissed the service.

III.. The proceedings in the foregoing case have been submitted to the Secretary of War, to be laid before the President, and the following orders are now made thereon:

Captain Wood was tried on the single charge of "conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman," under which three specifications were laid. The whole court acquit him of the 3d specification. A majority acquit him of the 1st and part of the 2d specification, but find him guilty of the remainder of 2d specification, and guilty of the charge. A portion of the 2d specification is, therefore, all that, in the opinion of the court, sustains the charge. But this finding is altogether too imperfect and uncertain. If the 2d specification refers to separate and distinct offences, it is wholly defective, and should have been set aside before the trial; but if it embraces a single substantive offence, the court can not separate its parts, and find the accused guilty as to one portion and not guilty as to another, unless it is clear that the facts thus separated and established, of themselves constitute the particular offence charged. But this is far from being clear. The looseness and uncertainty of the 2d specification, and the finding thereon, are a sufficient and fatal objection. The whole finding is, moreover, informal and irregular. The judges give lengthy and separate opinions in connection with it, and represent one part of their finding to be by a majority and the remainder by the whole court. It is never desirable to state by what vote the court has arrived at its conclusions, and it is contrary to the practice of courts martial to do so. Upon the whole, the proceedings are set aside, and Captain Wood will therefore be released from arrest and returned to duty.

“ 2. This act shall remain in force for one year from the first day of January, eighteen hundred and sixty-three.” [Approved May 1st, 1863.]

II.. 1. Detailed men in the service of the several military bureaus, other than the clerks described in act No. 52 (clerks employed in public offices in the City of Richmond, by reason of physical disability), will be allowed such sum per day in lieu of rations and all other allowances, not exceeding three dollars, as may be recommended by the officer in charge of such detailed men, and approved by the chief of bureau.

2. The maximum allowance of three dollars will be paid only to the class of detailed men serving at posts or stations without troops, or in counties and towns, or government work-shops.

3. The rate of allowance to men serving in the field, as clerks at headquarters, or on duty in the quartermaster's, ordnance, engineer, commissary, or medical, mining and nitre departments, will be established at such sums per diem as may be recommended by the officer in charge of such men, and approved by the commanding general. rates will not exceed $1 25 per diem, except in special cases of service in the departments above mentioned, when a greater rate may be authorized by the chiefs of bureaus, upon the approval of the commanding general.

4. The extra compensation allowed by the foregoing act will be paid to detailed men by the departments in which they are respectively employed, except medical departments, upon such rolls as may be prescribed; except that payments by the quartermaster's department will be made upon rolls according to Form No. 3, Regulations of the Quartermaster's department. Such payments will be in full of all payments and allowances heretofore paid and allowed to soldiers, except their monthly pay. Payments in the medical department will be made as now, by quartermasters.

5. Shoemakers detailed under the provisions of the act of October 9th, 1862, who may receive the per diem allowance in lieu of rations and other allowances authorized by the act of May 1st, 1863, will also be entitled to the compensation of thirty-five cents per pair for shoes manufactured by them, authorized by the said act of October 9, 1862.

6. All payments to detailed men under the act of May 1st, 1863, will be made from the first day of January, 1863, and will not be continued beyond the 31st of December, 1863; but no payment shall be made to those who have been detailed heretofore, "without pay and allowance as soldiers." From and after 31st May, payments to such men will be made under this act.

7. The approval of the chiefs of bureaus and the sanction of the Secretary of War, required by the above recited act of Congress, will not be necessary in each particular case of detail; but each bureau may, with the approval of the Secretary of War, prescribe general regulations for the payment of the different classes of detailed men in their respective employments.

I.. A court of inquiry having been convened, by direction of the President, on the application of Lieutenant-Colonel Eugene E. McLean, Assistant Quartermaster-General, under Special Orders, No. 282, paragraph XV, of 1862, "to examine into and report upon the conduct of the quartermaster's department of the Army of the Mississippi, while under the control of Lieutenant-Colonel, then Major, McLean;" and having made the required examination and report, the result is, by direction of the President, published for the information of all concerned.

H.. The court having maturely considered the evidence adduced, report, as the

SUMMARY OF FACTS

Regarded by the court of inquiry in the case of Lieutenant-Colonel E. E. McLean, as proved by the evidence elicited, and of record:

1. That the Army of the Mississippi, as commanded by General Braxton Bragg, was an organization separate and distinct from the Army of the West, commanded by Major-General Earl Van Dorn—both these armies, when concentrated at Corinth and Tupelo, being under General Beauregard, as commander of the forces.

2. That the Army of the Mississippi was composed of three army corps, commanded respectively by Generals Bragg, Polk, and Hardee, and of a reserve corps, commanded by General Breckinridge.

3. That the evacuation of Corinth by the Confederate forces under General Beauregard was first fixed for the 28th of May, 1862.

4. That the evacuation of Corinth was postponed to the 29th of May, 1862.

5. That the evacuation of Corinth was accomplished during the night of the 29th and morning of the 30th of May, 1862.

6. That General Bragg relieved General Beauregard in the command of the forces at Tupelo in the latter part of June, 1862.

7. That Lieutenant-Colonel, then Major, McLean, was acting as chief quartermaster of the Army of the Mississippi about the 12th of March, 1862.

8. That Major McLean was appointed chief quartermaster of the Army of the Mississippi by General A. Sidney Johnston on the 30th of March, 1862.

9. That Lieutenant-Colonel McLean was relieved from duty as chief quartermaster of the forces, by General Bragg, on the 4th of July, 1862, at Tupelo, Mississippi.

10. That the Army of the Mississippi, while Lieutenant-Colonel McLean was its chief quartermaster, both at Corinth and Tupelo, was amply supplied with money, clothing, camp, and garrison equipage, wagons, public animals, field transportation in general, and with all quartermaster's stores, with the exception of full rations of forage at Corinth, and of certain other articles which were applied for, and subsequently obtained by the quartermaster's department, or the parties requiring them at the time.

11. That there were, throughout the army, occasional complaints of the want, for a short time, of certain quartermaster's supplies, which the evidence shows were sufficiently accounted for, or promptly supplied, as far as possible, and the circumstances would permit of its being done.

12. That the supply of forage at Corinth was sufficient, though not full, and for a time restricted in amount and kind, owing to the nature of the surrounding country, and other circumstances. While at Tupelo it was ample, the army then being located in the vicinity of a country abounding in forage.

13. That there was but little forage within reach of Corinth by wagon transportation, and that little was consumed at an early day of our occupation of that post and the adjacent counties.

14. That the facilities afforded by the railroads concentrating at that point, especially after their partial abandonment to the enemy, were not sufficient for the transportation of a full supply of forage for the army at Corinth, and at the same time to supply that army with all other quartermaster, commissary, and ordnance stores required, and at the same time meet the sudden and unexpected demands for the transportation of large numbers of troops, the sick, etc.

15. That an abundant supply of corn, and as much long forage as could be found, was purchased by the quartermaster's department, and deposited along the lines of the different railroads for shipment to Corinth; and when cars could be obtained they were generally kept loaded with such forage, ready to be attached to the passing trains.

16. That the railroads were worked to their utmost capacity, but that many cases occurred where, from inability to transport them, the cars found ready loaded with forage were left by the passing trains on the side-tracks of the railroads, and thus detained or delayed in arriving at their place of destination.

17. That all side-tracks required for the efficient working of the different railroads were laid down by the quartermaster's department wherever found insufficient for the accommodation of the increased business of the railroads.

18. That a competent military superintendent of the railroads (a major in the quartermaster's department) was selected by the presidents of the railroads, and, with their concurrence, appointed by General Beauregard, to take upon himself the entire and exclusive control of all the army transportation by railroad, under the immediate supervision of General Beauregard, then commanding the forces.

19. That the quartermaster's department, while under the control of Lieutenant-Colonel McLean, established, and had in successful operation throughout the district of country under his charge, many and extensive manufactories for the supply of the army with quartermaster's stores.

20. That hospitals were erected and otherwise supplied for the use of the army, including that of the Mississippi, and were in many instances furnished and supplied from the stores of the quartermaster's department, while under the control of Lieutenant-Colonel McLean.

21. That artesian wells were, under the direction of Lieutenant-Colonel McLean, successfully bored at Corinth, to supply the army at that place with water.

22. That corrals were established by the quartermaster's department of the Army of the Mississippi, in the rear of the army, for the disabled and worn down public animals, where they were, in large numbers, properly attended and successfully recruited for the service.

23. That, for ordinary purposes, a sufficient and permanent force of negro laborers was employed by the quartermaster's department for loading and unloading the cars at the railroad depots.

24. That, in cases of emergency, sufficient assistance was obtained by details from the army, upon the application of the parties desiring them, as was the case of the post and ordnance department at the evacuation of Corinth.

25. That there was a sufficient number of competent and efficient officers of the quartermaster's department at all times at the railroad depot at Corinth, to superintend and control the railroad transportation of the army during the evacuation of that place.

26. That the transportation operations, on the occasion of the evacuation of Corinth, were expeditiously and successfully conducted by energetic and competent officers of the quartermaster's department, assigned to the special duty of superintending the transportation of army stores and troops from that place by rail.

27. That material aid was rendered by General Bragg and several members of his staff, and some members of the staff of General Beauregard, also by other officers, as well as by Colonel Benton's regiment, and other details from the army.

28. That there was no public property left in Corinth upon the evacuation of the place, except a few tents and broken wagons, some old harness, and some few shells and other ordnance stores; most of which property appears to have been damaged or condemned, or not worth the cost of its transportation under the attending circumstances.

29. That there was a loss of a number of railroad engines and cars loaded with army stores, upon the Memphis and Charleston railroad, on the morning of the 30th of May, 1862, occasioned by the burning of the railroad bridges across the Hatchie and Tuscumbia rivers, in obedience to specific orders given the officers in command at those bridges, to destroy them at a certain hour.

30. That the quartermaster's department had no notice that the bridges were to be destroyed; otherwise the trains lost might have been despatched in time to have passed the bridges, or turned down the Mobile and Ohio railroad, and thus saved.

31. That there was a loss of a train of cars containing certain government property, at Booneville, while standing on the track of the Mobile and Ohio railroad, on the morning of the 30th of May, 1862, occasioned by a raid of the enemy's cavalry, over which the quartermaster's department had no control.

32. That Lieutenant-Colonel McLean was, at one time during his administration of the quartermaster's department of the Army of the Mississippi and other forces, afflicted with a disease, which was local, and not of a nature permanently to disable him from attending to all the duties required of him as chief of his department.

33. That, with the exception of a few days illness at Corinth, about a week previous to the evacuation of that place, Lieutenant-Colonel McLean was not unable, at any time while chief quartermaster of the army, to attend to all the duties which were required of him, and that he did so attend promptly to all the duties devolving upon him at the time.

34. That Lieutenant-Colonel McLean is shown by the evidence to have been prompt, energetic, efficient, courteous, and considerate in the discharge of his duties as chief quartermaster of the army, successively under Generals Johnston, Beauregard, and Bragg, and especially solicitous for the welfare and success of the department entrusted to his charge, and for which he was responsible.

OPINION OF THE COURT.

It is the opinion of this court that, from the facts elicited in the investigation of the conduct of the quartermaster's department of the Army of the Mississippi, while under the control of Lieutenant-Colonel, then Major, Eugene E. McLean, it appears that the department was managed with all the energy, efficiency, forethought, and success which could have been expected under the difficult circumstances attending the sudden concentration of our armies; the unexpected occupation by the enemy of our principal fields of supply; the scarcity of the means of field transportation: the inability to obtain forage within reasonable reach of the army by means of wagon transportation; the failure or inability of the railroads of the country to transport from a distance, when purchased, forage to the army; the closing of the great markets of New Orleans, Memphis, and Nashville; the interference, by agents of other branches of the service, with the departments of purchases of forage, and of transportation, under Lieutenant-Colonel McLean; the original scarcity throughout the country of all supplies needed; the continuance of such scarcity in consequence of the existing blockade of the ports of the Confederacy, and the inexperience of nearly all quartermaster's agents in the beginning of the war.

It further appears from the evidence that, in the arduous duties attending the evacuation of Corinth by the Confederate army under General Beauregard, the quartermaster's department was fully represented by able and efficient officers, present at the railroad depot day and night, and to their activity and judgment is the successful removal of the public stores, for which the quartermaster's department was responsible at that place, mainly attributable. That the quartermaster's department, during the day and night preceding the evacuation, was efficiently aided by the personal exertions of General Bragg and several members of his and General Beauregard's staff, and by the exertions of Colonel Benton's regiment, together with other details from the army.

It also appears from the evidence that the evacuation of Corinth, so far as the quartermaster's department was concerned, was a complete military success, and that although so short a time was allowed to remove the stores, but little property was lost, and that but of small value, being mostly worthless or condemned stores. The severe losses of the engines and cars, together with the public property contained in the latter, destroyed on the morning of the evacuation on the Hatchie and Tusculum bridges, on the Memphis and Charleston railroad, by our troops, and on the Mobile and Ohio railroad, at Booneville, by a raid of the enemy's cavalry, are shown, from the evidence, to be in no way attributable to the quartermaster's department.

The court is also of opinion that the investigation has further shown that, in the conduct of the department committed to his charge, Lieutenant-Colonel McLean was prompt, energetic, and efficient in the discharge of all the duties of his office while chief quartermaster of the army, and that while in the execution of those duties, his instructions to and teachings of his subordinates contributed much to the success attendant on their exertions, and to the introduction and maintenance of the proper system and order in the various branches of the department entrusted to his supervision and control.

III..The court of inquiry, of which Colonel M. Lewis Clark was president, is hereby dissolved.

The second section of the act entitled An act to organize partisan rangers, provides that such partisan rangers, after being regularly received into service, shall be entitled to the same pay, rations, and quarters, during their term of service, and be subject to the same regulations, as other soldiers. The irregularities reported to this department as having been committed by such corps, renders it proper that these corps shall be placed under stricter regulations than those heretofore adopted. The generals commanding the departments in which they are serving are hereby authorized to combine them into battalions and regiments, with the view to bringing them under the same regulations as other soldiers, in reference to their discipline, position, and movements; and the same officers will recommend any further measures for their organization as an integral portion of their commands as will, in their opinion, promote their efficiency and the interests of the service. The general of the department will recommend field officers for the organizations that may be made, to be submitted for the consideration of the President. Such partisan corps as are serving within the enemy's lines are, for the present, excepted from this order.

Charge: Conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline.

Specification 1: In this, that Major-General John P. McCoun, P. A. C. S., being in command of a division serving with "Army of Tennessee," did, without authority, order, through his staff officer, Major Bradford, Assistant Adjutant-General, Captain Olhson, A. C. All this at Shelbyville, Tennessee, on or about the 3d day of February, 1863.

I. The following act of Congress, and the regulations adopted by the department in pursuance thereof, are published for the information of all concerned:

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH A NITRE AND MINING BUREAU.

"SECTION 1. The Congress of the Confederate States do enact, That the officers authorized and appointed under the act entitled An act for the organization of a corps of officers for the working of nitre caves, etc., passed April 11, 1862, together with such additional officers as are authorized by the provisions of this act, shall constitute an independent bureau of the War department, to be entitled 'The Nitre and Mining bureau.'

"SEC 2. Be it further enacted, That said bureau shall have charge of all the duties prescribed in the second section of said act, and shall, beside, be charged with all duties and expenditures connected with the mining of iron, copper, lead, coal, etc., so far as it shall be deemed necessary to supply the military necessities of the country; and the superintendent thereof shall, under the Secretary of War, have full power to make such leases of real estate and purchases of fixtures as are necessary or appurtenant to any mines it may be deemed expedient to open or work on government account; and may also contract, subject to the approval of the Secretary of War, for such supplies, by purchase or otherwise, of all copper, lead, iron, coal, zinc, and such other minerals, as may be required for the prosecution of the war.

"SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That said bureau shall consist of one lieutenant-colonel as superintendent; three majors as assistant superintendents: six captains and ten lieutenants, in which shall be included the officers of the present nitre corps, who shall have the same pay and allowances prescribed for officers of cavalry of the same grades." [Approved April 22, 1863.]

II. The Secretary of War is of opinion that it is necessary to accumulate supplies of iron, in the various military departments, for the repair of railroads, the manufacture of arms, munitions, and materials of war, and for the operations of the quartermaster's, ordnance, and engineer departments, and that experience has shown that the necessary supply can not be obtained by purchase. Impressment, therefore, according to the act of Congress relating to impressments, has become necessary to secure a supply. It is ordered that all impressments that may be made of iron for this purpose, shall be conducted by the chiefs of the quartermaster's, ordnance, engineer, and nitre and mining bureaus, or by officers designated by them, who shall in every instance communicate to the owner the necessity that exists for the use of the property, the disposition of the officers to purchase the same, and an offer to purchase it at a price to be ascertained in accordance with the act relating to impressments, if the parties can not agree upon the same.

III.. And whereas the existing necessity for iron in the departments aforesaid, and for the good of the public service, is such that all practicable measures must be taken to secure an adequate supply, it is further ordered that, whenever it may become necessary to secure the full product of any mine or manufactory, that the same shall be worked for the sole benefit of the Government of the Confederate States. It shall be competent to the chief of either of the departments aforesaid to lease or purchase the same; and in case that the lease or purchase is impracticable, then they are authorized to impress the same for the use of the Confederate States during the war, or while such necessity shall continue.

IV.. That proceedings under these orders will be conducted under the 4th section of the act concerning impressments, and in pursuance of the directions contained in paragraph I.

Whereas, there have been a number of applications to this department for authority to raise companies for local defence and special service, and for instructions as to the method by which such organizations may be made, and the privileges they may claim, the department has adopted the following regulations on the subject:

I.. Companies, battalions, and regiments, composed of persons not within the age of conscription (eighteen and forty), will be accepted as volunteers throughout the Confederacy, under the act of August 21, 1861 (No. 229), for local defence and special service.

II..The organization of corps for local defence must conform to that prescribed for companies, battalions, and regiments of the provisional army. The minimum number for a company of infantry is sixty-four rank and file, and for cavalry sixty. Battalions must consist of not less than five companies, and regiments of ten. Artillery is not desirable. Members of cavalry companies must furnish their own horses, but will receive forty cents per day for their use while in actual service.

III..The muster roll of all such organizations shall specify that the said organizations are raised under this act, and subject to these regulations, and contain a description of the volunteer as to age, residence, and date of enlistment, and the term of enlistment for the war.

IV..Such organizations will not be considered as in actual service, for the purpose of receiving pay or subsistence, except when called for by the President.

V..They will not be called for until a necessity arises for service. They shall not be required to go beyond the limits of the State to which they belong.

VI..They are expected to serve, when called out, only so long as the emergency exists, and then to return to their ordinary pursuits until again called.

VII..Arms and equipments, when not possessed by the members, will, to the extent necessary to supply, be furnished by the Confederate States.

VIII..Should any of them be captured, they shall be claimed as prisoners of war, and all the protection of the government will be extended to them.

IX..Field officers of battalions and regiments to be organized, will be appointed by the President, in accordance with the act aforesaid. Company officers may be elected by the companies, or appointed, as the members may consent.

X..That these organizations will be preferred to and exempt their members from any call of militia.

XI..The commandant of any military post of the Confederate States, the sheriff of any county, or the colonel commanding any militia regiment, or the judge or justice of any county or other court, may certify and return the muster rolls, which must be sent to the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office at Richmond, for acceptance.

XII. In the event of a call by the President, under the law of conscription, on all between the ages of forty and forty-five, those in said organizations subject to such call will be liable to discharge or transfer.

For the information and guidance of those desirous of volunteering for local defence, the law of August 21, 1861, is hereto appended.

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR LOCAL DEFENCE AND SPECIAL SERVICE.

"SECTION 1. The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President be and he is hereby authorized to accept the services of volunteers of such kind and in such proportion as he may deem expedient, to serve for such time as he may prescribe, for the defence of exposed places or localities, or such special service as he may deem expedient.

"SEC. 2. And such forces shall be mustered into the service of the Confederate States for the local defence or special service aforesaid, the muster roll setting forth distinctly the services to be performed, and the said volunteers shall not be considered in actual service until thereunto specially ordered by the President, and they shall be entitled to pay or subsistence only for such time as they may be on duty under the orders of the President, or by his direction.

"SEC. 3. Such volunteer forces, when so accepted and ordered into service, shall be organized in accordance with and subject to all the provisions of the act entitled An act to provide for the public defence, approved March 6, 1861, and may be attached to such divisions, brigades, regiments, or battalions as the President may direct, and when not organized into battalions or regiments before being mustered into service, the President shall appoint the field officers of the battalions or regiments, when organized as such by him."  RICHMOND, June 25, 1863.

All discharges for disability will be held as conditional, dependent upon the disability, and valid only during its continuance. If, on examination, the disability is at any time found to have ceased, the holders will be liable to conscription, to serve the unexpired terms of their enlistments. This regulation applies to substitutes, whether under or over the age of conscription. Their services are due for the war, and the government should not be deprived of them for what proves to be a temporary disability.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
 RICHMOND, June 26, 1863.

I..The senior officer of engineers serving with an army in the field will be held responsible for the proper execution of all duties appertaining to his department; and the orders of the commanding general relating to the engineer service will be communicated through him, and he will recommend to the general commanding the assignments of junior officers of engineers to serve with corps, divisions, and brigades. The engineer officer of highest rank in each assignment will receive the orders of his immediate commander, report to him whatever concerns the engineer service, and communicate to him the orders he receives from the senior engineer. He will also report to the senior engineer all his operations, with sketches, drawings, and maps, for the information of the commanding general, and for transmission to the Engineer bureau.

II...All officers of engineers, and employees under the Engineer department, will communicate through the proper channels with the senior engineer serving with the army in the field, be responsible to him for all public funds and property in their hands, and receive his orders and instructions.

III..The duties of officers of engineers serving with the armies of the Confederate States in the field, camp, or cantonment, are as follows, viz: To make reconnoissances and surveys of the sections of country occupied by our forces, and, as far as possible, of the country held by the enemy, embracing all the information that can be obtained in reference to roads, bridges, fords, topographical, and military features, the character and dimensions of the water-courses, the practicability of constructing fixed and floating bridges, the extent of wooded and cleared lands, and the capacity of the country to supply the general wants of the army; to make detailed examinations and surveys of positions to be occupied for defensive purposes; to select the sites, and form plans, projects, and estimates for all military works, defensive or offensive, viz: field forts, batteries, rifle-pits, lines of infantry cover, military trenches, parallels, saps, mines, and other works of attack and siege; also, works for obstructing rivers and harbors; to prepare such maps and plans as will give a full knowledge of the ground and proposed works, and submit the same to the commanding general for his information and consideration, and forward, through the proper channels, copies of all reports, memoirs, estimates, plans, drawings, and models relating to the duties above enumerated, to the Engineer bureau at Richmond.

IV. . The locations and plans for the works being thus determined, they will be marked out on the ground by the engineers, who will indicate, by stakes, lines, profiles, and other guides, the shape and dimensions of the different parts, for the information and government of those who direct the troops or laborers employed to do the work. When troops are detailed to construct temporary defences, they will be in all cases, commanded by their officers, who will see that the work is done in exact conformity to the plans and directions of the officer of engineers, without regard to rank.

V. . When an officer of engineers is charged with directing an expedition, or making a reconnoissance requiring the support of an escort, without having command of the troops, he will call on the commander of the escort to move with and extend to him all protection necessary to secure the success of the operation.

VI. . Officers of engineers will not assume nor be ordered on any duty beyond the line of their immediate profession, except by special order of the President. In the operations of the armies of the Confederate States, all that appertains to the science of civil or military engineering will be assigned by commanders to the officers of engineers serving with their forces; and with them will rest the responsibility of a proper execution of the works. The labor will be performed, if possible, by details of troops commanded by their officers; in other cases, by hired labor, under the control of overseers employed by the engineer officers.

VII..Officers of engineers will not be required to give other supervision to the fatigue parties or laborers employed in the construction of works than is necessary to indicate, in a clear and distinct manner, to those directing the labor, their plans, and the character of the work to be done.

VIII..The senior officer of engineers serving with a commanding general in the field will transmit to the Engineer bureau at Richmond the reports, plans, and journals called for by paragraph 478, Army Regulations.

By order.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Flowerree, 7th Virginia infantry :

Charge : Drunkenness on duty.

(The specification is omitted as unnecessary.)

Finding.

The court do affirm the plea of the accused, and find him as follows, viz :

Of the Specification : Guilty.

Of the Charge : Guilty.

Sentence.

To be cashiered, and dismissed the service of the Confederate States.

Recommendation of the Court.

The undersigned, the members of the military court for the Department of Virginia and North Carolina, respectfully represent to Lieutenant-General Longstreet, and through him to the President, that they have come to the judgment rendered in this case with reluctance. Though it may be true that this court is vested with all the powers possessed by the special court of inquiry, as it is termed, appointed by act of the Confederate Congress, approved 21st April, 1862, and vested, therefore, with the discretion as to drunkenness in officers possessed by that court, they yet are of the opinion that that court possessed no discretion as to the punishment of officers for drunkenness "on duty." The 45th Article of War prescribes that officers so offending shall be cashiered; and, as that article is not repealed in terms, nor by necessary implication, in the said act of the 21st April, they conceive that that article is still the rule of punishment for such offences; but, as before stated, they have come to that conclusion with reluctance. They find many inducements to a milder sentence. They find that the season and the service were so severe as to excuse, to some extent, the use of ardent spirits. They find that the "duty" upon which this officer was engaged was not such as to require any special exercise of care, conduct, or capacity; and they find that he has established a character which is abundant of promise to the service and the state. For these reasons, therefore, they would have imposed a milder sentence, and especially would not have deprived the Confederacy of his further services in the line of his profession. But in the absence, as they conceive, of such discretion, they can only commend him to the clemency of the Executive, which they hope may be exercised in such abatement of this sentence, at least, as will restore him to his command.

II. The proceedings, finding, and sentence in this case having been laid before the Secretary of War, for the final order of the President, the following decision has been rendered:

The view taken by the court as to the effect of the 45th Article of War in such cases as it provides for, is concurred in; and the proceedings, finding, and sentence of the court are, therefore, approved. But, in consideration of the recommendation of the court, and Lieutenant-General Longstreet, and the gallantry and good character of Lieutenant-Colonel Flowerree, the sentence is remitted, and he will return to duty.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE.

RICHMOND, June 29, 1863.

I. The acts of Congress, passed on the 6th of April, 1863, and dates subsequent thereto, having provided the means of procuring army supplies, notice is hereby given to the people of the Confederate States, and to receiving officers, that, from the date of this publication, no more quartermaster's supplies will be received under the appeal made by the President, and the plan of the Secretary of War annexed thereto. All such supplies, collected or tendered prior to the time above referred to, will be paid for at established rates. Hereafter, supplies will be obtained, as far as practicable, by purchase, and, when necessary, by impressment; and officers, when authorized to resort to impressment, will observe strictly the requirements of law, and the General Orders of the War department, and the regulations of this office founded thereon.

II.. That any officer who shall be authorized, by the act of Congress concerning impressments, or under the regulations of this department pursuant thereto, which have been or may hereafter be made, and who has given the notice required by the same, shall have full power and authority to enter upon any property in which he shall have good reason to suspect any of the articles of produce, goods, merchandise, or other things subject to impressment, may be stored or concealed, in order to obtain or secure the same: and if he shall have reason to believe that they are stored or concealed in any dwelling-house, store-house, or other building to which he is refused access, he may apply to any judge, justice of the peace, or commissioner of a Confederate court, for a warrant to enter upon the same, upon oath of the facts, and describing the objects stored or concealed, and obtain a warrant to search for and secure the same, which warrant shall only be executed in the daytime, and after a demand of the owner or occupant, if the owner or occupant shall then be inhabiting the building aforesaid.

The several Articles of War, with the violation of which the above-named are respectively charged, neither prescribe any duty or define and prohibit any offence. They simply pronounce punishments to be imposed for certain offences. The charge of a violation of such articles is too indefinite to justify punishment under it. The defect is fatal, and vitiates the whole proceedings, which are, therefore, set aside. The parties will be released from close confinement, and returned to duty; and it is hoped that their future conduct will be such as to prevent any regret that they should have thus escaped the fate to which they were sentenced.

VI.. Before a general court martial convened at Shelbyville, Tennessee, by Special Orders, No. 54, from Head-quarters Army of Tennessee, was arraigned and tried :

Of the Charge : Guilty.

Sentence.

VII.. VIII.. Before the general court martial convened at Richmond, Virginia, by virtue of Special Orders, No. 23, current series, Head-quarters Department of Henrico, was arraigned and tried :

Finding.

X. Before the military court attached to Lieutenant-General Polk's corps was arraigned and tried:

Second Lieutenant H. J. Ballantine, 47th Tennessee regiment, on the following charge:

Charge: Violation of the 81st Article of War.

Specification: Charges that the accused did permit a number of prisoners to leave the guard-house, and go to their respective quarters to sleep, which resulted in the escape of one of them.

Finding.

Of the Specification : Guilty.

Of the Charge : Guilty.

Sentence.

To be dismissed the service.

XI. .The proceedings in this case having been laid before the Secretary of War, for the decision of the President, are approved ; but, in consideration of the offence against military law, as shown by the evidence, being in this case rather an indiscretion than a crime, and of the distinguished gallantry of Lieutenant Ballantine at the battles of Shiloh, Richmond, Kentucky, and Murfreesboro', upon the recommendation of the court, and of his commanding general, the sentence is remitted, and Lieutenant Ballantine will return to duty.

The specification is omitted, being substantially the same as that to the first charge.

Finding.

Of the Specification of the 1st Charge : Guilty.

Of the 1st Charge : Not Guilty of desertion, but guilty of absence without leave.

Of the Specification of the 2d Charge : Guilty.

Of the 2d Charge : Guilty.

Sentence.

To be dismissed the service.

XIII.. The proceedings in this case having been laid before the Secretary of War, for the decision of the President, are approved; but, in consideration of the recommendation of his brother officers and of the commanding general, and their testimony to his previous good conduct, the sentence of dismissal from the service is remitted, but not the forfeiture of pay and allowances during the term of his unauthorized absence.

XIV.. At a general court martial convened at the Head-quarters of Major-General R. H. Anderson's division, by virtue of General Orders, No. 133, of 1862, Department of Northern Virginia, was arraigned and tried:

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE.

RICHMOND, July 21, 1863.

I. The following schedule of prices for articles named therein, adopted by commissioners appointed pursuant to law, for the State of Virginia, are announced for the information of all concerned, and the special attention of officers and agents of the government is directed thereto :

Richmond, July 18, 1863.

Hon. Jas. A. Seddon, Secretary of War :

SIR : The commissioners appointed under section 5th of the bill recently passed by the Confederate Congress, regulating impressments, being required to agree upon and publish a schedule of prices every two months, or oftener if they should deem it proper, in accordance with the foregoing requisition we respectfully lay before you the following schedule of prices, marked A and B, for the ensuing month. Owing to the difficulty of obtaining satisfactory information as to pork, we have postponed the appraisement till our next assessment.

Mr. William B. Harrison was again invited to act as third commissioner, and it is proper to add that the schedules of appraisement received the unanimous approval of the commissioners.

The following schedules present the maximum prices to be paid for the articles appraised at all cities and usual places of sale, and when impressed elsewhere, the same prices are to be paid elsewhere, less the cost of transportation to the city or usual place of sale to which the article would go ordinarily for sale from that neighborhood, or less the cost of transportation to the point at which the government needs the article, and wishes it to be sent: provided, that in no case the amount deducted for transportation, as above, shall exceed 25 cents per bushel for grain, and 25 cents per cwt. for long forage, flour, bacon, iron, etc. In addition to the established price of transportation, the government to pay all legal tolls; and where farmers can not procure nails for baling forage, government to furnish the same at cost, which will be deducted from the established price of baling :

Neither the 20th nor the 52d Article of War prescribe any duty to be performed or any act to be avoided, but simply announce punishments to be inflicted for certain offences. The charges are improperly laid. The proceedings are, therefore, set aside. Private Z. M. Kent will be released, and returned to duty.

II. .Before a general court martial convened at Chattanooga, Tennessee, by virtue of Special Orders, No. 69, from Head-quarters Army of Tennessee, was arraigned and tried :

Captain G. D. Mitchell, A. Q. M., upon the following charges, viz :

Charge 1st: Conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
 RICHMOND, July 28, 1863.

I..Officers of engineer troops having been selected for appointment, with special reference to their qualifications as engineers, will be respected as such, and their duties, when serving in the field, camp, or cantonment, will embrace all that are enumerated in paragraph III, General Orders, No 90, current series, "as the duties of officers of engineers serving with armies of the Confederate States."

II..On the march engineer troops will serve as pioneers, constructing and repairing roads and bridges, and removing impediments to the advance of our forces, or delaying the enemy by breaking up roads, destroying bridges, and otherwise obstructing his communications. They will also be employed in making rapid reconnoissances and surveys of the country occupied or marched over by the army; preparing sketches and maps of the roads and topographical features; laying out camps, and entrenching military positions. During battle they will be held in reserve and used as circumstances may demand, either in their special duties, or as infantry. Under the command of their officers, they may be employed in the construction of ovens for baking bread, and other works requiring mechanical skill, but not on mere police duty or the like, unless connected immediately with their own organization: nor are they to be employed altogether on mere fatigue service—but, once instructed in the duties of the engineer soldier, they will be frequently employed in laying out works, and also in aiding and directing the labors of other troops detailed for their construction.

III.. Whenever practicable, engineer troops will be drilled and instructed in the duties of engineer soldiers by battalions and regiments—and to this end all the companies serving with an army will be habitually kept together: but such temporary assignments of companies to divisions or otherwise will be made by the commanding general as will, in his judgment, best comport with the interests of the service. The Ordnance department will furnish light arms to these troops; but until they can be supplied, infantry muskets will be used. Entrenching tools and other implements will be issued by the Engineer department.

IV.. Each company of the engineer troops shall be provided by the Quartermaster's department with at least two wagons and teams of four animals each, for transportation of company equipage, entrenching tools, and other implements; one ambulance or other light vehicle, with a team of two horses, for carrying surveying instruments, stationery, maps, drawing boards, and other fixtures; and twelve additional horses, with saddles, bridles, and harness, to be used by the officers and non-commissioned officers in making rapid examinations of country, or for hauling materials needed for prompt repair and construction of bridges, roads, and other works.

V.. When officers of the corps of engineers and of engineer troops are engaged on the same service, the senior officer present shall control in all questions relating to the location and construction of defences, and to engineering works generally connected with the army, unless for special reasons it be decided otherwise by the commanding officer; but should the recommendations and plans of a junior officer be adopted, the directions of the commander will not be communicated through him to the senior engineer officer, whether of the corps or troops, but through the usual channel of orders. Officers of the corps of engineers will not assume the command of engineer troops. In all cases they will be under the command of their own officers.

“SEC. 4. That every white person, being a commissioned officer, or acting as such, who, during the present war, shall command negroes or mulattoes in arms against the Confederate States, or who shall arm, train, organize, or prepare negroes or mulattoes for military service against the Confederate States, or who shall voluntarily aid negroes or mulattoes in any military enterprise, attack, or conflict in such service, shall be deemed as inciting servile insurrection, and shall, if captured, be put to death, or be otherwise punished at the discretion of the court.

“SEC. 5. Said board shall keep a secretary or clerk, who shall issue all furloughs by order of the board, and shall specify therein the time of furlough, the place of the residence of the soldier, his company, regiment, and brigade.

"SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That no further regulation shall be required of the soldier, and no passport required other than his furlough.

"SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That the said board may recommend discharges, stating the ground thereof, which, when approved by the Surgeon-General or the general commanding the army or department to which the soldier belongs, shall entitle him to a discharge, and transportation to the place of his enlistment or residence.

"SEC. 4. Be it further enacted, That in places where there are but two hospitals, two surgeons in charge of a hospital, or division, shall constitute a board for the purposes aforesaid; and in places where there is but one, the surgeon in charge, and two assistant surgeons, if there be two, and if not, then one, shall constitute a board for the purpose aforesaid, and may furlough and recommend discharges as aforesaid: provided, that no furlough shall be granted under the provisions of this act, if, in the opinion of the board, the life or convalescence of the patient would be endangered thereby.

"SEC. 5. The house surgeon in all hospitals shall see each patient under his charge once every day." [Approved May 1, 1863.]

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, August 15, 1863.

I.. A court of inquiry having been convened at Richmond on the 29th of July, 1863, pursuant to paragraph XVII, Special Orders, No. 176, Adjutant and Inspector-General's Office, current series, to examine into certain charges preferred against Major William Norris, Chief of the Signal Corps, and having made the required examination, the report of facts proven, with the opinion of the court thereon, is published for the information of all concerned.

REPORT OF FACTS.

1. Major Norris was not intoxicated on the 31st of May, 1863.
2. He did not reveal the alphabet of the signal corps on the 31st of May, 1863.
3. The enemy knew, or had opportunity to know, the locality of the signal stations between City Point and Clairmont before the 31st of May, 1863, none of which were disclosed to him by Major Norris on that day.
4. The despatch shown to Captain Mulford by Major Norris was a private despatch, conveying a report of successes at Vicksburg.
5. There was no improper intercourse between Major Norris and any officers or persons in the service of the enemy on the 31st of May, 1863.

OPINION.

The court is of opinion that the charges in this case have been loosely made, and without due care and investigation, and should not be further entertained. The court is, also, of opinion that the private and official character of Major Norris remains unaffected by this proceeding.

II.. The charges, of which Major Norris has been thus fully exonerated by the court, were made without that consideration which their serious character demanded, and in a manner that subjects the prosecutor, Lieutenant R. A. Forbes, 2d company independent signal corps, to the grave censure of the department. The personal and official character of an officer is not to be lightly assailed. The accuser will be held to support his charges by evidence—and in an especial manner is he required to avoid creating the impression that the loose, unofficial statements of others are facts within his own knowledge. The greatest care and consideration should be manifested by those preferring charges, particularly when the reputation, personal and professional, of a superior is called in question.

III.. The court of inquiry, of which Lieutenant-Colonel George Deas, Adjutant-General's department, was president, is hereby dissolved.

I. . The following schedules of prices for articles named therein, adopted by commissioners appointed pursuant to law, for the State of Virginia, are announced for the information of all concerned, and the special attention of officers and agents of the government is directed thereto :

Richmond, August 20, 1863.

Hon. Jas. A. Seddon, Secretary of War :

SIR: The commissioners appointed under section 5th of the bill recently passed by the Confederate Congress regulating impressments, being required to agree upon and publish a schedule of prices every two months, or oftener if they should deem it proper, in accordance with the foregoing requisition we respectfully lay before you the following schedules of prices, marked A and B, for the ensuing month. Owing to the difficulty of obtaining satisfactory information as to pork, we have postponed the appraisalment till our next assessment.

The following schedule presents the maximum prices to be paid for the articles appraised at all cities and usual places of sale, and when impressed elsewhere the same prices are to be paid elsewhere, less the cost of transportation to the city or usual place of sale to which the article would go ordinarily for sale from that neighborhood, or less the cost of transportation to the point at which the government needs the article, and wishes it to be sent: provided, that in no case the amount deducted for transportation as above, shall exceed twenty-five cents per bushel for grain, and twenty-five cents per cwt. for long forage, flour, bacon, iron, etc. In addition to the established price of transportation, the government to pay all legal tolls; and where farmers can not procure nails for baling forage, government to furnish the same at cost, which will be deducted from the established price of baling :

In assessing the average value of "first-class artillery and wagon horses at $350," we designed that the term should be accepted and acted upon according to its obvious common sense import. In other words, that horses should be selected, and then impressed accordingly as their working qualities and adaptation to army service, together with their intrinsic value, would warrant a judicious purchaser in considering them as coming within the contemplation of the commissioners when they assessed the average value of such horses as the government needed at $350. But cases might arise, however, when the public exigencies would be so urgent as to demand that all horses at hand should be impressed. Yet, under ordinary circumstances, when family or extra-blooded horses, or brood mares of admitted high value, are impressed, we respectfully suggest to the Secretary of War to have instructions forwarded to the impressing officers to propose and allow the owners to substitute in their stead such strong, sound, and serviceable horses or mules as shall be considered and valued, by competent and disinterested parties, as first-class artillery horses, or first-rate wagon mules.

The term "average value per head" was used in contra-distinction to a fixed and uniform price for each horse or mule. We supposed that in impressing a number of horses or mules, whether owned by several persons, or one individual, that some might be estimated at $250, or even at less, and others at different advanced rates, according to their worth, up as high as $450, or above that amount—thus making an average value or price for a number of good, sound, and efficient horses $350 each, and mules $300 each.

In illustration of our views we will add, that a horse with only one eye sound might, in all other respects, be classed as a first-rate artillery horse, yet the loss of one eye would justly and considerably curtail his value. So, a horse from ten to eighteen years of age might be deemed, in all other particulars, as a first-class artillery horse, but, of course, however efficient or able to render good service for a year or so, yet his advanced age would justly and materially impair his value. Any horse, however he may approximate the standard of a first-class artillery horse, must, according to deficiencies, fall below the maximum price; and as few, comparatively, exactly come up to the standard, and therefore are entitled to the maximum price, so, of course, in all other instances the price should be proportionately reduced, as imperfections place them below the standard of first class, etc.

Upon this receipt the receiving officer will be responsible for the quantity which he will take up on his property return. The receipt given to the producer will only be evidence that so much of his tax is paid. In all such receipts the name of the producer and his county will be stated.

I.. Information having been received of repeated misconstructions and violations of paragraph XII, General Orders, No. 82, 1862, it is reiterated that no persons liable to conscription will be permitted, under any circumstances, to volunteer in regiments, battalions, or companies organized since the 16th of April, 1862, except such as were organized under the provisions of the act of Congress of that date entitled "An act further to provide for the public defence."

II.. No authority exists for organizing new companies out of companies or portions of companies now in service.

III.. It shall be the duty of commandants of conscripts, on information of persons being received into companies contrary to the provisions of this order, to make immediate requisition for such persons on the officer commanding, and on failure of the officer to return the persons so received to the camp of instruction, the commandant shall report the matter, with the facts of the case, to the Bureau of Conscription, to be decided by this department.

IV..No officer commanding, whose company reaches the maximum allowed by regulations, shall be permitted to receive recruits, either as volunteers or in any other form.

The undersigned, commissioners and appraisers under the act of Congress for regulating the impressments for South Carolina, have adopted the foregoing schedule of prices, which they think is fair and equitable under existing circumstances. They hope that the producer will be willing not only to sell to the government at these prices, but to private individuals, and especially to the families of soldiers who are in the service of their country. The present is no time for those who are at home to be speculating on the necessities of a bleeding country. They should consider that, whilst the patriotic and gallant soldier in the army is offering his blood and his life as a sacrifice for independence, that they, too, are called upon to make sacrifices, and forego all exorbitant profits on what they have to sell. He who is unwilling to do so is unworthy of his country, and the cause in which she is engaged.

The commissioners would respectfully suggest to the quartermasters and commissaries in South Carolina that they should not impress provisions which have been purchased for family supplies and immediate consumption, nor should they interfere with purchases made at government prices, on their way to market, in the hands of a fair retail dealer, who is willing to sell at a moderate profit, to supply the wants of the poor in the cities, towns, and villages of the state.

The foregoing schedule of prices will continue in force for two months, unless sooner revised.

A. M. MARTIN,
Commissioners.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, October 1, 1863.

I. The following schedules of prices for articles named therein, adopted by commissioners appointed pursuant to law, for the State of Virginia, are announced for the information of all concerned; and the special attention of officers and agents of the government is directed thereto:

RICHMOND, October 1, 1863.

Hon. Jas. A. Seddon, Secretary of War :

SIR: The commissioners appointed under section fifth of the bill recently passed by the Confederate Congress regulating impressments, being required to agree upon and publish a schedule of prices every two months, or oftener if they should deem it proper, in accordance with the foregoing requisition we respectfully lay before you the following schedules of prices, marked A and B, for the ensuing month. Owing to the difficulty of obtaining satisfactory information as to pork, we have postponed the appraisement till our next assessment.

The following schedule presents the maximum prices to be paid for the articles appraised, at all cities and usual places of sale, and when impressed elsewhere the same prices are to be paid elsewhere, less the cost of transportation to the city or usual place of sale to which the article would go ordinarily for sale from that neighborhood, or less the cost of transportation to the point at which the government needs the article, and wishes it to be sent; provided, that in no case the amount deducted for transportation as above, shall exceed twenty-five cents per bushel for grain, and twenty-five cents per hundred weight for long forage, flour, bacon, iron, etc. In addition to the established price of transportation, the government to pay all legal tolls; and, where farmers can not procure nails for baling forage, government to furnish the same at cost, which will be deducted from the established price of baling:

In assessing the average value of "first-class artillery and wagon horses at $350," we designed that the term should be accepted and acted upon according to its obvious common-sense import. In other words, that horses should be selected, and then impressed accordingly as their working qualities and adaptation to army service, together with their intrinsic value, would warrant a judicious purchaser in considering them as coming within the contemplation of the commissioners when they assessed the average value of such horses as the government needed at $350. But cases might arise, however, when the public exigencies would be so urgent as to demand that all horses at hand should be impressed. Yet, under ordinary circumstances, when family or extra-blooded horses, or brood mares of admitted high value are impressed, we respectfully suggest to the Secretary of War to have instructions forwarded to the impressing officers to propose and allow the owners to substitute in their stead such strong, sound, and serviceable horses or mules as shall be considered and valued, by competent and disinterested parties, as first-class artillery horses, or first-rate wagon mules.

The term "average value per head" was used in contra-distinction to a fixed and uniform price for each horse or mule. We supposed that, in impressing a number of horses or mules, whether owned by several persons or one individual, that some might be estimated at $250, or even at less, and others at different advanced rates, according to their worth, up as high as $450, or above that amount—thus making an average value or price for a number of good, sound, and efficient horses $350 each, and mules $300 each.

In illustration of our views, we will add, that a horse with only one eye sound might, in all other respects, be classed as a first rate-artillery horse, yet the loss of one eye would justly and considerably curtail his value. So, a horse from ten to eight years of age might be deemed, in all other particulars, as a first-class artillery horse, but, of course, however efficient or able to render good service for a year or so, yet his advanced age would justly and materially impair his value. Any horse, however he may approximate the standard of a first-class artillery horse, must, according to deficiencies, fall below the maximum price; and as few, comparatively, exactly come up to the standard, and therefore are entitled to the maximum price, so, of course, in all other instances, the price should be proportionately reduced, as imperfections place them below the standard of first-class, etc.

GENERAL ORDERS. }

No. 130. }

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

RICHMOND, October 2, 1863.

I..The evils resulting from the prolonged absence of soldiers who have obtained furloughs on account of sickness being greatly on the increase, the attention of officers of the army is directed to the 7th paragraph of General Orders, No. 69, of 1863, from this office, and strict compliance therewith is enjoined.

II..Commanders of companies who, agreeably to the requirements of the aforesaid Orders, No. 69, received from examining boards notices of furloughs granted by them, are required to make out and forward monthly to the Superintendents of the Bureaus of Conscription (Col. J. S. Preston, at Richmond, Va., or Brigadier-General G. J. Pillow, at Marietta, Ga., as the case may require) lists of all men so furloughed, and who do not promptly return to their companies at the expiration of the time granted them; and it will be the duty of the superintendent receiving such lists to direct the proper enrolling officers to arrest and return to their companies, without delay, all persons who are thus reported, and found absent without proper authority.

III.. Payment upon affidavit to soldiers sick or wounded, in hospitals, who are unprovided with descriptive lists, will hereafter be limited to four months pay.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 131. }

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, October 3, 1863.

Difficulties in procuring the medals and badges of distinction having delayed their presentation by the President, as authorized by the act of Congress approved October 13, 1862, to the officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates of the armies of the Confederate States, conspicuous for courage and good conduct on the field of battle—

To avoid postponing the grateful recognition of their valor until it can be made in the enduring form provided by that act, it is ordered:

I.. That the names of all those who have been or may hereafter be reported as worthy of this distinction, be inscribed on a to be preserved in the office of the Adjutant and Inspector-General for reference, in all future time, for those who have deserved well of their country, as having best displayed their courage and devotion on the field of battle.

II.. That the Roll of Honor, so far as now made up, be appended to this order, and read at the head of every regiment in the service of the Confederate States, at the first dress-parade after its receipt, and be published in at least one newspaper in each state.

III. The attention of the officers in charge is directed to General Orders, No. 93, section No. 27, of the series of 1862, Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, for the mode of selecting the non-commissioned officers and privates entitled to this distinction, and its execution is enjoined.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

The authority of Commandants of Conscripts to make details for enrolling service of officers and soldiers coming within their jurisdiction, under the second clause of paragraph II of General Orders, No. 82, and paragraph V of General Orders, No. 96, of 1862, is hereby extended, so that they may employ such persons in the duties of railroad guards, bridge or ferry guards, or in the protection of public property, at the request of the officers of the staff departments, or of local military commanders. Special reports will be made of all such details to the Bureau of Conscription.

They may also detail, in like manner, until the recovery of health, any convalescents borne on the rolls of general hospitals, who may be reported to them by the hospital boards as unable to take the field, but fit for light duty—the details to cease at the time that may be indicated by the examinations of the hospital boards.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 138. }

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

The following instructions are published for carrying into effect the 9th section of the act of 26th March, 1863, to regulate impressments, in respect to labor on fortifications and other public works in states in which provisions have not been made on this subject:

1. The commanding general, or the officer of engineers in charge of the work, shall have power to decide upon the necessity for making impressments of slaves for this purpose, after making suitable efforts to secure the necessary laborers by contract. He must be satisfied of the necessity of the measure before he resorts to it.

2. He may authorize the impressment of male slaves between the ages of seventeen and fifty years, but before the first day of December next shall abstain from impressing slaves from plantations exclusively devoted to the production of grain and provisions, without the consent of the owner, except in cases of urgent necessity.

3. No impressments shall be made of the slaves employed in the domestic and family service exclusively, nor upon farms or plantations where there are not more than three slaves of age specified; and not more than five per cent. of the population of slaves shall be impressed in any county at the same time, unless the necessity is very great, and after consultation with this department or the governor of the state in which the impressment is to be made.

4. The ordinary period for impressment shall be sixty days, but if the owner of any slave shall fail to bring the slaves impressed to the place of rendezvous within five days after the time appointed, the slaves so withheld may be detained for ninety days, and for a longer term of ten days for every day of default, unless a reasonable excuse be given for the delays that have occurred.

5. It shall be the duty of the commanding general in charge of any lines requiring fortification, to acquaint himself with the resources of slave labor within his department, and to consider with care the manner in which he may obtain the control of whatever is necessary for the public service, by fair and equitable apportionment among the owners of such property. He will consult with the governor of the state and other state authorities as to the best mode of proceeding, so that his impressment may cause the least embarrassment to the industrial pursuits of the community.

6. Notices shall be given of the number and character of the slaves required, the time and place of their delivery, the time for which the service is required, and of the arrangements made for the subsistence, management, and custody of the slaves so required; and if the masters of slaves shall agree to furnish subsistence for their slaves, and a suitable overseer or agent to superintend them, they shall have the privilege of so doing. But such overseers shall be subject to the control of the officer in charge, and may be dismissed for any misconduct by him.

7. The sum of twenty dollars per month for each slave delivered in pursuance to requisition, and fifteen dollars per month for each slave held in consequence of failure of his master to obey requisition made as hereinbefore provided, shall be paid by the Confederate States, and soldiers rations, medicines, and medical attendance furnished; and the value of all such slaves as may die during their term of service or thereafter, from injuries received or disease contracted in such service, or may not be returned, shall be paid by the Confederate States. Such value shall be conclusively established by a formal appraisement by a board of experts mutually agreed upon at the time the slaves are received into the Confederate service. Compensation shall also be made for all injuries to slaves arising from the act of the public enemy, or from any injury arising from the want of due diligence on the part of the authorities of the Confederate States. But the Confederate States will not be liable for any slave not returned by reason of fraud or collusion on the part of the owner or his agent, or the overseer selected by him to superintend them, nor if his death should be caused by the act of God, or by disease existing when the slave is received by Confederate authorities.

8. Subsistence and provisions furnished by the owner shall be computed for at the rates allowed soldiers in service. All slaves sent voluntarily to the Confederate authorities and accepted by them, without other special contract, shall stand on the same footing as those delivered under requisition; and the owners of all slaves delivered or taken under requisition shall be entitled to regard the Confederate States as contracting with them to comply with the obligations and conditions herein expressed.

9. In case there should be any disagreement on the subject of the value of any slave impressed, or in case the impressing officer shall not be satisfied of the accuracy of any valuation or valuations, the appraisal shall be referred to the appraisers appointed under the 5th section of the act concerning impressments, according to the provisions of the act of Congress approved 27th April, 1863, and published in Orders No. 53, current series.

By order.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 139. }

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

I. The President having commuted or remitted the sentences pronounced by general courts martial in the following cases, his decision is published for the information and guidance of all concerned:

1. Lieutenant E. M. P. Brown, Company B, 8th battalion Georgia volunteers. Charged with failure to suppress mutiny, and exciting and joining therein.

Sentence: Death.

2. First Sergeant Abner Underwood, Company D, 8th battalion Georgia volunteers; also,

3. Private T. P. Wood;

4. Private T. W. Cannon;

5. Private Wm. Garner; and

6. Private T. Roberts, of Company B, 8th battalion Georgia volunteers. Charged with exciting and joining in mutiny.

Sentence: Death.

7. Private Daniel Hollis, Company B, 8th battalion Georgia volunteers. Charged with exciting and joining in mutiny.

Sentence: Confinement with ball and chain for twelve months, and forfeiture of pay.

The aforesaid parties were all tried by general court martial convened under General Orders, No. 3, of 1863, Department of South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. In view of the evident want of discipline in this battalion, the President has remitted the sentences of all the parties. Lieutenant Brown, Sergeant Underwood, and Privates Wood, Cannon, Garner, Roberts, and Hollis, will, therefore, be released from confinement, and returned to duty.

The department observes with regret the absence of a just military discipline in the above-named battalion. Had this been properly observed and enforced, there is reason to believe these trials would have been obviated. The officers in charge are responsible for these evils, and must correct them. At the same time, they should observe toward the soldiers in their command a proper degree of consideration and kindness, which is generally a sure means of securing obedience and respect.

II..8. Privato Stephen Outlaw, of Troop A, 5th Georgia cavalry. Charged with desertion.

Sentence: Death.

Tried by general court martial convened under General Orders, No. 22, of February 6, 1863, Department of South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. This is not properly a case of desertion. The prisoner escaped the guard while undergoing sentence. He should have been returned to complete his sentence, if there was no other charge against him than that for an escape.

Privato Outlaw will be released from confinement, and returned to duty.

9. Lieutenant-Colonel A. C. Edwards. Charged with violating the 52d, 83d, and 99th Articles of War.

Tried by court convened under Special Orders, No. 118, Headquarters Department of South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida, July 28, 1862.

Sentence: Suspension from rank and command, without pay, for eighteen months. Commuted to reprimand in General Orders.

The sentence in the case of Lieutenant-Colonel Edwards was the just consequence of an unbecoming disregard of official obligations on his part. In directing his release from arrest and restoration to duty, the department indulges the hope that this exercise of executive clemency may have its due effect in exciting him to a stricter vigilance, and a more exemplary discharge of duty in the future.

10. Lieutenant James M. Chesser, 47th Georgia volunteers. Charged with defamation of character, mutiny, and incompetency.

Tried by court convened under General Orders, No. 11, of January 29, 1863, from Division Head-quarters, Wilmington, N. C., issued in pursuance of General Orders, No. 14, Department of South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida.

Sentence: Dismission from service, with forfeiture of pay and allowances.

The record in this case is incomplete. The proceedings, finding, and sentence are disapproved; and Lieutenant Chesser will be released from arrest, and returned to duty.

III..11. Second Lieutenant J. J. Wortham, Waccamaw light artillery. Charged with sending a challenge, and with conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline.

Sentence: To be cashiered. Commuted to reprimand in General Orders.

12. Second Lieutenant W. J. Gore, Waccamaw light artillery. Charged with carrying a challenge.

Sentence: To be cashiered. Commuted to reprimand in General Orders.

13. Lieutenant L. A. Rice, 2d regiment S. C. volunteers. Charged with sending and accepting a challenge to fight a duel.

Sentence: To be cashiered. Commuted to reprimand in General Orders.

Lieutenants Wortham, Gore, and Rice were tried by a general court martial convened under General Orders, No. 70, of May 20, 1863, Department of South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida.

The Articles of War expressly prohibit the sending of challenges to fight; and all seconds, promoters, and carriers of challenges are deemed principals, and directed to be punished as such—i. e., by being cashiered.

The offences of which these officers have been convicted are thus seen to be of a very grave character, and can not be regarded with toleration. Duelling is a military not less than a moral offence. It is unfortunate if the error prevails in the army that punishment will not be inflicted on those who violate the laws of the service respecting it; and the department avails itself of this occasion to express its unqualified reprobation of the practice, and of the conduct of the accused in the foregoing trials.

Lieutenant Chesser appears to have rested under an honest misapprehension as to his duty to a brother officer, in bearing a challenge; and the records present, in the cases of Lieutenants Wortham and Rice, certain mitigating circumstances which, to some extent, justify the recommendations to clemency made by their superior officers.

These considerations, in connection with the too generally prevailing misapprehension in the army already adverted to, have determined the Executive so far to respect the appeals made in behalf of these officers as to direct the commutation of their respective sentences. They will, accordingly, be released from arrest, and restored to duty with their proper companies.

14. Lieutenant W. C. Pruitt, Company E, 20th S. C. volunteers.

Tried under Special Orders, No. 105, March 10, 1863, Department of South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida, for intoxication while on duty.

Sentence: To be dismissed the service. No evidence was submitted with the record in this case.

In consideration of the recommendation of the commanding general the sentence is remitted, and Lieutenant Pruitt will be released from arrest, and returned to duty.

15. Private C. H. Kent, Company D, 18th Virginia battalion. Charged with desertion, and conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline.

Sentence: Six months hard labor, with ball and chain. To wear a placard with the word "forger" legibly printed thereon, for the period of six months.

Tried by general court martial under General Orders, No. 7, of October 11, 1862, Head-quarters Richmond, Va.

The sentence is remitted, and Private Kent will be released from confinement, and assigned to a company in the Army of Northern Virginia.

16. Private Major Runnells, Company H, 2d S. C. rifles.

Tried by general court martial convened under General Orders, No. 4, of August 4, 1863.

Sentence: Death. Remitted; and Private Runnells will be released from confinement, and returned to his company.

17. Captain R. Y. L. Long, Company D, Phillips' legion of cavalry. Charged with disobedience of orders and breach of arrest.

Sentence: To be cashiered. Remitted; and Captain Long will be released from arrest, and returned to his company.

Tried under Special Orders, No. 205, of August 11, 1863, Department of Northern Virginia.

18. Captain R. Z. Harlee, Company D, 10th S. C. volunteers. Charged with drunkenness.

Sentence: To be cashiered. Remitted; Captain Harlee will be released from arrest, and returned to duty.

Tried by court convened under Special Orders, No. 134, May 20, 1863, from the Army of Tennessee.

19. Private Henry Taylor, Company F, 11th Mississippi volunteers. Charged with theft.

Sentence: To have his head shaved. To be labelled with the word "theft;" marched through camp, hat off, wearing a barrel—the rogue's march to be played during the time. To be confined in the penitentiary two years, and fed on bread and water fourteen days.

Sentence remitted. Private Taylor will be released from confinement, and transferred to some other army.

Tried by court convened under General Orders, No. 133, of December 7, 1862, Army of Northern Virginia.

20. Private Freeman W. Johnson, Read's battery light artillery. Charged with disobedience of orders—violation of the 9th Article of War.

Sentence: Death. Commuted to labor for four months, and transferred to some other command.

Tried by court convened under General Orders, No. 133, of December 7, 1862, Army of Northern Virginia.

21. Private John Duncan, Company F, 3d Tennessee volunteers. Charged with absence without leave; illegal and outrageous assaults on a citizen; brutal assaults on a woman, with attempt to commit rape, on two occasions.

Sentence: Forfeiture of pay and allowances, and imprisonment for twenty-five years.

Residue of sentence remitted. Private Duncan will be released from confinement, and returned to his company.

Tried by court convened under General Orders, No. 36, Department of East Tennessee.

22. Second Lieutenant E. H. Hammel, Company B, 8th Arkansas volunteers. Charged with quitting his guard without leave, etc.

Sentence: To be dismissed. Commuted to two months suspension from rank and pay.

Tried by military court of General Hardec's corps, May 26, 1863.

23. Private T. W. Barlow, of Carne's light artillery. Charged with violating the 46th Article of War, by sleeping on post.

Sentence: Death. Remitted; and Private Barlow will be released from confinement, and returned to his company.

Tried by court convened under General Orders, No. 66, of March 13, 1863, Army of Tennessee.

24. Lieutenant J. R. Simmons, Company E, 12th Georgia volunteers. Charged with conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman.

Sentence: To be dismissed. Commuted to reprimand in orders, which will accordingly be done by his commanding officer.

Tried by the military court of General Ewell's corps, August 6, 1863.

25. Lieutenant E. S. McClung, McClung's Battery. Charged with violation of the 15th and 39th Articles of War, and conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline.

Sentence : To be cashiered, and disabled to hold any office or employment in the service of the Confederate States ; to have his name, crime, and place of abode published in the newspapers in and about the camp of Knoxville, and of Huntsville, Alabama ; after which it shall be deemed scandalous for an officer to associate with him.

Sentence : Commuted to dismissal from the Confederate service, of which Lieutenant McClung ceased to be an officer on the 14th of February, 1863.

IV.. The 89th Article of War provides, that where the sentence of a court martial is death, or the cashiering of an officer, the officer convening the court may suspend execution of the sentence till the pleasure of the President of the Confederate States be known.

The intent of this article is not to relieve commanding generals of responsibility, but to enable them, in difficult and doubtful cases, to refer the question to higher authority. But it has been observed that, in many cases where the course to be pursued was rendered obvious by the evidence, commanding officers have, nevertheless, availed themselves of the privilege conferred in the article referred to, by sending on the record to be viewed by the President. The duties of the Executive are sufficiently onerous without the accumulation of such matters for his attention, where they can be properly disposed of elsewhere ; and while it is not designed to weaken the provisions of the Articles of War, or interfere with the views of duty entertained by officers on this subject, it is proper to remark that there are cases of capital punishment and dismissal, where the duty of the commanding general is rendered by the court record too plain to be doubted, and in which the responsibility "in time of war," being fixed upon him in the first instance by the law, should not be avoided.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 31. }

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, March 19, 1863.

In consequence of numerous applications made by various persons to the War department, it is obvious that some misconception in regard to the instructions of the Secretary of War in relation to the impressment of supplies must exist on the part of the people, or that the agents of the government have violated their instructions: Now, therefore, for the purpose of removing such misconception, and to prevent any violation of those instructions, it is hereby ordered :

I. That no officer of the government shall, under any circumstances whatever, impress the supplies which a party has for his own consumption, or that of his family, employees, or slaves.

II. That no officer shall at any time, unless specially ordered so to do by a general commanding, in a case of exigency, impress supplies which are on their way to market for sale on arrival.

III. These orders were included in the instructions originally issued in relation to impressment by the Secretary of War; and the officers exercising such authority are again notified that "any one acting without or beyond" the authority given in those instructions, will be held strictly responsible.

In conformity with the foregoing, to prevent any inconsiderate action on the part of officers or agents charged with the duty of impressment, they are enjoined, until further orders, which will not be given unless under imperative exigencies for the supply of the army, not to impress any necessaries of subsistence to man, owned by producers, in transitu to market, or after arrival at market, unless retained an unreasonable time from sale to consumers.

I. . A court of inquiry having been convened at Jackson, Mississippi, by Special Orders, No. 41, from this office, dated February 18, 1863, amended by Special Orders, No. 43, of February 20, 1863, to examine and report the facts and circumstances attending the capture of the City of New Orleans by the enemy in April, 1862, and the defence of the city by the Confederate troops under command of Major-General Mansfield Lovell, together with their opinion thereon: and the court having discharged the duty assigned them, their opinion is published for the benefit of all whom it may concern.

II. . Opinion of the Court.

OPINION.

1. As against a land attack by any force the enemy could probably bring, the interior line of fortifications, as adopted and completed by Major-General Lovell, was a sufficient defence of the City of New Orleans; but his ability to hold that line against such an attack was greatly impaired by the withdrawal from him, by superior authority, of nearly all his effective troops.

2. The exterior line, as adopted and improved by him, was well devised, and rendered as strong as the means of his command allowed.

3. Until the iron-clad gunboats Louisiana and Mississippi should be ready for service, it was indispensably necessary to obstruct the navigation of the Mississippi river between Forts Jackson and St. Philip. The raft completed under General Lovell's direction was adequate for the purpose while in position; but it was swept away, and left the river unimpeded, either by reason of some error in its construction, or neglect in preventing the accumulation of drift, or because of insuperable mechanical difficulties, as to which this court feels unprepared to give an opinion. General Lovell communicated to the government no opinion as to the insecurity of the raft, nor any apprehension that it might be swept away, nor did he immediately make known that fact when it occurred. In this it is considered that he was remiss in his duty.

4. When the raft was swept away General Lovell, with great energy, immediately endeavored to replace it, and partially succeeded; but, without fault on his part, this last obstruction was broken by the carelessness of vessels of the "river-defence fleet" colliding with it, and by fire-rafts drifting against it, and by the failure of the guard-boats to protect it against night expeditions of the enemy.

5. The non-completion of the iron-clad gunboats Louisiana and Mississippi made it impossible for the navy to co-operate efficiently with General Lovell.

6. The so-called river-defence fleet was wholly useless as a means of resistance to the enemy, for which General Lovell was in no wise responsible.

7. Under the existing circumstances, the passage of the forts by the enemy's fleet could not have been prevented by General Lovell with any means under his control; and the forts being passed, the fall of New Orleans was inevitable, and its evacuation a military necessity.

8. When the first raft was broken, and the danger of New Orleans thus became imminent, all necessary preparation should have been made for removing the public property and private property available for military uses; and when the second obstruction was swept away the removal of such property should have been commenced immediately. The failure to take these timely steps caused the losses of property that occurred; but there was, comparatively, but little property lost for which General Lovell was responsible.

9. The failure of General Lovell to give proper orders to Brigadier-General M. L. Smith for the retirement of his command from Chalmette is not sufficiently explained, and is, therefore, regarded as a serious error.

10. The proposition of General Lovell to return to New Orleans with his command was not demanded by his duty as a soldier, involving, as it did, the useless sacrifice of himself and his troops, though it explains itself upon the ground of sympathy for the population, and a natural sensitiveness to their reproaches.

11. General Lovell displayed great energy and an untiring industry in performing his duties. His conduct was marked by all the coolness and self-possession due to the circumstances and his position; and he evinced a high capacity for command, and the clearest foresight in many of his measures for the defence of New Orleans.

The court respectfully report that its assembly was delayed by the failure of its president to receive his orders in due time, and that its session was protracted by the taking of testimony under the order of the War department, as to the conduct of naval officers on duty in Department No. 1. This order was rescinded, thus rendering useless and irrelevant much of the labor of the court. The testimony referred to, although appearing on record, was not considered by the court in determining its findings and opinion.

III. The court of inquiry in the foregoing case is hereby dissolved.

I. The following schedules of prices for articles named therein, adopted by commissioners appointed pursuant to law, for the State of Virginia, are announced for the information of all concerned, and the special attention of officers and agents of the government is directed thereto:

II. .

Richmond, December 4, 1863.

Hon. Jas. A. Seddon:

SIR—In revising and preparing the schedules of prices for December and January we requested the aid of Mr. Wm. B. Harrison, and it is proper to add that the prices agreed upon received the unanimous approval of the commissioners. We respectfully offer the accompanying schedules, A and B, with the understanding that the prices therein indicated are to remain for the months of December and January, unless in the interval it should be deemed by us necessary to modify them.

The following schedules present the maximum prices to be paid for the articles appraised at all cities and usual places of sale, and when impressed elsewhere the same prices are to be paid elsewhere, less the cost of transportation to the city or usual place of sale to which the article would go ordinarily for sale from that neighborhood, or less the cost of transportation to the point at which the government needs the article, and wishes it to be sent: provided, that in no case the amount deducted for transportation as above, shall exceed twenty-five cents per bushel for grain, and twenty-five cents per cwt. for long forage, flour, bacon, iron, etc. In addition to the established price of transportation, the government to pay all legal tolls; and where farmers can not procure nails for baling forage, government to furnish the same at cost, which will be deducted from the established price of baling:

In assessing the average value of "first-class artillery and wagon horses at $350," we designed that the term should be accepted and acted upon according to its obvious common-sense import. In other words, that horses should be selected, and then impressed accordingly as their working qualities and adaptation to army service, together with their intrinsic value, would warrant a judicious purchaser in considering them as coming within the contemplation of the commissioners when they assessed the average value of such horses as the government needed at $350. But cases might arise, however, when the public exigencies would be so urgent as to demand that all horses at hand should be impressed. Yet, under ordinary circumstances, when family or extra-blooded horses, or brood mares of admitted high value, are impressed, we respectfully suggest to the Secretary of War to have instructions forwarded to the impressing officers to propose and allow the owners to substitute in their stead such strong, sound, and servicable horses or mules as shall be considered and valued, by competent and disinterested parties, as first-class artillery horses, or first-rate wagon mules.

The term "average value per head" was used in contra-distinction to a fixed and uniform price for each horse or mule. We supposed that in impressing a number of horses or mules, whether owned by several persons, or one individual, that some might be estimated at $250, or even at less, and others at different advanced rates, according to their worth, up as high as $450, or above that amount—thus making an average value or price for a number of good, sound, and efficient horses $350 each, and mules $300 each.

In illustration of our views we will add, that a horse with only one eye sound might, in all other respects, be classed as a first-rate artillery horse, yet the loss of one eye would justly and considerably curtail his value. So, a horse from ten to eighteen years of age might be deemed, in all other particulars, as a first-class artillery horse, but, of course, however efficient or able to render good service for a year or so, yet his advanced age would justly and materially impair his value. Any horse, however he may approximate the standard of a first-class artillery horse, must, according to deficiencies, fall below the maximum price; and as few, comparatively, exactly come up to the standard, and therefore are entitled to the maximum price, so, of course, in all other instances the price should be proportionately reduced, as imperfections place them below the standard of first-class, etc.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
 RICHMOND, December 10, 1863.

The following Order is published as an amendment of the regulations in respect to impressments, as a substitute for paragraph II, section 5, General Orders, No. 37, current series. All officers and agents who have been or shall be empowered to make impressments, shall conform to the provisions of this Order, in respect to impressments hereafter to be made, and also in cases where the property may have been heretofore taken, and the price has not been fully adjusted :

In the event of the refusal by the owner, his bailee, or other agent, of the price offered, the impressing officer shall proceed to settle the compensation to be paid, according to the first section of the act of March 26, 1863, if the property impressed belongs to an owner who has grown, raised, or produced the same, or who holds or has purchased the same for his own use or consumption. But if the property impressed has not been grown, raised, or produced by the owner, nor been purchased for his own use or consumption, it shall be the duty of the impressing officer to offer the price fixed by the commissioners, who may be appointed under the fifth section of the act of Congress of the 26th March, 1863, to regulate impressments; and if the owner shall object to receive the said price, as not being a just compensation, it shall be the duty of the impressing officer to cause the value to be ascertained by the appointment of a board similar to that designated in the first section of the act aforesaid—that is, by the judgment of two loyal and disinterested citizens of the county or parish in which such impressments may be made—one to be selected by the owner, and one by the impressing officer—and, in the event of their disagreement, these two shall choose an umpire of like qualification. The persons thus selected shall proceed to assess just compensation for the property so impressed, whether the absolute ownership or the temporary use thereof only is required: provided, however, if the impressing officer in any of the cases mentioned shall believe that the appraisement is fair or just, he shall endorse upon it his approval, and the property in the object impressed shall thereupon be vested in the Confederate States; but if he does not approve the appraisement as aforesaid, he shall endorse upon the appraisement his objection thereto, and deliver the same, with a receipt for the property impressed, to the owner, his bailee, agent, or attorney, and as soon as practicable forward a copy of the receipt and appraisement, and his endorsement thereon, to the board of appraisers appointed by the President and governor of the state, who shall revise the same, and make a final valuation, so as to give just compensation for the property taken—which valuation shall be paid by the proper department for the use of which the property was taken, on the certificate of the appraisers, as provided in the acts of Congress on the subject.

INSTRUCTIONS TO ORDNANCE OFFICERS IN THE FIELD.

The appointment of brigade ordnance officers having been authorized, the following instructions are substituted for those of May 20, 1862 :

1st. The chief of ordnance of an army corps, and ordnance officers of separate commands, will correspond with the Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance relative to supplies of ordnance and ordnance stores with the commands to which they are attached. Requisitions made, whether for money or stores, will be approved by the general commanding.

2d. The division ordnance officers will correspond with the chief of ordnance of the army corps to which the divisions are attached, and obtain supplies through him. They will be responsible for the property under their charge, and make weekly reports of ammunition on hand (consolidated from brigade reports) to this office.

3d. Brigade ordnance officers will, with the approval of the division ordnance officer, obtain one or more wagons for each regiment in their brigade, as ordnance wagons. These wagons will be separate from the train of wagons for reserve ammunition of the division, and will be marked with the name of the regiment to which they are assigned, and will be placed in charge of the ordnance sergeant of the regiment. The wagons will be covered, if possible, with painted cloth covers, for security against the weather, and each wagon will be supplied with a spare tarpaulin. These wagons will habitually follow their respective regiments.

4th. On the eve of battle the division ordnance officer will, under direction of the chief of ordnance of the army, station the ordnance wagons at the point selected for the division field depot of ammunition, under charge of the senior ordnance officer of brigades. He will keep himself acquainted with the movements of brigades, and cause the wagons of any brigade which may be detached to follow the movements of the brigade. Brigade ordnance officers will make weekly reports of ammunition on hand to the division ordnance officers.

5th. The ordnance sergeants, together with the details habitually assigned to them from their regiments, will, under the direction of the brigade ordnance officers, constitute a corps devoted as well to the preservation of the captured and other ordnance stores, as to the supplies of ammunition of the various regiments. One man of each detail should follow the movements of the regiment, to ascertain its wants, and communicate with the field depot. The habitual details from each regiment should be augmented before a battle to not less than six men from each. The ammunition wagons, their loads temporarily removed, will, as circumstances favor, be employed to carry to the rear such arms and other captured stores as are left upon the battle-field.

6th. Especial care must be taken in selecting competent, prompt, and efficient men for the duties of ordnance sergeants. They may be removed for cause, and new appointments ordered, on the application of the division ordnance officers, through the chief of ordnance of the army corps, by the commanding general.

7th. The ammunition wagons to each regiment will not supersede the necessity for division supply trains.

Duties of Ordnance Sergeants.

1st. To obey the directions of the division ordnance officer, received through the brigade ordnance officer, or of the brigade ordnance officer (if the brigade is a separate command), in all relative to care and preservation of arms, and duties connected therewith.

2d. To take charge of all supplies, arms, and ammunition of the regiment, and make returns of the same, according to "Ordnance Regulations."

Issues to be made on written requisitions approved by the colonel, or commanding officer of the regiment; which requisitions are to be filed with his "Return of Property."

3d. To take charge of the ordnance wagon or wagons attached to each regiment, and to see that it always contains at least fifteen rounds per man of the regiment; surplus arms or accoutrements to be turned over to the brigade or division ordnance officer.

4th. To supervise the condition of the arms of the regiment, and get a detail of at least two mechanics to assist him in the necessary repairs to the arms—an account of these repairs to be kept, as far as possible, against each man of the regiment. Repairs to be made on the order of the colonel of the regiment.

5th. To take charge of the arms and accoutrements of the sick of the regiment in hospitals, which will be kept until the sick are sent to the general hospital, when their arms will be turned over to the division depots, through the brigade ordnance officer.

6th. In battle it will be the duty of the ordnance sergeants to remain with the ammunition wagons, and act with the details assigned to them from the regiments, under the orders of the ordnance officer, in supplying the troops with ammunition, collecting arms of the killed and wounded, and securing captured arms and ammunition.

J. GORGAS,
Colonel, Chief of Ordnance.

G. W. RANDOLPH,
Secretary of War.

[No. 2.]

Relative to returns of Ordnance Stores.

I. Returns for ordnance and ordnance stores issued to troops will be made quarterly, on the 31st March, 30th June, 30th September, and 31st December, according to Form I, "Ordnance Regulations," as follows:

II..For all ordnance stores — such as arms, accoutrements, equipments, and ammunition in the hands of a regiment or battalion, including the supplies carried in the ordnance wagon of the regiment — by the colonel of the regiment, assisted by his ordnance sergeant.

III..For all ordnance stores—such as artillery harness, equipments, accoutrements, and ammunition in the possession of field batteries—by the captains of batteries.

IV..For ordnance and ordnance stores at posts or garrisons—by the commanding officer, assisted by his ordnance sergeant.

V..For ordnance stores in the division and army trains — by the division ordnance officer, and by the assistant to the chief of ordnance of the army.

VI..Invoices to show what has been received, and receipts for issues, must accompany the "Returns," and the line of "Expenditures" must mention the actions or practice causing the expenditure; and where ammunition or stores are lost, proper evidence and explanation must be furnished, attached to the return.

VII..In many cases captains of infantry companies have given receipts for their arms and equipments. In such cases the colonel of the regiment to which the company belongs should give a receipt for the property in the possession of the company commander at the organization of the regiment, making the necessary expenditures for property lost, worn out, and expended, on the regimental returns. Where property has been furnished by a state, or by the company themselves, it will be accounted for on a separate return by the company commander, a remark to that effect being made in the regimental return.

VIII..Wherever there are field depots, with workmen attached, the usual monthly summary statement of work done should be transmitted. (See Form 29, "Ordnance Regulations.")

Colonel, Chief of Ordnance.

POINTS CONNECTED WITH AMMUNITION, TO WHICH THE ATTENTION OF ORDNANCE OFFICERS IS CALLED.

It being very desirable that the Laboratory department of the Ordnance service should obtain all the advantage to be derived from intelligent co-operation of ordnance officers in the field, it is desired to direct the attention of these officers to the following, as some of the more important matters in regard to laboratory products—to ammunition—which come within the scope of their duties :

I. General Attention to be given to Ammunition in the Field.

1. Economy should be carefully studied in the distribution and use of ammunition, and instances of waste or neglect of proper care should be noticed and reported to the proper authorities.

2. Care should be taken that all ammunition in good condition—not already in charge of some authorized person—as, for instance, the cartridges of men on either side killed or disabled in action, and all ammunition abandoned by or taken from the enemy—is collected and saved. If fully fit for service, and adapted to the arms of the command to which the ordnance officer collecting it is attached, it should be at once distributed for service—a report being made, through the proper channel, of the kinds and quantities of ammunition so collected and distributed.

3. All damaged and unserviceable ammunition—whether collected from the battle-field, found among captured stores of the enemy, or withdrawn from troops in whose hands it had been placed for service—should be carefully preserved, and reported to the chief of ordnance in the field, for removal to the most convenient arsenal or ordnance depot, so that it may be re-made or broken up, and its materials used. Powder and lead especially—no matter in how bad condition—should thus be saved and made available. In collecting and transporting damaged artillery ammunition, the condition of the fuses—particularly concussion fuses—should be looked to with a view to the prevention of accidents.

4. Any new or remarkable projectiles found upon battle-fields should be preserved apart, and forwarded to the Ordnance bureau, Richmond, with such remarks as may be needed to explain the circumstances under which they were found.

5. When ammunition, damaged in transportation, is received by any ordnance officer for distribution, he should at once report the fact to his immediate superior in the ordnance service, with a statement of the exact nature and extent of the injury sustained, and, if possible, a sample of the ammunition itself, so that responsibility for the damage may be speedily and properly ascertained, by tracing up the history of the ammunition.

6. When ammunition, defective in manufacture, is received by an ordnance officer, or is found by him in the hands of troops of the command to which he is attached, he should at once forward a complaint of the same to his immediate superior in ordnance service, in order that such complaint may be transmitted, through the regular channel, to the Ordnance bureau at Richmond. Such complaints should be definite and distinct. Complaints of "defective ammunition," "unserviceable ammunition," etc., unaccompanied by proper specifications of the defects complained of, have heretofore too frequently been made. Samples of the ammunition in question should also, if possible, be forwarded.

7. In order to fix responsibility properly upon the arsenals and depots from which ordnance stores are sent out, it is required that all packing boxes—whether they contain artillery or small arms ammunition—shall be distinctly marked with the name of the arsenal or depot, the nature of the contents, and the date of fabrication. The same rule applies to bundles of (10) small arms cartridges—upon which, moreover, the calibre of the arm for which the cartridges are intended is to be marked. In forwarding complaints of defective ammunition, these marks upon the boxes or bundles should be copied, and transmitted with the complaint.

In case any ammunition is received which has not been marked in accordance with the above rules, this should of itself form the ground of a complaint, to be at once forwarded, through the regular channels, the various steps in the transmission of the ammunition being stated, so that its history may be traced up to its issue from the arsenal of manufacture.

II. Special Points to be noticed with regard to Artillery Ammunition.

1. Artillery cartridges should be examined from time to time after they have been issued for service, in order to see that they are firm and compact—that they have not been crushed, frayed, or broken in transportation, and that no powder sifts out from them.

2. The ammunition chests of limbers and caissons should be inspected from time to time, to see that they are properly packed, and are well swept out, so that no loose powder or powder dust remains in them.

3. The bottoms of ammunition chests should be examined after the passage of a ford or very deep mud. There is often more danger of moisture reaching the ammunition from the bottom of the chests when thus exposed, than from the tops or sides in even heavy rain.

4. Due attention should be given to "sunning" ammunition in favorable weather.

5. Any cases of cannon powder affording very irregular ranges, should be noticed and reported, stating the source or sources from which the cartridges containing such powder were issued. Opportunity and time may sometimes be found in the field for remedying this grave defect to some extent, by opening the cartridge bags, emptying out all the powder of uncertain strength upon a dry surface of paper or tarpaulin, at a safe distance from any fire, mixing the powder uniformly with a clean piece of wood, and again weighing out the charges, and filling the cartridge bags.

6. The causes of any alleged defects in friction-primers should be examined. It should be seen that the wires are sufficiently strong to bear ordinarily careful use. The men should be taught to bend the wire gently in bringing the loop to its position at right angles with the tube, and in firing to pull the lanyard steadily, and without jerk, and in the proper direction. Neglect of these common precautions has led to complaints of friction-primers of excellent quality. Any cases of guns being spiked or rendered useless by friction-primers, should be carefully examined and reported upon—it being ascertained precisely what accident has occurred, splitting of the tube, melting of the lower end of the same, etc.

Any shells or spherical case shot, the fuse-plugs of which are not tightly screwed in, should be at once reported. This defect has been a fruitful source of failure and of danger in the use of such projectiles, which are liable to burst close to the muzzle of the gun. It may sometimes be remedied in the field, by carefully unscrewing the fuse-plugs with a proper brass fuse-plug wrench (never with any other tool), smearing the threads of the screw with a little thick white lead paint, and screwing up firmly again.

8. When the Bormann fuse is used, particular attention should be paid to the instruction of the men in the proper mode of cutting the leaden cover, and of reading the figures upon the same. Want of proper acquaintance with its use has caused some unjust charges to be brought against the design of this superior fuse, or against the mode of its manufacture.

9. When paper or wooden fuses are used, it should be seen that they have not been cracked or crushed by any negligence in transportation; that they have not been injured by moisture; and that the time of burning is distinctly marked in figures upon each fuse (as required by rule at all laboratory establishments).

10. Any favorable opportunity should be taken advantage of to verify the rate of burning of time-fuses. Reports to the Bureau of Ordnance upon this subject, specifying the arsenal or depot from which the fuses were issued, will be valuable.

11. Accurate reports of the performance of concussion fuses should, in like manner, be made as opportunity for observation may serve. The pattern of fuse employed, the nature and angle of inclination of the surface fired at, and the number of projectiles exploding and failing to explode, should be specified.

III. .Special Points to be noticed with regard to Small Arms Ammunition.

1. Small arms cartridges deteriorate rapidly, if roughly shaken about in ill-packed and dirty cartridge-boxes. The men should be instructed to brush out loose powder or powder dust from their cartridge-boxes, and to wipe away any adherent grease, to keep them closely packed—using a crumpled piece of paper or similar material to fill the space from which cartridges may have been removed, and to avoid exposing the cartridge-boxes to any unnecessary rough treatment.

2. Needless as it may appear to say that cartridges should be guarded with all care from exposure to wet, large quantities of ammunition have, during the present war, been rendered unserviceable by neglect of proper care of this kind, and heavy requisitions for new ammunition have, in consequence, been rendered necessary. Not only should cartridges in packing boxes be sedulously guarded from rain, and, as far as possible, from a damp atmosphere, but the men should be taught to avail themselves of every possible means of preserving from moisture their cartridge-boxes and the contents. Reports as to causes of waste of ammunition should be made constantly to the Ordnance bureau at Richmond.

3. The practice of “sunning” small arms cartridges in favorable weather, should not be neglected.

4. Efforts should be made to teach the men to load their muskets—especially the improved rifled arms—carefully and properly. The cartridge should be broken at the right place, so as admit of pouring the powder from it without loss. The powder should be poured cleanly into the barrel, so that as little as possible shall remain as scattered grains adherent to the muzzle and upper part of the barrel. The bullet should be fairly entered with the fingers, its axis coincident with that of the barrel. It should be steadily rammed down, using as little force as will suffice. A light tap of the ramrod will then settle it with sufficient firmness in its place. Proper attention to these details will greatly diminish the risk of the musket becoming badly fouled.

5. The unavoidable use, at present, by our troops, of several patterns of small arms differing in calibre, renders it imperatively necessary that the utmost care should be taken in the distribution of ammunition, to avoid confusion, and to insure each man being furnished with cartridges that will fit the musket in his hands. The men themselves should be instructed in the calibres of their respective arms, as expressed in the usual way in decimal parts of an inch, so that they may individually be prepared to recognize the cartridges issued to them as fit or unfit for the guns they use.

6. But too many instances have been reported of men in the heat of action finding their muskets useless, from the impossibility of forcing down the bullets. Such instances can not be too deeply deplored, or their recurrence too carefully guarded against. The difficulty is, in general, due to one or more of four causes, namely :

1st. The bullet being originally too large in diameter for the calibre of the musket it is to be used with.

2d. The cartridges having become coated with a cake of mixed powder and grease, owing to loose and careless manufacture or rough transportation, or both, so that excessive fouling of the gun takes place after a number of rounds have been fired.

This fouling may be greatly increased by careless loading.

3d. Defective lubrication, causing rapid "leading" of the grooves of the rifled musket.

4th. The cup-shaped cavity in the base of the bullet being too deep, rendering the lead on the edges of the cup too thin, so that the solid portion of the bullet may be blown away on discharge of the piece, leaving a ring of lead adherent to the interior of the barrel, and thus "leading" it so that another bullet can not be forced down.

Care should be taken, in receiving new supplies of ammunition, by examining sample cartridges taken out at random, to detect in time any of these defects in manufacture which may lead to such fatal results. Especially should the normal size of the bullets be verified. An observant officer, though unprovided with gauges, will soon learn to recognize, by touch and sight, the proper degree of looseness with which a bullet of proper size should enter the muzzle of the musket for which it is intended.

The English pattern of Enfield cartridge is intended for loading with the paper upon the bullet. Such cartridges should themselves enter the barrel of the musket as easily as the naked bullet of other patterns.

Any defect in bullets or cartridges of the above kind ought immediately, on detection, to be reported, samples being forwarded of the ammunition complained of. If a musket be rendered useless by the "jamming" of a bullet so as to prevent further loading, opportunity should, if possible, be taken to examine the condition of the interior of the barrel, looking for "leading," especially in rings, or upon any particular part of the surface of the barrel.

7. For the avoidance of danger of the kind alluded to in the last paragraph, as also for securing accuracy of fire with good ammunition, much will depend upon the condition in which the men habitually keep their arms. Rust, dirt, and dust ought to be carefully guarded against in the interior of the barrel.

8. It should be noticed at inspections whether the cartridges are becoming spoiled by sifting out of the powder, and if so, whether the defect is due to their being loosely and carelessly made, or to rough usage in transportation.

9. It should also be observed whether there are any defects due to the wax and tallow used for lubrication; if the lubricant is cracking or peeling off; or if it is melting and spreading, so as to mix with and cake the powder, to soften the paper, and make it tear easily, or to leave the lead uncoated.

10. Percussion caps should be examined from time to time, particularly with reference to the condition of their varnish—a defect in which is the most frequent cause of failure to explode.

“Sunning” or other careful drying should be had recourse to, as occasion may serve.

11. There has been great waste of percussion caps and friction primers, especially of the former. This should be checked, and the proper expenditure of caps, in proportion to cartridges, be controlled.

It may appear that some of the above points are either trivial and unimportant matters of detail, or so obvious as not to demand remark. It is believed, however, that all of them have been, in one part of the army or another, from time to time, neglected; and scarcely any detail of the kind can be unimportant, when it applies to the components of ammunition, multiplied as they are by tens or hundreds of thousands, and effects even remotely the efficiency of this ammunition in the day of battle.

Repeated allusions have been made to the desirability of instructing the soldiers themselves with regard to the care and use of their ammunition. This instruction, it may be said, should come from their regimental and company officers, but much may be done by field ordnance officers in originating or suggesting such instruction, and helping to give it proper direction.

Lastly. It is very much to be desired that responsibility for defective ammunition should be promptly fixed upon the proper parties; and this may be accomplished by accurate and faithful reports, as above suggested, from ordnance officers on duty in the field.

The foregoing instructions, carefully prepared by Capt. J. W. Mallet, Superintendent Confederate States Laboratories, will be studied by ordnance officers, and the details conformed to, whenever possible.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

By direction of the Secretary of War, the following circular is addressed to army and department commanders for their guidance :

I. .The practice of issuing, on the eve of an expected engagement, twenty rounds of ammunition to infantry, over and above the capacity of the cartridge-boxes, will be discontinued, except on the special order of the general commanding an army or department.

II. .Issues of cartridges, except to cover expenditure in battle, will be limited to three cartridges per man, per month, for the whole effective strength of any army, or of the forces serving in any department. Supplies to cover expenditures in battle will be furnished on separate requisitions, specifying the battle in which the ammunition to be replaced was consumed.

III. .The Chief of Bureau of Ordnance will give instructions to the several arsenals charged with supplies of troops, under the circular of March 31, 1863, approved by the Secretary of War, to regulate issues accordingly. All issues are to be made on requisitions approved by the chief of ordnance of the army or department requiring the supplies, except in cases of evident emergency.

Signed

H. L. CLAY,

Lieutenant-Colonel and A. A. G.

ALIENS.

Respecting the discharge of, Attorney-General decides that sole question is, as to domicil. Domicil is settlement with intention of remaining permanently. Practice of department is, to require affidavits of other persons beside soldier himself. These must establish fact of an intention to leave, or absence of an intention to remain.

Must be domiciliated within the Confederate States to be subject to military service. The decision of the question of domiciliation of an alien may be arrived at by:

Endorsement of Assistant Secretary of War on a communication forwarded from Head-quarters Dept. S. C., Ga., and Fla., concerning the question of domicil.

- 1st. The length of time he has resided in the country ;
- 2d. The nature of his business ;
- 3d. The nature of his social and family connections in the country ;

ARTILLERY.

General Orders, No. 81, A. and I. G. O., of 1862, not intended to be retroactive in effects, and do not affect organizations of light batteries received by the President under act of May 10, 1861. (No. 115.)

By order Secretary of War, January 21, 1863.

Extract from letter of Lieutenant-Colonel E. A. Palfrey, A. A. G., to Colonel D. L. Clinch, 4th Ga. cavalry, July 14, 1863.

Under the laws, the department has no power to appoint officers of artillery, P. A. C. S., below the rank of major (except for ordnance duty), and for that rank the number of guns to be commanded must be at least sixteen. (See act January 22, 1862.)

BOARDS OF EXAMINATION.

Letter of Major Samuel W. Melton, A. A. G., to Brigadier-General W. B. Tallaferrro, dated Richmond, April 25, 1863.

If the brigade commander is satisfied, upon a review of the proceedings of the examining boards, of the competency of the officer elected, he has authority to issue the order placing such officer on duty.

When an officer is promoted or elected, and he is deemed competent, or a board pronounces him so, there is, practically, an end of the matter. The proceedings of the board should, in all cases, be forwarded, but their approval may be presumed.

In cases of officers rejected by the board, the third section of the "act to relieve the army of disqualified, disabled, and incompetent officers," devolves upon the President the final decision in respect to the officer rejected, and the second section provides for his suspension until action of the President.

During that suspension, it is competent for the department commander to order the next officer in rank to assume his duties: but no appointment by promotion, in place of rejected officers, can be made, until the proceedings of the board are duly approved by the President.

Hon. Secretary of War to General Jos. E. Johnston, dated Richmond, April 25, 1863.

The examination, under act of Congress approved October 13, 1862, "to relieve the army of disqualified, disabled, and incompetent officers," is to determine the qualifications of the officer for the discharge of the duties properly appertaining to his position, not to perform the functions of a court martial as a trial for specific offences. An inquiry into alleged offences can only be made as incidental to the main object, viz: the determination of the general qualifications and charge of legitimate duties.

Whenever the board shall determine that any officer is clearly unfit to discharge his legitimate and proper duties, or careless and inattentive in their discharge, the full report of their proceedings must be communicated, with their decision, to the commanding general, to be forwarded to the Secretary of War, to be by him, if the findings of the board be approved, laid before the President for his action.

This report should be made up separately in each case, and should show the order convening the board—that the officer was present before it, or was notified to attend—and all the evidence, oral and documentary, adduced before the board, including the personal examination of the officer, if one was had. Should the board desire the actual experiment of a drill before them, the result of their observations would probably be stated.

If the alleged disability proceed from physical causes, or sickness, or wounds, the nature and permanence of the disability should be shown—and if the officer should desire to withdraw from the service on account of such disability, or because of his unwillingness to stand an examination, his resignation, stating the reason, should be forwarded for acceptance by the War department. General Orders, No. 15, paragraph I, series 1863, A. and I. G. Office, furnishes a convenient and appropriate mode of relieving the service of officers absent without leave, or guilty of desertion, who can not be subject to trial by court martial.

Though the proceedings under the act of Congress of October 13, 1862, can be made to apply to all cases, whether the officer is or is not commissioned, or recognized as in commission, that under General Orders, No. 39, paragraph II, of 1862, can still be used by the commanding general in those cases to which it refers, except in those where the vacancy to be filled has been created by the operation of the act—in which event it is required that the board be convened by the commanding general, and not by the brigade commander.

CLAIMS.

Regulations for the payment of, for arrears of pay and allowances due to deceased officers and soldiers of the Confederate army, as by act No. 402, approved February 15, 1862, and act No. 30, approved October 8, 1862.

Regulations adopted by Second Auditor and approved by Hon. Secretary of War, November 5, 1862.

The first section of the above-named act provides "that the pay and allowances due to any volunteer, non-commissioned officer, musician, or private in the army of the Confederate States, shall be paid to the widow of the deceased, if living—if not, to the children, if any; and in default of widow or children, to the father, if living—if not, to the mother of such deceased volunteer."

The first section of act No. 30 provides "that claims due to deceased non-commissioned officers and privates for pay, allowances, and bounty, may be audited and paid, where there is official evidence of the amount due, satisfactory to the Second Auditor, under such regulations as he has or may prescribe, with the approval of the Secretary of War."

By section second of same act, it is provided "that the claims of deceased commissioned officers shall be paid to their heirs or representatives, in the same manner as similar claims of non-commissioned officers and privates are now or may be directed by law to be paid."

Payments will be made accordingly, under the following rules :

- 1st. If the child or children be minor, payment will be made to the guardian, upon the production of the proper certificate of guardianship, under the seal of the court.
- 2d. The claimant must produce his or her affidavit, and that of one disinterested witness, stating the relationship—for instance, if the claimant be a mother, the affidavit must state that there is living neither wife, child, or father of the deceased; if the father, that there is neither wife nor child; and if the child, that there is no widowed wife.

The magistrate, or other proper officer, must testify to the credibility of the witness, and the clerk of the court must certify, under the seal of the same, that he is such a magistrate.

Powers of attorney or assignment, which will seldom be necessary, may be executed before a magistrate, or in the presence of two respectable witnesses.

COOKS.

Endorsement of Quartermaster-General on a paper forwarded from Headquarters Department So. Ca., Ga., and Fla.

Act of Congress passed April 21, 1862, makes it the duty of commanding officers of companies to enlist four (4) men to cook for each company, who will be entitled to "extra duty" pay at the ordinary rate per diem, when detail is made in accordance with paragraph 885, Army Regulations.

COMMISSIONS.

By command of A. and I. General, June 26, 1863.

Are not issued to company officers. They are placed on duty by orders, which, taken with the rolls, supply the place of commissions.

DISCHARGES.

Endorsed decision Secretary of War, under date November 26, 1863, on application for, on ground that applicant has contract to carry the mail.

The taking a contract to carry the mail by a soldier in the military service, does not entitle him to; Secretary of War announces it as his purpose to refuse in all such cases.

DESERTERS.

Endorsed on a letter from Gen. J. H. Trippier, dated Sept. 16, 1863, by Major J. H. Hoge, and concurred in by Hon. Secretary of War.

Decision of Quartermaster-General as to whether the horse of a deserter can be retained in service, and be used to mount another soldier deficient in a horse.

The government acquires no ownership in cavalry horses; they belong to the mounted volunteer, and he is paid for their use and risk a per diem allowance.

The horse of a deserter is still his property, and under no law can it be forfeited; it may be impressed as other property, and payment might be withheld because of the disloyalty of the deserter, but the impressment must be for transportation purposes, as the law does not authorize the impressment or purchase of cavalry horses.

ORDNANCE STORES.

Copy of inspection reports shall be sent to Department Headquarters for approval and order as to final distribution of the property—which done, a copy of the report, with final order in the matter, shall be sent to the Bureau of Ordnance.

Decisions of Ordnance and War departments under respective dates Dec. 17 and 24, 1863, concerning disposition of, declared unserviceable by an inspector-gen l.

ORGANIZATIONS.

New, can only be formed of men over the age of 45 years.

Hon. Secretary of War, Jan'y 10, 1863.

OFFICERS.

State laws to change the manner of creating, can not operate upon regiments previously mustered into Confederate service, which, by virtue of such muster, are not subject to state authority.

Gen. S. Cooper, A. and I. General, to Gen. Beauregard, May 9, 1863.

A junior second lieutenant can not waive his right to be senior second lieutenant; the grade being the same, he would necessarily be senior by virtue of priority of date.

Lieut. Colonel E. A. Palfrey, A. A. G., June 11, 1863, to Brig. Gen. W. S. Walker, P. A. C. S.

An election may be held for a junior second lieutenant, who may, if the senior second lieutenant waive promotion, be promoted to first lieutenant; and then an election may be held for a junior second lieutenant.

There is no law authorizing an election of a first lieutenant.

PROMOTIONS.

In legions, take place by seniority in its several arms as a whole.

Major S. W. Melton, A. A. G., April 28, 1863, to Brig. General N. G. Evans.

In cases where next officer in order of succession waives his privilege.

Major E. A. Palfrey, A. A. G., to General Beauregard, dated Richmond, Oct'r 29, 1862.

The waiver of title to promotion, with sanction of commanding general, considered as equivalent to sentence of a competent examining board of disability.

Upon written evidence of waiver on part of officer, next in rank may be promoted.

RATIONS.

The provisions of General Orders, No. 95, A. and I. G. O., series of 1862, allowing the, of sick and wounded in hospitals to be commuted at $1.00, extends to all hospitals, and not merely to general hospitals.

Telegram from Gen-
S. Cooper, A. and I.
General, to General
Beauregard, dated
March 25, 1863.

Paragraph 1,131, General Regulations, relating to commutation of, to soldiers on furlough, is still in force —i. e., the rations of “soldiers on furlough, or stationed where rations can not be issued in kind, may be commuted at the cost value of the ration at the post,” which must be paid after return from furlough. (See paragraph IV, G. O. 96, C. S.)

RANK.

Extract from letter addressed to Hon. L. P.
Walker, Secretary of War, by Hon. J. P.
Benjamin, Attorney-General, dated Sept.

Opinion of Attorney-General on the question of, of officers.

Is the rank of officers who hold commissions from the separate states determined by the date of their state commissions, or by the date of their entry into the service of the Confederate States?

1. The rank of officers, while serving in the Confederate army, is to be determined according to the date of the muster into service, * * * except where troops have been received into service in the absence of an officer authorized to muster them: * * * in such cases, the officer would take rank from the date he was received into service.

2. Officers commissioned directly by the President will not take rank over officers of like grade commissioned by the states, without regard to the date of the muster into service of the latter.

3. When regiments are formed of companies which were separately mustered into service of the Confederate States, the captains take rank according to the date of the muster into service. When several companies, organized into a regiment, were mustered into service on the same day, the relative rank of the captains is to be determined by the date of the state commissions; when these commissions also bear same date, the relative rank is to be determined by lot.

Opinion of Major-General Gilmer, Chief of Engineer Bureau
1863), as to the proper mode of treating claims for slaves lost while in the employ of the Confederate States.

Payment can only be made when Congress shall make a specific appropriation for the purpose. As a basis for such an appropriation, the Secretary of War has expressed a wish that commanding officers and officers of engineers should give special attention to the collection of facts in each case, to be used in evidence in support of the claim; the same to be forwarded to the War department, and submitted, after examination by the Engineer bureau, to the Attorney-General, whose duty it is, by law, to ask an appropriation by Congress to meet the claims deemed well founded. Under this view, therefore, payment can only be made after the funds shall have been provided by Congress.

By paragraph seventh, General Orders, 138, current series, A. and I. G. O., the Confederate States are responsible for the value of negroes employed on public works, and this value is to be determined by an appraisalment of experts made at the time the negroes are received.

SUBSTITUTES.

Will not be received unless the substitution first have the approval of the general commanding the army or the department to which the soldier belongs.

Lieutenant-Colonel H. L. Clay, A. A. G., Richmond, May 14, 1863, to Gen. Beauregard.

Principal not liable if substitute deserts, provided substitution was effected prior to date of General Orders, 98, A. and I. G. O., series of 1863—that is, before July 20, 1863.

Endorsed decision of Secretary of War, under date September 9, 1863, on a communication from Maj. Perryman, Enrolling officer.

Has no right to complain of a violation in any order or regulation by which he was brought into service. He has entered voluntarily, and must fulfil his contract.

Decision of Hon. J. A. Campbell, Assistant Secretary of War, under date November 2, 1863.

Nor can the captain of a company receive a substitute, and, after discharging the principal and using the substitute, repudiate the bargain.

The annulment of the act, under such circumstances, can only be done by the department.

VACANCIES.

In grade of brevet second lieutenant can not be filled by appointment, except in cases of promotion for gallant and meritorious conduct, by act of the President. All such vacancies must be filled by election.

I..The following acts of Congress and Regulations are published for the information of all persons concerned therein :

ACTS.

An act to prevent the enlistment or enrolment of substitutes in the military service of the Confederate States.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That no person liable to military service shall hereafter be permitted or allowed to furnish a substitute for such service, nor shall any substitute be received, enlisted, or enrolled in the military service of the Confederate States." [Approved December 28, 1863.]

An act to put an end to the exemption from military service, of those who have heretofore furnished substitutes.

"Whereas, in the present circumstances of the country, it requires the aid of all who are able to bear arms :

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That no person shall be exempted from military service by reason of his having furnished a substitute; but this act shall not be so construed as to affect persons who, though not liable to render military service, have, nevertheless, furnished substitutes." [Approved January 5, 1864.]

II..Persons rendered liable to military service by operation of the preceding acts, are placed on the same footing with all others hitherto held liable by acts of Congress.

III..Persons herein rendered liable to military service are required to report as volunteers or conscripts, without delay, to the enrolling officers; and all who delay beyond the 1st day of February, 1864, will be considered as having renounced the privilege of volunteering, and held for assignment according to law.

IV..Enrolling officers will proceed, as rapidly as practicable, in the enrolment of persons herein made liable to military service. Previous to enrolment as conscripts, all such persons will be allowed to volunteer in companies in service on the 16th of April, 1862; provided the company chosen does not at the time of volunteering reach the maximum number allowed; and upon such company being selected, the volunteer will receive from the enrolling officer a certificate to the effect that he has so volunteered; and no volunteer will be received into any company except on such certificate. Persons who fail to make their selection at the time of enrolment, will be assigned according to existing regulations.

V..Persons who report to the enrolling officers will be enrolled, and may be allowed a furlough of ten days before reporting to the camp of instruction.

VI..All persons, whether volunteers or conscripts under this order, will pass through the camp of instruction of the state to which they belong, and be forwarded thence to the companies which are selected, or to which they may be assigned.

VII..The Bureau of Conscription is charged with adopting proper regulations for the enforcement of this order.

VIII..All exemptions heretofore granted are subject to revision, under instructions from the Bureau of Conscription; and if found to be improper, or unauthorized by law, will be revoked.

By order.

I..Whenever ordnance stores are lost or damaged in any brigade, it will be the duty of each brigade or district commander, at the request of his ordnance officer, or of any officer accountable for ordnance stores, to appoint, as often as necessary, a board of survey, to consist of three officers, to assess the value of or damage to such stores.

II..The decision of this board, with the approval of the brigade or district commander, will be final; and it will be the duty of the brigade or district ordnance officer to notify the company commander to stop the amount on the muster-rolls when privates are found chargeable; and when officers are found chargeable, instead of reporting to the Secretary of War, as required by paragraph 921, General Regulations, he will notify the brigade quartermaster, or the chief quartermaster of the district, to have the amount stopped at the next payment. Duplicate of such notification, in the case of officers and privates, to be sent to the Chief of Ordnance at Richmond, to be by him transmitted to the Second Auditor of the Treasury.

III..The brigade or district ordnance officer will furnish the brigade inspector, or other officer having charge of that duty, with a statement of all stoppages made by the board of survey against officers and men, and the inspector will see that these stoppages are actually made.

IV..The same instructions will be adjoined to in the artillery, where the officers in charge of the artillery of a corps or of a department will call the board of survey.

V..Ordnance sergeants of regiments will remain habitually with their regiments, and keep themselves constantly informed as to the positions of the brigade ordnance train.

VI..The use of the sword-bayonet having been generally disapproved by boards of officers in the field, to whom the question of its usefulness was referred, its manufacture has been ordered to be discontinued. The triangular bayonet will be substituted.

VII..Hospital funds, within $5,000, accrued at general hospitals, may be transferred to other general hospitals, on the order of the Medical Director or Surgeon-General.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, February 3, 1864.

I..In the event of the loss of company records, and the consequent inability of the commanding officers to certify, therefrom, the clothing accounts of soldiers, said accounts may be stated from memory, provided such statements are supported by the affidavits of the soldiers interested.

II..When, from the casualties of war, companies have been entirely deprived of their officers, in the adjustment of clothing accounts the affidavit of the soldier, together with those of two of his comrades, will be esteemed sufficient evidence to authorize a settlement with him, if the statement shall be approved by the regimental commander.

III. . Hereafter the articles of clothing issued during the year will be stated opposite the name of each soldier, upon the muster-roll of his company, at the annual settlement directed in General Orders, No. 100, Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, December 8, 1862.

IV. . The attention of company commanders is called to the requirements of the above quoted General Orders. By failing to account for clothing received by them for issue to their men, they render themselves liable to be charged with its value, and a stoppage of their pay to the amount.

V. . From and after the 1st of February, 1864, instead of supplying company commanders with clothing for their men, officers of the Quartermaster's department will issue to the soldier, upon the requisition of his immediate commanding officer.

VI. . In making payments to soldiers upon descriptive lists, officers of the Quartermaster's department will be careful to endorse thereon the amounts paid, and the time for which they have been paid, returning the same to them for delivery to their company commanders, and filing with their accounts a certified copy thereof.

RICHMOND, February 20, 1864.

The following act of Congress is published for the information of the army:

An act to reduce the currency, and to authorize a new issue of notes and bonds.

SEC. 1: The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the holders of all treasury notes above the denomination of five dollars, not bearing interest, shall be allowed until the first day of April, 1864, east of the Mississippi river, and until the first day of July, 1864, west of the Mississippi river, to fund the same, and until the periods and at the places stated, the holders of all such treasury notes shall be allow- ed to fund the same in registered bonds payable twenty years after their date, bearing interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable on the first day of January and July of each year.

SEC. 2. The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to issue the bonds required for the funding provided for in the preceding section; and until the bonds can be prepared, he may issue certificates to answer the purpose. Such bonds and certificates shall be receivable, without interest, in payment of all government dues payable in the year 1864, except export and import duties.

SEC. 3. That all treasury notes of the denomination of one hundred dollars, not bearing interest, which shall not be presented for funding under the provisions of the first section of this act, shall, from and after the first day of April, 1864, east of the Mississippi river, and the first day of July, 1864, west of the Mississippi river, cease to be receivable in the payment of public dues; and said notes, if not so presented at that time, shall, in addition to the tax of thirty-three and one-third cents imposed in the 4th section of this act, be subject to a tax of ten per cent. per month until so presented; which taxes shall attach to said notes wherever circulated, and shall be deducted from the face of said notes whenever presented for payment or for funding, and said notes shall not be exchangeable for the new issue of treasury notes provided for in this act.

SEC. 4. That on all said treasury notes not funded or used in payment of taxes at the dates and places prescribed in the first section of this act, there shall be levied at said dates and places a tax of thirty-three and one-third cents for every dollar promised on the face of said notes. Said tax shall attach to said notes wherever circulated, and shall be collected by deducting the same at the treasury, its depositories, and by the tax collectors, and by all government officers receiving the same, whenever presented for payment or for funding, or in payment of government dues, or for postage, or in exchange for new notes as hereinafter provided; and said treasury notes shall be fundable in bonds, as provided in the first section of this act, until the first day of January, 1865, at the rate of sixty-six and two-thirds cents on the dollar; and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury, at any time between the first of April, east, and the first of July, 1864, west, of the Mississippi river, and the first of January, 1865, to substitute and exchange new treasury notes for the same, at the rate of sixty-six and two-thirds cents on the dollar; provided, that notes of the denomination of one hundred dollars shall not be entitled to the privilege of said exchange; provided, further, that the right to fund any of said treasury notes after first day of January, 1865, is hereby taken away; and provided, further, that upon all such treasury notes which may remain outstanding on the first day of January, 1865, and which may not be exchanged for new treasury notes as herein provided, a tax of one hundred per cent. is hereby imposed.

SEC. 5. That after the first day of April next all authority heretofore given to the Secretary of the Treasury to issue treasury notes shall be and is hereby revoked: provided, the Secretary of the Treasury may, after that time, issue new treasury notes in such form as he may prescribe, payable two years after the ratification of a treaty of peace with the United States, said new issues to be receivable in payment of all public dues except export and import duties, and to be issued in exchange for old notes at the rate of two dollars of the new for three dollars of the old issues, whether said old notes be surrendered for exchange by the holders thereof, or be received into the treasury under the provisions of this act; and the holders of the new notes or of the old notes, except those of the denomination of one hundred dollars, after they are reduced to sixty-six and two-thirds cents on the dollar, by the tax aforesaid, may convert the same into call certificates, bearing interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, and payable two years after the ratification of a treaty of peace with the United States, unless sooner converted into new notes.

SEC. 6. That to pay the expenses of the government not otherwise provided for, the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to issue six per cent. bonds, to an amount not exceeding five hundred millions of dollars, the principal and interest whereof shall be free from taxation; and for the payment of the interest thereon the entire net receipts of any export duty hereafter laid on the value of all cotton, tobacco, and naval stores, which shall be exported from the Confederate States, and the net proceeds of the import duties now laid, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay annually the interest, are hereby specially pledged; provided, that the duties now laid upon imports and hereby pledged, shall hereafter be paid in specie, or in sterling exchange, or in the coupons of said bonds.

SEC. 7. That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized, from time to time, as the wants of the treasury may require it, to sell or hypothecate for treasury notes said bonds, or any part thereof, upon the best terms he can, so as to meet appropriations by Congress, and at the same time reduce and restrict the amount of the circulation in treasury notes within reasonable and safe limits.

SEC. 8. The bonds authorized by the sixth section of this act may be either registered or coupon bonds, as the parties taking them may elect, and they may be exchanged for each other under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. They shall be for one hundred dollars, or some multiple of one hundred dollars, and shall, together with the coupons thereto attached, be in such form and of such authentication as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. The interest shall be payable half yearly, on the first of January and July in each year—the principal shall be payable not less than thirty years from their date.

SEC. 9. All call certificates shall be fundable, and shall be taxed in all respects, as is provided for the treasury notes into which they are convertible. If not converted before the time fixed for taxing the treasury notes, such certificates shall, from that time, bear interest upon only sixty-six and two-thirds cents for every dollar promised upon their face, and shall be redeemable only in new treasury notes at that rate; but after the passage of this act no call certificates shall be issued until after the first day of April, 1864.

SEC. 10. That if any bank of deposit shall give its depositors the bonds authorized by the first section of this act in exchange for their deposits, and specify the same on the bonds by some distinctive mark or token, to be agreed upon with the Secretary of the Treasury, then the said depositor shall be entitled to receive the amount of said bonds in treasury notes bearing no interest, and outstanding at the passage of this act; provided, the said bonds are presented before the privilege of funding said notes at par shall cease, as herein prescribed.

SEC. 11. That all treasury notes heretofore issued of the denomination of five dollars shall continue to be receivable in payment of public dues, as provided by law, and fundable at par under the provisions of this act, until the first day of July, 1864, east, and until the first day of October, 1864, west, of the Mississippi river, but after that time they shall be subject to a tax of thirty-three and one-third cents on every dollar promised on the face thereof—said tax to attach to said notes wherever circulated, and said notes to be fundable and exchangeable for new treasury notes, as herein provided, subject to the deduction of said tax.

SEC. 12. That any state holding treasury notes, received before the times herein fixed for taxing said notes, shall be allowed until the first day of January, 1865, to fund the same in six per cent. bonds of the Confederate States, payable twenty years after date, and the interest payable semi-annually. But all treasury notes received by any state after the time fixed for taxing the same as aforesaid, shall be held to have been received diminished by the amount of said tax. The discrimination between the notes subject to the tax and those not so subject shall be left to the good faith of each state, and the certificate of the governor thereof shall in each case be conclusive.

SEC. 13. That treasury notes heretofore issued, bearing interest at the rate of seven dollars and thirty cents on the hundred dollars per annum, shall no longer be received in payment of public dues, but shall be deemed and considered bonds of the Confederate States, payable two years after a ratification of a treaty of peace with the United States, bearing the rate of interest specified on their face, payable on the first day of January in each and every year.

SEC. 14. That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and he is hereby authorized, in case the exigencies of the government should require it, to pay the demand of any public creditor whose debt may be contracted after the passage of this act, willing to receive the same, in a certificate of indebtedness to be issued by said secretary, in such form as he may deem proper, payable two years after a ratification of a treaty of peace with the United States, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and transferable only by special endorsement under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, and said certificate shall be exempt from taxation in principal and interest.

SEC. 15. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to increase the number of depositories so as to meet the requirements of this act, and with that view to employ such of the banks of the several states as he may deem expedient.

SEC. 16. The Secretary of the Treasury shall forthwith advertise this act in such newspapers published in the several states, and by such other means as shall secure immediate publicity, and the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy shall each cause it to be published in general orders for the information of the army and navy.

SEC. 17. The forty-second section of the act for the assessment and collection of taxes, approved May 1, 1863, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 18. The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and required, upon the application of the holder of any call certificate—which, by the first section of the act “to provide for the funding and further issue of treasury notes,” approved March 23, 1863, was required to be “thereafter deemed to be a bond”—to issue to such holder a bond therefor upon the terms provided by said act. No. 26. }

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

The following act of Congress and Regulations are published for the information and guidance of all concerned:

An act to organize forces to serve during the war.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That from and after the passage of this act, all white men, residents of the Confederate States, between the ages of seventeen and fifty, shall be in the military service of the Confederate States for the war.

SEC. 2. That all the persons aforesaid, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, now in service, shall be retained, during the present war with the United States, in the same regiments, battalions, and companies to which they belong at the passage of this act, with the same organization and officers, unless regularly transferred or discharged, in accordance with the laws and regulations for the government of the army: provided, that companies from one state, organized against their consent, expressed at the time, with regiments or battalions from another state, shall have the privilege of being transferred to organizations of troops in the same arm of the service from the state in which said companies were raised ; and the soldiers from one state in companies from another state shall be allowed, if they desire it, a transfer to organizations from their own state in the same arm of the service.

SEC. 3. That, at the expiration of six months from the first day of April next, a bounty of one hundred dollars, in a six per cent. government bond, which the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to issue, shall be paid to every non-commissioned officer, musician, and private who shall then be in the service, or, in the event of his death previous to the period of such payment, then to the person or persons who would be entitled by law to receive the arrearages of his pay ; but no one shall be entitled to the bounty herein provided who shall, at any time during the period of six months next after the said first day of April, be absent from his command without leave.

SEC. 4. That no person shall be relieved from the operation of this act by reason of having been heretofore discharged from the army, where no disability now exists, nor shall those who have furnished substitutes be any longer exempted by reason thereof ; provided, that no person heretofore exempted on account of religious opinions, and who has paid the tax levied to relieve him from service, shall be required to render military service under this act.

SEC. 5. That all white male residents of the Confederate States, between the ages of seventeen and eighteen and forty-five and fifty years, shall enroll themselves, at such times and places, and under such regulations, as the President may prescribe—the time allowed not being less than thirty days for those east, and sixty days for those west, of the Mississippi river ; and any person who shall fail so to enroll himself, without a reasonable excuse therefor, to be judged of by the President, shall be placed in service in the field for the war, in the same manner as though he were between the ages of eighteen and forty-five ; provided, that the persons mentioned in this section shall constitute a reserve for state defence and detail duty, and shall not be required to perform service out of the state in which they reside.

SEC. 6. That all persons required by the fifth section of this act to enroll themselves may, within thirty days after the passage hereof, east of the Mississippi river, and within sixty days if west of said river, form themselves into voluntary organizations of companies, battalions, or regiments, and elect their own officers—said organizations to conform to the existing law ; and having so organized, to tender their services as volunteers during the war, to the President ; and if such organizations shall furnish proper muster-rolls, as now required, and deposit a copy thereof with the enrolling officer of their district (which shall be equivalent to enrolment), they may be accepted as minute-men for service in such state, but in no event to be taken out of it. Those who do not so volunteer and organize shall enroll themselves as before provided, and may, by the President, be required to assemble at places of rendezvous and be formed into companies, battalions, and regiments, under regulations to be prescribed by him, and shall have the right to elect their company and regimental officers; and all troops organized under this act for state defence shall be entitled, while in actual service, to the same pay and allowances as troops now in the field.

SEC. 7. That any person who shall fail to attend at the place of rendezvous, as required by the authority of the President, without a sufficient excuse, to be judged of by him, shall be liable to be placed in service in the field for the war as if he were between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years.

SEC. 8. That hereafter the duties of provost and hospital guards and clerks, of clerks, guards, agents, employees, or laborers in the Commissary and Quartermaster's departments, in the Ordnance department, and clerks and employees of navy agents, as also in the execution of the enrolment acts, and all similar duties, shall be performed by persons who are within the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, and who, by the report of a board of army surgeons, shall be reported as unable to perform active service in the field, but capable of performing some of the above-named duties, specifying which; and when those persons shall have been assigned to these duties as far as practicable, the President shall detail or assign to their performance such bodies of troops or individuals, required to be enrolled under the fifth section of this act, as may be needed for the discharge of such duties; provided, that persons between the ages of seventeen and eighteen shall not be assigned to these duties; provided further, that nothing contained in this act shall be so construed as to prevent the President from detailing artisans, mechanics, or persons of scientific skill, to perform indispensable duties in the departments or bureaux herein mentioned.

SEC. 9. That any quartermaster or assistant quartermaster, commissary or assistant commissary (other than those serving with regiments and brigades in the field), or officer in the ordnance bureau, or navy agent, or provost marshal, or officer in the conscript service, who shall hereafter employ or retain in his employment any person in any of their said departments or bureaux, or in any of the duties mentioned in the eighth section of this act, in violation of the provisions hereof, shall, on conviction thereof, by a court-martial or military court, be cashiered; and it shall be the duty of any department or district commander, upon proof by the oath of any credible person, that any such officer has violated this provision, immediately to relieve such officer from duty; and said commander shall take prompt measures to have him tried for such offence; and any commander as aforesaid failing to perform the duties enjoined by this section, shall, upon being duly convicted thereof, be dismissed from the service.

SEC. 10. That all laws granting exemptions from military service be and the same are hereby repealed, and hereafter none shall be exempted except the following:

I. All who shall be held unfit for military service, under rules to be prescribed by the Secretary of War.

II. The Vice-President of the Confederate States; the members and officers of Congress and of the several state legislatures, and such other Confederate and state officers as the President or the governors of the respective states may certify to be necessary for the proper administration of the Confederate or state governments, as the case may be.

III. Every minister of religion authorized to preach according to the rules of his church, and who, at the passage of this act, shall be regularly employed in the discharge of his ministerial duties; superintendents and physicians of asylums of the deaf, dumb, and blind, and of the insane; one editor for each newspaper being published at the time of the passage of this act, and such employees as said editor may certify, on oath, to be indispensable to the publication of such newspaper; the public printer of the Confederate and state governments, and such journeymen printers as the said public printer shall certify, on oath, to be indispensable to perform the public printing; one skilled apothecary in each apothecary store, who was doing business as such apothecary on the tenth day of October, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and has continued said business, without intermission, since that period; all physicians over the age of thirty years, who now are, and for the last seven years have been, in the actual and regular practice of their profession—but the term physician shall not include dentists; all presidents and teachers of colleges, theological seminaries, academies, and schools, who have been regularly engaged as such for two years next before the passage of this act; provided, that the benefit of this exemption shall extend to those teachers only whose schools are composed of twenty students or more; all superintendents of public hospitals established by law before the passage of this act, and such physicians and nurses therein as such superintendent shall certify, on oath, to be indispensable to the proper and efficient management thereof.

IV. There shall be exempt one person as overseer or agriculturist on each farm or plantation upon which there are now, and were, upon the first day of January last, fifteen able-bodied field hands, between the ages of sixteen and fifty, upon the following conditions: 1. This exemption shall only be granted in cases in which there is no white male adult on the farm or plantation not liable to military service, nor unless the person claiming the exemption was, on the first day of January, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, either the owner and manager or overseer of said plantation; but in no case shall more than one person be exempted for one farm or plantation. 2. Such person shall first execute a bond, payable to the Confederate States of America, in such form, and with such security, and in such penalty, as the Secretary of War may prescribe, conditioned that he will deliver to the government, at some railroad depot, or such other place or places as may be designated by the Secretary of War, within twelve months then next ensuing, one hundred pounds of bacon, or, at the election of the government, its equivalent in pork, and one hundred pounds of net beef (said beef to be delivered on foot), for each able-bodied slave on the farm or plantation, within the above said ages, whether said slaves be worked in the field or not; which said bacon or pork and beef shall be paid for by the government at the prices fixed by the commissioners of the state under the Impressment act; provided, that when the person thus exempted shall produce satisfactory evidence that it has been impossible for him, by the exercise of proper diligence, to furnish the amount of meat thus contracted for, and leave an adequate supply for the subsistence of those living on said farm or plantation, the Secretary of War shall direct a commutation of the same to the extent of two-thirds thereof in grain or other provisions, to be delivered by such person as aforesaid, at equivalent rates. 3. Such person shall further bind himself to sell the marketable surplus of provisions and grain now on hand, and which he may raise from year to year, while his exemption continues, to the government or to the families of soldiers, at prices fixed by the commissioners of the state under the Impressment act; provided, that any person, exempted as aforesaid, shall be entitled to a credit of twenty-five per cent. on any amount of meat which he may deliver within three months from the passage of this act; provided, further, that persons coming within the provisions of this exemption shall not be deprived thereof by reason of having been enrolled since the first day of February, eighteen hundred and sixty-four.

In addition to the foregoing exemptions, the Secretary of War, under the direction of the President, may exempt or detail such other persons as he may be satisfied ought to be exempted on account of public necessity, and to ensure the production of grain and provisions for the army and the families of soldiers. He may also grant exemptions or details, on such terms as he may prescribe, to such overseers, farmers, or planters as he may be satisfied will be more useful to the country in the pursuits of agriculture than in the military service; provided, that such exemptions shall cease whenever the farmer, planter, or overseer shall fail diligently to employ, in good faith, his own skill, capital, and labor exclusively in the production of grain and provisions, to be sold to the government and the families of soldiers at prices not exceeding those fixed at the time for like articles by the commissioners of the state under the Impressment act.

V. The president, treasurer, auditor, and superintendent of any railroad company engaged in transportation for the government, and such officers and employees thereof as the president or superintendent shall certify, on oath, to be indispensable to the efficient operation of such railroad; provided, that the number of persons exempted by this act on any railroad shall not exceed one for each mile of such road in actual use for military transportation, and said exempts shall be reported by name and description, with the names of any who may have left the employment of said company, or who may cease to be indispensable to the efficient operation of its road, at least once a month, to the Secretary of War, or such officer as he may designate for that purpose; and provided, further, that such president or superintendent shall, in each such monthly report, certify, on oath, that no person liable to military service has been employed by his company since the passage of this act in any position in which it was practicable to employ one not liable to military service, and capable of performing efficiently the duties of such position. And in cases where railroads have fallen into the hands of the enemy, and a portion of the rolling stock of such roads is being used on other roads not in the enemy's hands, the president and superintendent of said first named roads shall be exempt.

VI. That nothing herein contained shall be construed as repealing the act approved April fourteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, entitled An act to exempt contractors for carrying the mails of the Confederate States, and the drivers of post-coaches and hacks, from military service; provided, that the exemptions granted under this act shall only continue while the persons exempted are actually engaged in their respective pursuits or occupations.

SEC. 11. That the President be and he is hereby authorized to grant details, under general rules and regulations to be issued by the War department, either from persons between forty-five and fifty years of age, or from the army in the field, in all cases when, in his judgment, justice, equity, and necessity require such details, and he may revoke such orders of details whenever he thinks proper; provided, that the power herein granted to the President to make details and exemptions shall not be construed to authorize the exemption or detail of any contractor for furnishing supplies of any kind to the government, by reason of said contract, unless the head or secretary of the department making such contract shall certify that the personal services of said contractor are indispensable to the execution of the contract; provided, further, that when any such contractor shall fail diligently and faithfully to proceed with the execution of such contract, his exemption or detail shall cease.

SEC. 12. That in appointing local boards of surgeons for the examination of persons liable to military service, no member composing the same shall be appointed from the county or enrolling district in which they are required to make such examination. [Approved February 17, 1864.]

I. The superintendence of the measures necessary for the enrolment, examination, enlistment, assignment, detail, and exemption of all persons not belonging to the army, in the states east of the Mississippi river, who are placed in the military service by the above act of Congress, is devolved on the Bureau of Conscription; and all officers and persons assigned or to be employed in the conscription service, or upon other duty imposed upon the bureau, will be subject to its orders, and their various acts and decisions may be revised therein, under the orders and instructions of the War department.

II. The Bureau of Conscription, under the orders of the department, will proceed to organize, in every state, efficient agencies for the performance of the necessary duties imposed by this order. These agencies will consist of a commandant of conscripts in each state, a suitable number of camps of instruction, under the charge of commanders, and enrolling officers, and drill-masters, to be appointed or assigned under acts of Congress or the orders of the War department. The Bureau of Conscription will, by instructions to these officers, designate the duties that they shall perform, the reports that they shall make, and will determine the effect of their certificates and other official evidence they may be required to give.

In the performance of the duties of making exemptions and details, the Bureau of Conscription may, from time to time, organize within the states temporary boards to obtain information and advice relative to the necessity or propriety of exemptions or details to be granted under the provisions of the above act of Congress.

III. All applications for exemption or detail under this act, except as hereafter excepted, and except such details as are required for the service of any of the military bureaus, or for service in any of the departments of the government, will be made in writing to the enrolling officer of the appropriate county or district, and be supported by the affidavit of the applicant and other testimony under oath. The enrolling officer will endorse his opinion on each and every application, and transmit it to the commandant of conscripts for his approval, with a certificate of approval. If the enrolling officer approve the application, he may grant a certificate of exemption for a period not exceeding sixty days, which shall remain in force for that period, unless countermanded by the commandant of conscripts. Every applicant for exemption or detail, whose claim shall be refused by the enrolling officer and commandant of conscripts, will be allowed an appeal to the Bureau of Conscription and the War department. But until the application has been made to the enrolling officer and the commandant of conscripts, applications will not be entertained by the War department.

IV. .Applications for exemptions to ensure the production of provisions for the army and families of soldiers, and for the exemption of overseers, farmers, or planters, or because their services will be more useful to the public as agriculturists than in the military service, or of persons between the ages of forty-five and fifty, because justice, equity, or necessity require the detail, or because their employment is necessary to the public, will be made to the enrolling officer in writing, with an affidavit of the person making it, and accompanied with proof of one or more credible witnesses. The application should show with precision the conditions of the alleged private or public necessity, advantage, convenience, justice, or equity. Among the facts to be stated are the ability of the party to produce the provision or supply the want or requirement, the condition of the family, whether any of the members belong to the army, and whether some person not liable to military service can not be procured to perform the service. If the decision of the local enrolling officer be favorable, he will transmit the same to the commandant of conscripts for approval, who may, if he approve, grant an exemption or detail for sixty days, and endorse his action thereon, which will be transmitted to the Bureau of Conscription. The bureau will prepare special instructions to guide the action of those officers in reference to this class of cases.

V. .Applications for certificates of exemption under the 3d article, 10th section of the act aforesaid, and 6th article of the same section, will be made, in all cases, to the local enrolling officer, and his certificate must be approved by the congressional district enrolling officer. Applications for exemption under the 5th article of the 10th section, relative to the exemption of officers and agents employed on railroads, may be made directly to the commandant of conscripts for the state, who will grant the certificate of exemption authorized by law, upon compliance with the conditions contained in the act of Congress, by the officers therein mentioned.

VI..The attention of all officers of the government, and especially of those belonging to the military departments mentioned therein, is directed to the language and purport of the 8th section of the act of Congress above recited. Congress has manifested, in various enactments, the policy to withdraw from the civil service all persons capable of performing duty in the field, and this section of the act is an emphatic declaration of that intention, accompanied with a severe penalty to be imposed upon the officer who may frustrate it. The Bureau of Conscription will proceed to enroll for duty all persons who may be so employed. But, to prevent the inconvenience and disorder that would follow from the instantaneous execution of the law, details may be granted until the 10th day of April next, for such of those persons as the head of any department, or the chief of any bureau, or the principal officer of the same in any state, shall certify to be necessary for that time to carry on the business in which they are employed. In the meantime, it is made the duty of the officers controlling this class of persons to substitute, as far as practicable, persons who are designated in this act as proper to fill such employments for those that are made liable to service by the act.

VII..Conscripts unfit for duty in the field, but capable of performing other duties named in the 8th section of the act recited, will be received and recommended accordingly by the board of examiners for conscripts, who, in their report, will state distinctly for what service, or for which department of the army, such conscripts are best fitted; and commandants of conscripts will assign them in accordance with such recommendation, or, failing to do this, will report for assignment through the Bureau of Conscription, to the chief or head of the department in which they have been recommended for service, the names of such conscripts. All certificates of exemption for disability will be signed by the examining board, and be approved by the enrolling officer of the congressional district; and when the certificate sets forth that the disability is decided and permanent, it will exempt the party from molestation by enrolling officers, unless otherwise ordered from the Bureau of Conscription.

VIII..The examining boards will forward one copy of the monthly report of conscripts examined, through the enrolling officer of the congressional district, to the commandant of conscripts, who will refer the same, with remarks, to the Bureau of Conscription. The boards will also forward one copy direct to the Surgeon-General.

IX..Medical officers and employed physicians on examining boards for conscripts will not be assigned to congressional districts of which they are resident. The employed physicians will receive the pay and allowances of assistant surgeons.

X..Medical officers detailed for duty on examining boards for conscripts will be directed to report for orders to the commandant of conscripts of states.

XI..Besides the officers of the Confederate and state governments particularly named in the act of Congress, the officers of the Government of the Confederate States whose nominations have been made by the President and confirmed by the Senate, or who have been appointed by the judges of the district courts, under the authority confided by any act of Congress, will be exempted from military service until further orders. Also the judges or justices of any supreme, superior, or circuit court of any state; also the judges of probate, clerk of any court of record, ordinary, sheriff, one tax collector in each county, and recorder of deeds and wills, if there be such an officer existing by law, and such other officers of the state provided by law as the governor shall certify to be necessary to the proper administration of the state government.

XII..All persons who have been exempted on account of religious faith, under act of Congress approved 11th October, 1862, and who have paid the tax of $500 therein provided for, will be exempt from enrolment in the military service.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector-General.

II.. The generals of departments will ascertain whether there be in their respective departments any company or companies from one state associated with companies belonging to another state, either in battalions or regiments, who were placed in such organizations against their consent, expressed at the time, and will report the same to the Adjutant and Inspector-General as soon as practicable, with a recommendation that they be transferred, if they now desire it, to some organization of troops in the same arm of the service from the state in which the said companies were raised.

III.. Measures will be taken by the commanding generals of departments to place in companies of the same arm of the service in which they are serving, raised in states to which they respectively belong, the privates who are serving in companies raised in other states. This privilege will be freely granted to all privates making the application. A private will be considered as belonging to that state in which he was residing for twelve months prior to his enlistment. Measures will also be taken to have proper rolls prepared on the first of April proximo, or as soon after as practicable, and returned to the office of the Adjutant and Inspector-General, so as to secure to all the persons designated in the third section of the above recited act the benefits conferred by it.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That in all cases where property is impressed for the use of the army and navy, or for other public use, under said act, the same shall be paid for at the time of said impressment, unless an appeal shall be taken from said valuation, as hereinafter provided, according to the valuation agreed upon between the parties, or ascertained by loyal and disinterested citizens of the city, county, or parish in which the impressment may be made, in the manner and according to the regulations provided in the first, second, and third sections of the above recited act, or in the eighth section thereof, where it is applicable.

SEC. 2. Whenever the officer making the impressment of property, under the act hereby amended, shall believe that the appraisement is fair and just, he shall endorse his approval upon the appraisement, and make payment accordingly; but if he shall believe that it is not fair and just, then he shall refuse to approve, and endorse the reasons of his refusal on the certificate, and shall have the right to appeal from the decision of the appraisers, by reporting the case to the commissioners appointed under said act to which this is an amendment, for their decision, whose judgment shall be final; and in the meantime the property shall be held and appropriated by the officer impressing the same, who shall give a receipt therefor to the owner, who shall also have the right of appeal as herein provided.

SEC. 3. The said commissioners shall have power to summon and examine witnesses to enable them to fix the value of property impressed, which shall be a just compensation for property so impressed, at the time and place of impressment; and when the commissioners shall have fixed the value of property in cases of appeal, they shall furnish the owner and impressing officer with a statement of such value, which valuation by the commissioners shall be within three months from the time of impressment.

SEC. 4. That said commissioner's shall be sworn faithfully to discharge all their duties under this act, and the act to which this is an amendment.

SEC. 5. That the tenth section of the act of which this is an amendment be stricken out, and the following inserted instead thereof:

“No slave laboring on a farm or plantation exclusively devoted to the production of grain or provisions, shall be taken for public use without the consent of the owner, except in case of urgent necessity, and upon the order of the general commanding the department in which said farm or plantation is situated.”

SEC. 6. That the act amendatory of the above recited act (approved April twenty-seventh, eighteen hundred and sixty-three), and so much of the first section of said act as requires an affidavit to be made by the owner, or his agent, that such property was grown, raised, or produced by said owner, or held, or has been purchased by him, not for sale or speculation, but for his own use or consumption, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SEC. 7. That no impressment shall be made under this act, or the act to which this is amendatory, for the use or benefit of contractors with the government.

SEC. 8. Nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize the impressing officer to enter an appeal from any decision of the local appraisers, under the seventh section of the act to which this is amendatory. [Approved February 16, 1864.]

II. Impressments according to this act, and the act to which this is an amendment, may be made for necessary supplies for the Confederate armies in the field, and for their accumulation in magazines and at posts and depots, and to carry on the various operations of the military bureaus connected with the War department, whenever the same can not be obtained by contract.

III.. They may be made under orders from the generals commanding armies, departments, corps, divisions, and by commanders of detached parties, when a necessity arises therefor. These orders may be executed by appropriate officers of the staff belonging to the army. The chiefs of the various bureaus will designate the officers and persons who shall be competent to make impressments under the authority conferred upon them.

IV.. Before any impressment shall be made, the impressing officer or his agent will make an offer to the owner, his bailee, or agent, in writing, for the purchase of the property, describing the property he wishes to purchase, the price he is willing to pay, and the mode of payment, and stating that, upon a refusal to accept the same, compensation will be made according to the acts of Congress for the regulation of impressments. This notice will be considered as binding the property until the completion of the negotiation for the sale and transfer of the same to the impressing officer. The property will remain in the custody of the owner and at his risk during the pending of these proceedings unless a delivery of the same be thereupon made to the impressing officer, with his consent. In case of a change of possession under these circumstances, the Confederate States will be regarded as the owner, and the property held for its use and at its risk.

V.. In all cases in which the offer of an impressing officer is refused, he will proceed to adjust the price according to the first section of the act above recited; that is, by the judgment of two loyal and disinterested persons of the city, county, or parish in which the impressment may be made—one to be selected by the owner, his bailee, or agent, and one by the impressing officer. In the event of their disagreement, these two will select an umpire of like qualification. The persons thus selected will proceed to assess just compensation for the property so impressed, whether the absolute ownership or the temporary use thereof be required. If the impressing officer believes that the appraisement is fair and just, he will endorse his approval and pay for the property, and the right in the object impressed will become the property of the Confederate States. But if he does not approve of the appraisement, he will decline to approve it, and endorse the reasons for his refusal on the certificate, and forthwith report the case to the commissioners appointed under the fifth section of the act to which the act above recited is an amendment; and in the meantime the property will be taken, and a receipt, describing the property and the proceedings for the adjustment of the price and the appeal, given to the owner. The impressing officer will immediately report the case to the appraisers, with a statement of the quality and condition of the property, and his opinion upon the subject.

VI..No officer or agent will impress the necessary supplies which any person may have for the consumption of himself, his family, employees, or slaves, or to carry on his ordinary mechanical, manufacturing, or agricultural employments.

If any question arise as to the fact whether the supplies are necessary, or whether there be a surplus, it will be determined by appraisers mutually selected, according to the preceding section; and in this case the decision of the appraisers will be binding on the officer, who will not be allowed an appeal therefrom.

VII..These regulations are published as a substitute for the regulations contained in General Orders, Nos. 37 and 161, series of 1863.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector-General.
